Will Rogers Remarks:

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. [To the Editor of The Times:] See where Mr. Hoover has gone over to see inventor Edison to see if he can't invent a Cabinet that will please just even 5 per cent of the people that wasn't named on it. If he can then he will be a real inventor.

New York can't sleep tonight wondering what the stock market will open at tomorrow. Radio just had its usual amount of static over the week end. Steel turned out no product, nor received any new orders during Sunday. Montgomery Ward peddled nothing since Saturday, yet they will all change prices tomorrow. "Why does this have to happen?" They say "it's for the good of the country." Now you tell one.

WILL ROGERS.

Reparations Experts Select American for Chair at Conference

Word to Washington Brings Sanction of Coolidge to Arrangement

PARIS, Feb. 10. (AP)—Owen D. Young of the United States will be chairman of the experts' committee when it meets at 2 p.m. tomorrow for its first official session to grapple with the great problem of reparations revision. Premier Poincare is quoted by the Journal des Debats as saying, "We wish to extend to the United States delegates our most ardent wishes for success in their work."

This rather detached manner accentuates the American share in the work. With the approval of President Coolidge expressed there no longer can be seen any difficulty that might prevent the chairmanship of Mr. Young despite his reluctance.

The French viewpoint, as either Expert Moreau or Parmentier may put it tomorrow afternoon, is "France wants $10,000,000,000; $599,000,000 for reconstruction of Northern France and for pensions and $2,000,000,000 each for payment of war debts to the United States and Great Britain." This entails sacrifices of the original total amount demanded by France, but she is entering the committee prepared to make these providing a similar reduction is made on her debit side by Britain and the United States.

Germany desires a speedy decision with the emphasis on evacu-

RIVERA TO END RULE

Break With King Denied

Spain's Dictator Desires to Build Representative Parliament First

Plans to Turn Government Over to Younger Men In Two Years

BY LELAND STOWE
(Copyright, 1929, by New York Herald-Tribune)

MADRID, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—For the first time today Primo De Rivera declared officially his intention to draw his dictatorship over Spain to a close as rapidly as possible.

In an exclusive interview with this correspondent, Europe's most amiable dictator stated that he would restore constitutional government and resign within two or two and one-half years, declaring that his only purpose is to institute "a strong Parliament representative of the true opinion of the Spanish people." At the same time Gen De Rivera gave the lie to widely current reports of a breach between himself and King Alfonso and denied emphatically the existence of widespread animosity toward his regime.

ARMY DISCIPLINED

"You may say," declared the dictator, his eyes flashing, "that the army is greatly disciplined. You may say also that the King gives complete confidence to the government and to me, the dictator. The King and I have always been and are today in the closest harmony.

"There is perfect peace in Spain," he continued. "There is no general insurrection. The army today is as loyal as it has been in the past. It is true that there still remain a few bad boys in the artillery who need attention, but there aren't many.

"The uprising at Ciudad Reol was an isolated instance as the events at Valencia proved. There Sanchez Guerra (former Premier, returned from exile,) walked through the garrison, but could find no one to support him, so he surrendered. Guerra was crazy.

GUERRA CRAZY

"He was completely crazy. He had no plan and no organization behind him. It was self-evident that his sortie was not serious."

Turning to the record of his dictatorship Gen. De Rivera stated that the establishment of peace in Morocco was undoubtedly his greatest achievement and cited the vast saving in money and lives since the ending of the war there.

Asked about his future program the dictator declared:

"Our greatest task is to draft and inaugurate a constitution and legal reforms. It is in these that I look to the completion of my work.

"We shall prepare, first, the project for a new constitution; second, a new law of public order; third, a project of electoral reform; fourth, a law of associations and fifth, laws and regulations for the press.

"When all are ready we shall submit them to the whole country in a referendum, and if the nation approves we shall invoke a new Assembly and a new constitutional government.

WANTS STRONG PARLIAMENT

"I don't want a Parliament as weak and inefficient as some of those elsewhere in Europe. I want a strong and truly representative Parliament, in which all sections of public opinion will participate."

To do this, explained the dictator, it would be necessary for the present Assembly to propose the new constitution and laws to the government. The government would require three or four months for study and revision of the projects, after which they would be placed before the country.

"How long will this take?" the correspondent inquired.

"I hope that before 1932 we shall have finished our task completely, both the constitution and all the complementary laws. But I don't think it will require three years. No,

American Aristocracy

Twenty years ago William Allen White, famous Kansas editor, wrote that "the American automobile owners form an American aristocracy."

This is as true today as it was then, with the exception that today all may own autos, if they wish.

Certainly at no other time have there been so many excellent values in good used cars, obtainable at surprisingly low prices and easy terms through the want ad "Automobiles" columns of The Times.

Turn to them now, and investigate these good bargains that make multiple car ownership possible and every family in Los Angeles a potential "auto-aristocrat."

FIND VERIFIES HOLY WRIT

Old Testament Story Built Around Beth-Shan's Ancient Glories Confirmed by Excavations

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10. (AP)—Alan Rowe, director of the University of Pennsylvania Museum's field expedition returning today from the Holy Land, declared that all reference in the Old Testament to the ancient citadel of Beth-Shan have been confirmed by the excavations carried on there for the last seven years.

This fact, unemphasized, but ever recurring, was developed by Mr. Rowe in recounting experiences during the four years he has directed the expedition. Much work remains to be done, although the expedition has sifted the dust and broken fragments of thirty centuries of history. Because of the rainy season and extremely unhealthful living conditions, Mr. Rowe explained, operations each year were limited to the period between August and December.

HOUSE OF SERPENT GOD

He said, "The house of the serpent god," 1500 years before Christ, was the mighty fortress which stood at the eastern end of the Valley of Jezrel, overlooking that of the Jordan. It was the mightiest fortress of Northeastern Palestine, or Canaan, as it was known before the advent of the warlike Philistines from the eastern Mediterranean basin.

Today Belsan is a wretched Arabic village, populated by Arabs. Upon the plains about the lonely "tell" that marks the sepulcher of Beth-Shan's ancient glories, thieving Bedouins drive their flocks.

It was about this gap between the old and the new, bridged by almost 4000 years of history, that the archeologist talked, and described how ragged Arab workers, under his direction, cleared the debris from the great temples of Ashtaroth and Dagon, built some time between 1300 and 1000 B.C., during the reign of the Egyptian King, Rameses II.

WHERE KING SAUL DIED

On the earthen floor of Ashtaroth, Mr. Rowe said he and his associates established positively, the body of King Saul of Israel was placed after he had failed to do that which David later did—quell

Wales Decides to Quit Hunting and Race Course; Will Sell His Stable

LONDON, Feb. 11. (AP)— (Monday)—The Express today says that the Prince of Wales has decided to abandon hunting and point to point racing and will sell his hunters. His decision was said to be due to his rapidly increasing duties in consequence of the illness of his father.

It is understood the sale will take place in Leicester in about a fortnight. The newspaper, however, implies that the heir to the throne does not intend to abandon his favorite sport permanently, saying that he is giving it up "for the time being."

In emphasizing his well-known delight in hunting, the Express describes the abandonment as an act of self-denial entailing considerable sacrifice.

ROYALTY ATTENDS WEDDING

Prince Christopher of Greece and Princess Francoise Married in Imposing Ceremony

PALERMO (Italy) Feb. 10. (AP)—Prince Christopher of Greece, husband of the late Mrs. William B. Leeds, and Princess Francoise were united in the civil bonds of matrimony by the Podesta of Palermo at 8 o'clock this evening in the Orleans Palace in the presence of a royal and princely throng. The palace is where the Duke of Orleans, predecessor of the bride's father as claimant of the French crown, died in 1926.

The witnesses for the bride were former King Manuel of Portugal and the Duke of Aosta, brother of the King of Italy. The bridegroom had as witnesses Crown Prince Humbert of Piedmont and the former King of Greece, George II. These same witnesses will serve tomorrow at the religious ceremony at 11:30 a.m. in the Palatine chapel.

Tonight's ceremony was followed by a dinner with more than 100 covers at which gathered more royalty and blue blood of Europe than had been seen assembled since the wedding of the bride's younger sister, Anne, to Duke Apulia at Naples on November 5, 1927.

The bride was given away by her father, the tall Duke of Guise, "heir of the kings who in a thousand years made France," as his Royalist supporters proclaim him.

Others in the wedding party included the bride's aunt, the Duchess of Aosta, Princess Helene of France and her son, the Duke of Apulia. The Countess Bruno Diharcourt, born Princess Isabelle of France, elder sister of the bride, was the only one of the children of the Duke of Guise absent from the gathering. A child recently was born to her.

The religious ceremony will be celebrated by Mgr. Cozzoli, assisted by the Palatine Chapter. There-

WARNER AND M-G-M TALK OF MERGER

Negotiations Declared By Sales Chief to be for $60,000,000 Film Deal

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Claude C. Ezzell of New York, general sales executive for Warner Brothers, Inc., announced here today that negotiations are under way in New York for a $60,000,000 deal to merge the film interests of Warner Brothers and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Ezzell said that if the combination goes further than the production units the money involved will exceed $500,000,000. He declined to amplify that statement. Other officials here for the conference of Warner Brothers executives intimated that the proposed affiliation of Metro with the Fox Film Corporation has fallen through.

Ezzell also announced that the executives have approved an arrangement by which "talkies" will be taken to small California cities, hitherto unable to get them because of high costs.

Ezzell added that manufacturers of sound devices have made the program possible by cutting costs and accepting a small profit margin, hoping to gain by volume of business. Other Warner executives present at the conference are: J. V. Allen of New York, southern and western sales manager; Harry Lustig of Los Angeles, west coast division manager; Carl Stern of Seattle; R. C. Hill of Portland; Charles Gilmour of Denver; M. A. Hulling of Los Angeles; Annice Mousse, auditor, and Morgan Walsh of San Francisco.

LOCAL STUDIO OFFICIALS DENY KNOWLEDGE OF DEAL

Officials of both Warner Brothers and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios here denied last night any knowledge of an impending merger of production units of the two companies as reported in dispatches from San Francisco.

Rumors that such a deal was pending have been current locally for several days but have lacked confirmation. Jack Warner, production chief of Warner Brothers and vice-president of the company, asserted that all such matters are handled by his brother, H. M. Warner, and the latter is in Miami, Fla. If such a deal is being negotiated, he knows nothing of it, he said.

Three Thousand Buried by Snow Nine Days Saved

SERAJEVO (Jugo-Slavia) Feb. 10. (AP)- The Moslem town of Grasko near here today was dug out of the snowy sepulchre in which it had been buried for nine days. The army engineering corps rescued the half-frozen, famished and delirious population of 3000 persons.

For more than a week the government had sought to reach the isolated township under its mountains of snow. All expediency failed until the army sapper corps hacked its way through the ice and snow, bringing food, medicines and blankets to the population, many of whom had resigned themselves to death. The last ounces of food and fuel had been consumed.

PORTES GIL TRAIN BOMBED, BUT PRESIDENT ESCAPES

Engine and Two Cars Blown Off Track and Fireman Killed in Sequel to Toral Execution

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11 (Monday.) (AP)—An unexploded bomb was found in the headquarters of Aaron Saenz, Governor of Nuevo Leon and the National Revolutionary party's candidate for the presidency, early this morning.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10. (AP)—Provisional President Emilio Portes Gil today narrowly escaped the fate of the man to whose place he was elected. The train on which he was returning to the capital was dynamited, a fireman killed and two coaches and the engine derailed. Gen. Alvaro Obregon, who would have become President last December, was assassinated last July and his slayer was executed only yesterday.

The President was returning from the State of Tamaulipas, where he formally had surrendered his office of Governor to his successor. The Presidential special, one of the finest in the world, was within 150 miles of the capital, between the stations of Comonfort and Rinconcillo in the State of Guanajuato, when a terrific blast threw the leading cars from the rails.

PRESIDENT CALM

The dynamite had been placed on the track at a point where it ran over a bridge. The fireman was killed instantly as the engine turned over. The first car was a Pullman containing several members of the official party and the second car was that of the director-general of railroads. Although these cars were severely damaged, none of the occupants was injured. The President calmly descended from his private car farther back in the train and, accompanied by the Secretary of War, walked forward to inspect the damage.

Portes Gil when he saw the destruction merely shrugged his shoulders and said, "The revolution is in luck." (The President is a member of the so-called revolutionary party.)

A scout locomotive which, as always, preceded the Presidential train had passed over the bridge without incident. Just as the locomotive and the first cars ran on the bridge structure it was blown to pieces beneath them. The remaining cars of the train remained upright on the rails.

ANOTHER BOMB

Investigation after the explosion showed that another bomb containing two sticks of dynamite had been fixed to the track but had not exploded. About fifty yards from the scene was found the remains of an open air meal and a receipt for a telegram filed at Tampico, from where the train had come. A bottle of sulphur acid also was found.

The President was accompanied by his wife and baby daughter and Secretary of War Amaro and Mrs. Amaro shared the private car.

There was a large group of Congressmen on the train as well as newspaper men.

An immediate search for the perpetrators of the attack was begun by the military escort of the train and more troops were sent out from Mexico City. A relief train started to bring in the Presidential party.

The Presidential party reached Queretaro tonight safely on the train which went to their relief.

Only three days ago, President Portes Gil had refused to commute the sentence of death imposed on Jose De Leon Toral which the highest courts of the land had found to be without legal flaw.

COOLIDGE SENDS HIS CONGRATULATIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—President Coolidge sent a message of congratulations tonight to President Portes Gil of Mexico on his escape in the dynamiting of his train.

"I wish to congratulate you on your fortunate escape in the train accident," the President's message read. "I am sincerely happy to learn that you are safe and well."

Secretary Kellogg also instructed the American Embassy at Mexico City to convey to the President the "sincere felicitations on the part of the government and people of this country at his escape."

EDISON HAS RUBBER SAP

Will Explain It to Hoover

Wizard's Birthday Gift to Nation Will be New Wonder Weed

Now Working on Machine to Insure Commercial Production

FORT MYERS (Fla.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Thomas A. Edison's latest contribution to mankind, a rubber substitute which would save the United States from a world rubber monopoly such as Herbert Hoover smashed in time of peace or from Germany's problem during the war in the event that normal overseas sources of rubber should be cut off, will be described to Mr. Hoover tomorrow by the celebrated inventor and scientist on his eighty-second birthday.

This substitute is not a variation of the rubber tree. He long ago found that nothing could be done along that line. He has found a weed after experimenting with nearly 15,000 varieties, which will produce a latex, or fluid, from which a workable substitute for rubber can be extracted. This weed can be mowed like wheat, it was asserted by Mr. Edison's lieutenants today, and it is perennial, so that it does not have to be planted anew each year.

MACHINE NEEDED

The only missing link in the chain is that so far the inventor has not perfected the right kind of machine for taking the rubber substitute from the plant. He has experimented a great deal on this, hoping for an apparatus which will pick out the rubber substitute from the rosin and other component parts of the latex. The machine, he hopes, will be equal in efficiency and simplicity to the milk separator, which takes the cream from the milk and pours it out of one faucet while the skimmed milk pours from another.

For months he worked on the vacuum process in this connection, but was compelled to give it up. He expects to solve the problem in the near future with the aid of his fifty-odd assistants, whereupon the final step will be to set up a working plant.

"Five pounds a day production," is his own idea of this plant. The point is that Mr. Edison has been annoyed at reports that he is working to produce something that will supplant the rubber tree in the world production system. That is not his desire at all. He believes that the rubber tree fills an economic need in the world scheme of things and that the farmers of the United States can produce plenty of other things in normal times without resorting to some substitute for rubber.

SEEKS INSURANCE

What has been concerning Mr. Edison is to work out a substitute for this commodity so that no eventuality such as the attempt of the British rubber monopoly a few years back could impose a hardship on American motorists and other users of rubber, and also that if in the event of war this country

The rockets were fired in five series at intervals of one and a half seconds.

TORAL BURIAL TURNS RIOT

Three Killed, Thirty Injured, as 100,000 Follow Obregon Assassin to Grave

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10. (AP)—The body of Jose de Leon Toral, who was executed by a firing squad yesterday for his assassination of Gen. Alvaro Obregon, was buried at 5 p.m. today in the Spanish cemetery on the outskirts of the capital.

Three persons were killed, thirty injured and about twenty arrested, according to police reports, in the struggle of thousands of persons to see the cortege as it passed, or to witness the brief services at the grave.

Only a few hundred persons were permitted to enter the cemetery, but probably 100,000 lined three miles of streets, shouting "Viva Toral," and throwing flowers on his casket as it passed. Several thousand police and soldiers were stationed along the route.

A police cordon extended five blocks in every direction around the residence of the parents of Toral, where the body had been brought last night. Only relatives and close friends were allowed to approach the house.

The firemen frequently played their hose on the crowds near the home during the day. The crowd retaliated in a few instances by throwing stones.

Catholic priests in civilian dress conducted services beside the grave. A squadron of mounted police with drawn sabers charged into the cemetery and galloped up the main driveway just before the body was lowered into the grave, as a precaution against last-minutes disorders. The graveside crowd, mostly women, greeted these police with shouts of "Viva Toral," which was taken up by the thousands outside the cemetery.

TEETH MADE FOR PACT

Senator Urges Arms Embargo

Capper Proposes to Balk Shipping Munitions to War Makers

Other Nations Will be Asked to Pass Like Laws to Maintain Peace

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Described as a response to "an insistent and well-nigh unanimous public demand," the text of a proposed resolution was made public tonight by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, by which the United States may institute an armament embargo against any country violating the Kellogg treaty to renounce war.

The resolution, to be introduced tomorrow, will stipulate that when the President of the United States determines and by proclamation declares that any nation has violated the Kellogg pact it shall be unlawful "to export to such country, arms, munitions, implements of war or other articles for use in war until the President shall by proclamation declare that such violation no longer continues."

LOSE PROTECTION

Furthermore, any citizen of the United States found giving "aid and comfort" to a country that has committed a breach of the treaty will not receive the customary protection of this government and the resolution will request the President to negotiate with other nations which ratify the Kellogg pact with a view to having them adopt a similar policy.

"The purpose of this resolution," Senator Capper announced in an accompanying statement, "is to put the government of the United States on record, in response to an insistent and well-nigh unanimous public demand, by taking the next step toward safeguarding international peace, following the ratification of the pact of Paris.

"The moment it becomes clear that a nation which has solemnly promised to renounce war as an instrument of national policy, but which nevertheless provokes or invites war, will not be able to buy munitions or supplies from the American people with which to carry on the war—then that war will come to a sudden end. In fact, I doubt whether it will ever be begun.

MAKE PACT EFFECTIVE

"In other words, I believe the adoption and effectuation of this resolution will tend to make the peace pact effective. It will in a measure underwrite the peace pact without compelling us to police the world."

The Kansas Senator, who is a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, declared that he did not necessarily expect consideration of the resolution by either the House or the Senate during the current session but that its introduction at this time will tend to stimulate public discussion which, he believed, will manifest itself in favor of the proposal by "an overwhelming, if not unanimous" vote in Congress.

"It is in defense of the honor of this nation that it should not give aid and comfort to a treaty-breaking state," Senator Capper declared. "It is of vital interest to this nation that it should seek to prevent the outbreak of war by warning possible treaty-breaking nations of the attitude the United States will take.

CUT OFF TRADE

"The spirit of the pact should be borne upon the mind of the citizens as well as that of the statesmen. It should be impressed that war will not be a means of carrying on a profitable trade with the belligerent nations—a profitable trade that in the end will cost the lives of our own youth and saddle another tremendous war debt upon the surviving people of the nation.

"Rather it should be impressed upon the consciousness of every citizen and every statesman that the effect of the pact will be to diminish or cut off that trade, so that it will no longer be in the interest of armament makers or the private traffickers in blood money to connive with a government which in defiance of its obligations lets loose upon the world the pestilence of war."

Loser Makes Wager Good To Winner's Son, When Radio Gives Latter's Address

DENVER (Colo.) Feb. 10. (AP)—An election bet made more than thirty years ago in St. Louis had its strange sequel in Denver today, when the son of the winner, who has been dead twenty-two years, received a box of cigars. Listening to a radio program from station KFEL, Denver, a man named Donovan in St. Louis learned that the owner of the station is Eugene P. O'Fallon, Jr., son of the man who had wagered with Donovan in the '90's that Harry B. Hawes would some day be elected to the United States Senate.

Today a man walked into the office of O'Fallon, Jr., with a box of cigars from Donovan of St. Louis.

after the party will return to the palace for a reception and wedding breakfast. The couple after a protracted honeymoon will return to Rome and live in the palace of Queen Mother Olga.

Efforts of the ecclesiastical authorities to dissociate the ceremony from the French Royalist movement were unavailing. The bride was the proud recipient of gifts from Monarchist leaders, together with an album containing thousands of signatures of sympathizers of the cause of the Pretender. The Italian tri-color and the white flag of the House of Orleans were displayed together outside the palace.

"HAPPY THE BRIDE—"

The weather, which yesterday was cold and rainy, turned sunny today for the wedding. In honor of the arrival of the Crown Prince the city was extensively decorated with flags. He arrived at the railway station with the Duke of Aosta and on their ride to the palace drove through cheering throngs who pelted them with flowers. Prince Humbert was called to the palace balcony several times to bow to the crowd.

The bride, Princess Francoise-Isabelle-Louise Marie, was born in Paris on Christmas Day, 1902. She has received the traditional education of a daughter of the French nobility and additional training in languages, being, like her sisters, thoroughly conversant with English, Italian and Spanish.

NORTHCOTT IN PERIL BY MOB

Grim Night Riders Visit Riverside Jail

Led by Father of Slain Winslow Boys

of this early morning visit dawned on them. All of the officers were scantily dressed.

Within fifteen minutes Sheriff Sweeters had appeased the irate father and Mr. Winslow had left the jail and the mob had departed. Even before the father of the two slain boys obtained entrance to the jail the crowd began to melt and few of the original throng were present when Winslow, alone, came out.

Mr. Winslow entered the jail shortly after 2 a.m. and departed forty minutes later.

Young Northcott, who will appear tomorrow afternoon before Superior Judge Freeman to hear his doom sealed, for the worst murder orgy in this county's history, was never as disturbed as when he learned of the gathering of men.

When he was informed of last night's movement against his life the 22-year-old youth turned deathly pale and asked for a conference with officers. Reports that he would be removed to another jail for safety emphatically were denied by officials here.

PRECAUTIONS PLANNED

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Earl Redwine this afternoon said that extra precautions will be taken to prevent the boy slayer from coming to harm when he appears at 2 p.m. tomorrow before Judge Freeman to hear the court pronounce the sentence which probably will place the hangman's noose around Northcott's neck.

All day today deputy sheriffs, special and regular, surrounded the jail in an effort to forestall a recurrence of last night's episode.

Northcott, who had been transferred from an upper cell to one which opened on the main floor "bull pen," again was removed to a more isolated section of the jail on orders of Sheriff Sweeters.

According to officials last night's mob was unarmed, so far as could be ascertained. At no time during the demonstration in the jail did any of the men display guns. Deputy sheriffs who confronted the small array of men likewise carried no firearms and depended solely on their pleadings to prevent a massed onslaught on the jail. They succeeded in calming the infuriated crowd without one threat.

FIGHT FOR LIFE

Young Northcott probably will make a desperate fight for life by means of an appeal against the decision which a jury returned in Judge Freeman's court Thursday night, convicting the youthful rancher of three of the most fiendish crimes in the history of California.

At least two Los Angeles attorneys are scheduled to appear for the condemned slayer tomorrow afternoon in an opening effort to combat Northcott's conviction.

Although the young rancher has conducted his defense alone for more than three weeks, J. McKinley Cameron, Canadian attorney, has sat in the background and has coached Northcott as to the legal moves he should make in his fight for life. It is Cameron, Northcott has said, who has made arrangements with Los Angeles attorneys to aid him in his eleventh-hour fight for life.

A definite date for Northcott's removal to San Quentin to await the death which the jury has decreed he shall meet, will depend on the outcome of tomorrow's hearing, when Northcott probably will make an oral motion for an appeal and ask for time to argue the matter.

HIS WORD MISTRUSTED

Little credence was lent tonight to Northcott's promise to Sheriff Sweeters and Prosecutor Redwine to lead them to the graves of the boys he was convicted of murdering. He talked with the Sheriff for two hours and declared that tomorrow he will take them to the graves of the two Winslow boys, Walter Collins and the headless Mexican youth.

During the day Northcott made the same promise but when Prosecutor Redwine and Sheriff Sweeters took him to the Wineville ranch Northcott said he had changed his mind. In his talk tonight he refused to name the location he said he would lead them to in the morning.

HOOVER TO HEAR RUBBER MYSTERY

should be cut off from overseas imports, it would not be driven to such poor substitutes for rubber as Germany was compelled to use during the World War.

In short Mr. Edison's latest invention is akin to insurance rather than an attempt to revolutionize world trade channels.

Mr. Hoover's interest in this problem is unusually keen because of his fight as Secretary of Commerce against the British rubber monopoly. Following the example of the Brazilians on coffee, the British had attempted to limit rubber production, and also to put the price up to a point far in excess of that determined by the law of supply and demand. This was a hardship on American motorists, and there was considerable outcry about it, threats at retaliation in other directions, and anti-British sentiment generally. Mr. Hoover arranged the buying of rubber for the American tire manufacturers, and finally succeeded in forcing the British to abandon their plan and permit the price of crude rubber to be determined by the world trade conditions.

FORD ARRIVES

Interested in what Mr. Hoover had done in this direction but fearing that in the future it might not be handled so successfully, Mr. Edison at once turned his attention to the rubber situation.

Henry Ford arrived last Tuesday for Mr. Edison's birthday party tomorrow. The two are neighbors here in Fort Myers, having adjoining estates. Harvey Firestone, old camping companion of Ford and Edison, motored over from his Miami place today.

HOOVER PARTY EN ROUTE TO EDISON CELEBRATION

FORT MYERS (Fla.) Feb. 10. (AP) President-elect Hoover tonight was on his way by boat to the eighty-second birthday celebration of Thomas A. Edison, to be observed in a ceremony held here tomorrow.

Mr. Hoover is still in the Gulf of Mexico on the yacht Saunterer tonight and is not expected to disembark at the Edison estate here until shortly before noon tomorrow for his participation in Mr. Edison's birthday fete. Accompanying him are Mrs. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ricard and Jeremiah Milbank, eastern treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and owner of the Saunterer, and Herbert Hoover, Jr.

The latter boarded the Saunterer at Everglades, below Naples, this morning, after he had completed his journey from Washington to Miami, and then advanced by automobile over the Tamiami Trail to Everglades.

ROWE'S FINDS VERIFY BIBLE

the fierce Philistines. Saul's armor was placed in the Temple of Dagon, but the loyal men of Jabesh-Gilead stole the body in the quiet of night to burn it on the farther side of Jordan because Saul had driven from Jabesh-Gilead the invading King, Uahash of the Ammonites.

In all the levels of the mound at Be'san up to the time of the Philistinian Dynasty, the expedition discovered hundreds of evidences of serpent worship. In Hebrew "beth" means house, while "shan" has been discovered to be a form of the ancient Hebrew word meaning serpent.

Within the mound, not quite a ninth of a mile in diameter and about 250 feet in height, there still remains, Mr. Rowe believes, centuries of history dating far back to the Canaanites who inhabited the region. Only about one-half the "tell" has been excavated and many years will be required to complete the task, he said.

Be'san first is mentioned in the Old Testament in Chronicles and Samuel, when reference is made to Saul's attack upon the citadel at the head of the invading Israelites. Much of the country on both sides of the Jordan had fallen before his armies, but Beth-Shan did not fall and the biblical story says that Saul committed suicide by falling upon his sword. The temples of Ashtaroth and Dagon are mentioned subsequently in the Scriptural narrative.

RIVERA PLANS TO END RULE

in two years or perhaps thirty months I shall have finished."

"What will you do then?"

"When the new constitution and laws are adopted it will remain for the King and the people to choose a government. I shall resign and give way to those younger and less fatigued.

"I have worked hard for more than five years and I am tired. I can still carry the burden another two years, but no longer. I feel that there should be a younger government and younger leaders and I shall be happy to turn my responsibilities over to them."

The dictator paused for a moment, then referred to the reports of a growing rupture between himself and the King, which he branded as without the slightest foundation.

"The King knows very well all that we are planning for the development and rehabilitation of Spain," he said firmly. "He knew our plans before I came into power, and he knows me now. The King has lent all his aid to our government and he continues to do so today as yesterday. Our goal is the same."

AMERICAN WILL HEAD EXPERTS

Young Picked to Preside at Reparations Meeting

Selection Indicates Share of United States in Work

ation of the left bank of the Rhine. It is understood that Germany might be willing to sign measures which might make the Dawes plan payments appear small for the next ten years, providing the left bank of the Rhine is evacuated immediately. Germany will argue that 11,000,000,000 gold marks in railroad bonds and 5,000,000,000 of industrial debentures must be mobilized immediately, with the United States accepting 45 per cent. A preliminary skirmish on this angle between the Germans and Americans is expected early in the sessions.

Shorn of all diplomatic niceties, it appears that both France and Germany are preparing to put the question of reparations squarely up to the United States, with Great Britain as indorser.

It is expected that the committee will subdivide itself as soon as it organizes tomorrow. Like the original Dawes committee, a subcommittee will be intrusted with the task of settling once and for all what is to be the total amount paid to the Allies by Germany and then fixing the annuities. Germany is desirous of ridding herself of payments to France on the shortest schedule possible to arrange, without actual transfer of currency and gold if possible.

It is understood that the committee will sit in Paris in a general way and will remove to Berlin only when necessary. The meeting tomorrow will be in the Hotel Astoria, formerly the headquarters of the Reparations Commission.

Mr. Young, J. Pierpont Morgan and Thomas W. Lamont were luncheon guests of Ambassador Herrick. They said, "We got together; this problem does not seem to be unsolvable."

SELECTION GETS COOLIDGE APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The unanimous demand expressed by the committee of experts in Paris that Owen D. Young, unofficial American delegate, act as the permanent chairman during their meeting to finally settle the German reparations problem meets with the approval of President Coolidge.

Although Mr. Young demurred in Paris yesterday to the suggestion that he head the conference, the committee communicated to the Washington government for the information of the President their unanimous desire to have the American delegate act in that capacity.

The attitude of the President was set forth today by a high official of the American government as being that, while he had hoped for the selection of one of the European delegates as chairman, he finds no objection to Mr. Young acting as the head of the committee, as such action seems necessary to promote the success of the conference.

ITALY AND VATICAN SIGN HISTORIC TREATY TODAY

Ceremony Takes Place in Palace Built by Emperor Constantine; Pope Pius Alters Pact

ROME, Feb. 10. (AP)—This message will be read by Americans at the time of signature tomorrow of one of the most im[illegible] treaties ever concluded by Roman Catholic pontiffs.

[illegible] strange coincidence, the signature will take place in the very palace built by the Emperor Constantine after converting to Christianity which ended [illegible] centuries of Christian persecution. The palace therefore symbolizes "the Alpha and Omega of Catholicism," said Monsignor Ercole, director of the museum at the Lateran, while showing the priceless mementos kept there.

He added that no better place could have been chosen for the momentous event of tomorrow since the Lateran with its collections represents three historic periods of Catholicism. That under the pagans, that under the Popes, and that after the fall of temporal power. This last period closes with the signature tomorrow of the Italo-Vatican treaty of conciliation.

The Pope, in agreement with Premier Mussolini, has introduced a few last-minute modifications to the treaty. The railway station which the Holy See, according to the agreement, has the right to have inside the Vatican territory and connected with the Italian railway system will be immediately outside the limits of the Vatican. It will, however, afford direct connection with the Vatican so that visiting personages may arrive without stepping on Italian ground. Naturally this station will be exclusively for Papal purposes.

This decision was reached by the Pope so late that it was impossible to discuss and agree on all rules regarding the working of the station and the railroad line. Not wishing to postpone signature of the treaty because of this and still smaller questions of detail, it was agreed that they would be dealt with after the signature, since there cannot be any important divergencies of opinion on such matters.

The treaty specifies that the Italian government acknowledges as absolute property of the Holy See the churches of St. John Lateran, St. Mary Major and the palaces Cancelleria, Dateria, St. Calixtus, and that of the congregation of the oriental church. In 1870 the government confiscated property adjoining the churches of the Holy Apostle Saint Andrew Della Valle, and St. Charles Catinari, using them for its own purposes, and now the treaty returns them to the Holy See.

LOSE "HOLY GROTTO"

The Franciscan order heard with grief that, while the Basilica of St. Francis Assisi and the near-by monastery return to the Holy See, the "Holy Grotto," where St. Francis prayed, now inclosed in the large Church of St. Mary of the Angels a few miles from Assisi, is not included in the restitution. This as well as other small questions may be arranged later, as it will be comparatively easy now that peace has been re-established between the Vatican and the Italian government.

Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State, although he did not leave his apartment, today declared that he is much better and that he will certainly be recovered from his cold tomorrow sufficiently to sign the treaty. The Pope inquired for his health today and was satisfied that there was nothing serious the matter.

Since neither treaty nor concordat will be published before ratification by the Fascist Council and Parliament, it was asserted tonight that Pope Pius has abandoned the idea of appearing Tuesday, after the ceremony in St. Peter's for the anniversary of his coronation, on the balcony of the cathedral to bless the troops and the people. The crowd, however, is expected to call insistently for him and perhaps he may not be able to resist them.

NEWS NOT PUBLISHED

All Rome knows of the conciliation although the Italian press has not been allowed to publish even the faintest allusions. French, Swiss and Austrian newspapers arriving here are snatched by the public before they can be put on the stands so eager is everyone to read the accounts telegraphed by the Rome correspondents.

According to the latest decisions, the Osservatore Romano, the newspaper used by the Vatican for its public announcements, will publish immediately after the signature a bare announcement that the event has occurred with an editorial on the subject. A summary of the treaty and concordat will not appear, however, until Tuesday when it will be given out by the Stefani News Agency.

No correspondent will be allowed in the room when the signature takes place. Only two photographers, one from the Vatican and one from the Italian government, will be present.

The Osservatore Romano, now edited, printed and published on Italian territory, is to be transferred to Vatican soil. This newspaper, together with the "Acta Apostolical Sedis" or official gazette of the Holy See, will be the only journals representing the Papacy.

FRENCH SEA GIANT TO DWARF ALL LINERS NOW ON ATLANTIC

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times]

PARIS, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Very shortly building will be begun on a new French liner which seems destined to win for this country the blue ribbon of the Atlantic.

The order has been given for the construction of the giant vessel at St. Nazaire. It will have, it is stated, the most powerful driving plant ever installed in a mercantile vessel. The engines will develop 45,000 horsepower more than the Mauretania and will give a speed of at least twenty-seven knots and possibly more.

Thus the new Leviathan easily will outpace any existing ship on the Atlantic and the German ships Europa and Bremen now being built.

The new liner is to be, it is stated, 60,000 tons gross with the length nearly 1000 feet and an exceptional width of 111 feet. She thus will rival and perhaps surpass in size and tonnage the mammoth White Star vessel now being built at Belfast.

The vessel is being built for the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique with a large government subsidy.

GAS WAR TO RESOUND IN WASHINGTON

Bay City Service Station Men Will Carry Fight to Federal Trade Body

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Local independent service station owners today determined to carry their controversy with the oil companies to the Federal Trade Commission, and as the first step organized the Retail Service Dealers' Association. Their action followed a recommendation from Representative Richard J. Welsh in Washington.

A telegram was sent tonight to the Trade Protective Conference of the commission, meeting in St. Louis tomorrow, urging an investigation. The California delegation in Congress had been wired previously a request to ask the commission to "unravel certain mysterious service-station contracts made by the major oil companies."

In the telegram to the conference the association asserts that the oil companies have leased virtually all their service stations to employees under a system designated as "twenty-four hours leases," and that these leases are subterfuges to keep the retail price of gasoline at 18 cents and thus force the independent retailers out of business. The association says that its members are forced to pay 15 cents per gallon wholesale and that the resulting 3-cent profit is too small a margin to enable them to continue in business.

RUMOR ONLY CABINET ECHO

Capital Has to be Content With Mere Guesses

No Authority Even for Designating Mellon

Stimson State-Post Theory Lacks Confirmation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Guessing on the make-up of he Hoover Cabinet now has reached a hectic stage in official Washington. Such uncertainty regarding the selections of the President-elect for his official family has not existed since 1913 when Woodrow Wilson kept everybody in the dark until he sent his Cabinet nominations to the Senate shortly after noon of March 4.

On that occasion so little was known of the Wilson Cabinet that several of its members attended the inauguration ceremonies without attracting attention. Entering the Senate for the preliminary ceremony David F. Houston, selected for Secretary of Agriculture, was accosted by an acquaintance with the inquiry: "Well, what brings you to Washington?" He did not find out till he read the Cabinet list in the papers three hours later.

HOOVER NONCOMMITTAL

Up to date Mr. Hoover has vouchsafed no information on his selection for Cabinet places. It is not doubted that Andrew W. Mellon is to continue as Secretary of the Treasury but there is no authority for the assumption. The only confirmation of the general belief that Mr. Mellon is to remain has been gleaned from a chance remark the Secretary made in an unguarded moment a few weeks ago, when it was still uncertain that there would be an extra session of Congress.

"Well, if there should be an extra session this spring," said Mr Mellon, "it will knock me out of my trip to Europe."

Inasmuch as an April session of Congress would not keep him at home, if he were going to retire on March 4, official Washington instantly deduced that Mr. Mellon is going to stay in the Cabinet.

It has been accepted as a fact during the last week that Gov.-Gen. Stimson of the Philippines is to be Mr. Hoover's Secretary of State. He is coming home, he said, to take a position, the nature of which he would leave Mr. Hoover to disclose.

On the other hand, a close friend of Mr. Hoover, returning from Miami yesterday, said that in his opinion, Col. Stimson had not been selected for Secretary of State. He thought it more likely that Dwight Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico, will be Secretary of State and that Col. Stimson is being brought home to succeed Mr. Morrow at Mexico City. Others hazarded the guess that Col. Stimson is going to be either Secretary of War or Attorney-General.

DONOVAN FATE UNKNOWN

The fate of Col. William J. Donovan, assistant to the Attorney-General, is still uncertain. He was one of the prime movers for the nomination of Mr. Hoover and a powerful adjutant in the election campaign. That he will be rewarded with high office is not doubted, but whether it will be the post of Attorney-General or Secretary of War or a position outside the Cabinet no one knows.

So far as the guessers can determine, Secretary Mellon is the only member of the Coolidge Cabinet who will be retained.

It is understood Postmaster-General New will be succeeded by Walter F. Brown of Ohio, who is now assistant Secretary of Commerce, by choice of Mr. Hoover when the President-elect was head of that department. Mr. Brown, a former Bull Mooser, was active in the preconvention Hoover campaign.

SOUTHERNER POSSIBLE

It is expected in view of the breaking of the Solid South by Hoover last November and the keen desire of the President-elect to build up a strong white man's Republican party in the South, that a southern Republican will be called to the Cabinet. It would occasion no surprise if Stuart W. Cramer, millionaire cotton mill owner of North Carolina, were chosen. He might appropriately be made Secretary of the Navy for he is a graduate of Annapolis, where he was room-mate of Secretary Wilbur, is a member of the naval reserve and actively interested in naval matters generally. He was chairman of the Republican State Committee of North Carolina in the election campaign.

found in the Cabinet is William M. Doak of Virginia, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, whose chances for Secretary of Labor appear good. One report from Miami, however, is to the effect that Doak is opposed by the American Federation of Labor.

As to whether William H. Jardine will be retained as Secretary of Agriculture the gossip is conflicting. Some who have sounded Mr. Hoover in his Florida retreat think that Samuel R. McKelvie, former Governor of Nebraska, will get the job.

On Secretary of Commerce the guessers are up in the air and falling back on the suggestion that the logical choice is Julius Klein, who was Mr. Hoover's selection for chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the Department of Commerce, a position he still holds.

Hugh Gibson, Ambassador to Belgium, undoubtedly will receive a high appointment, possibly Undersecretary of State. He was closely associated with Mr. Hoover in Belgium relief.

George Akerson is to be secretary to the President, George Barr Baker the research secretary who assists in the preparation of addresses, and Lawrence Richey, the third secretary, who will act as liaison officer between the Executive, the independent boards and commissions.

GIRL BARTERED FOR LOVE BOMB

Father Pledges Daughter as Bribe to Maker

Device Sent by Plotter to Successful Rival

Alertness Averts Death and Double Wedding

FLINT (Mich.) Feb. 10. (AP)—A murder plot in which Amos Jury, 36 years of age, offered his 17-year-old daughter to a mechanic for contriving a bomb to kill Jury's rival, was unfolded here today when Jury, according to police, confessed to his part in the plot and also implicated John Carrigan, 41, of Hasslet. Jury was arrested yesterday and Carrigan today.

The bomb was mailed to Everett Bailer, whose bride of a week had been Jury's sweetheart, with instructions to open it when alone.

Bailer opened it in the presence of his wife and several other persons, but noticed in time a chain which would have set off three sticks of dynamite if he had opened the handbag in which the bomb was contained.

Jury, according to police, planned to marry Mrs. Bailer after killing her husband. Carrigan was to have Jury's aid in winning Irene, Jury's child, if the plot succeeded.

Jury confessed after hearing his room-mate, Malcolm Cameron, tell of writing the note which told Bailer to be alone when he opened the "present."

"I was desperately in love with Catherine (Mrs. Bailer,)" Jury said, "and I bought a marriage license before she married Bailer. John Carrigan made the bomb and he was to marry my daughter if the plan worked, and I was to get Mrs. Bailer."

SECURITIES ACT HELD EFFICIENT

Bay City's Stock Exchange Defends Law

"As Workable As Any" Says Letter to Keaton

Friedlander Also Declares Measure Protects

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (AP)—The San Francisco Stock Exchange through its attorneys came to the defense today of the California Corporate Securities Act in a letter to Assemblyman Keaton of Long Beach, who has a bill before the Legislature to amend the law.

The letter, written by Attorney Samuel S. Stevens, characterized the law as it stands as "efficient and workable as any of the various corporate securities acts."

The text of the letter is as follows:

"Our firm is counsel for the San Francisco Stock Exchange and various financial institutions in San Francisco who are very much interested in the pending bill to amend the present Corporate Securities Act of this State. We were requested by the stock exchange to be present at the hearing yesterday in support of the present act. I had to keep an appointment at noon but expected the hearing would adjourn until the afternoon, at which time I had hoped to state our position in regard to the act.

PUBLIC PROTECTED

"We believe the present Corporate Securities Act is as efficient and workable as any of the various corporate securities acts, and affords the best possible protection to the public, and, at the same time, does not unduly hamper or hinder legitimate business. We also believe the success of the present act is due in a large measure to the manner of its administration. We find that under the present act applications are acted upon intelligently and promptly and that permits are usually issued in not to exceed a period of ten days.

"We also believe, however, that the present act should be amended as soon as possible to conform with the suggestions made by Mr. Athearn yesterday."

Changes proposed by Fred G. Athearn, San Francisco corporation lawyer, when he appeared before a legislative committee here on Thursday were that a change be made in the law so that the State might be divided into districts for its administration. Such a plan, he said, would relieve the central office of the Corporation Commissioner of such detail without curtailing its powers.

FRIEDLANDER'S VIEWS

"The State Corporation Department," said Commissioner J. M. Friedlander today, "has been criticised by some people who believe that our purpose is to put everybody who violates the act in jail. This is not true. Our purpose has been, ever since I have been Commissioner of Corporations, to adjust difficulties and violations in the easiest possible manner. The Corporate Securities Act was designed for the protection of uninformed investors.

"It seems that we always have had a large number of promoters who deliberately misrepresent deals, causing in the aggregate many millions of dollars' loss to the investing public. I feel that the present Corporate Securities Act is a much better medium for protecting the investor than the substitute act proposed by Assemblyman Keaton. I further believe that if the State Corporate Securities Act is to be amended in any way that it should be studied by a committee of experts on corporation law."

Committees of Bar Divided to Conserve Costs

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—In order to obviate long and expensive journeys, the board of governors of the State Bar has sanctioned division of the special committees studying the administration of justice in California and has named Los Angeles and San Francisco as the district meeting places.

Of the committees on civil procedure, those covering inferior courts, probate practice and rule-making power will meet here and those on Superior Court practice and appeals will gather in Los Angeles.

In the criminal section, the committee on law and procedure will meet here. Those for courts and judicial offices and regulatory commission procedure will meet in Los Angeles.

The section on professional conduct, however, will be named at large and meet where most convenient.

Two Steamers Collide Off Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce here early today received a report from Portland, Or., saying the steamer Eastern Knight, bound from Portland to New York, and the steamer Admiral Dewey, bound from Portland to San Francisco, had collided off Astoria, Or., damaging the superstructure of the Admiral Dewey.

The Admiral Dewey returned to dock at Astoria, and her officers said the vessel will proceed south later. The Eastern Knight continued at sea.

Ohio Records Severe Quake

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10. (AP)—A sharp earthquake, which reached its maximum vibration at 10:58 a.m., was recorded on the seismograph at St. Xavier College here today. The shocks began at 10:44 a.m. and continued until 12:30 p.m.

Officials said the quake probably occurred off the coast of Central America, the direction having been indicated toward the southwest about 2070 miles from Cincinnati.

PRINCE CHAKIR IN BAY CITY

Turkish Spouse of Sidi Wirt Spreckels Not Yet Divorced but Plans to Seek Decree

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Prince Suad Bey Chakir, grandson of Turkey's last Sultan and the husband of Sidi Wirt Spreckels, who discarded her title of princess when she was repatriated earlier this week, is in San Francisco, but not to see his wife. And, coincidentaly, it is learned the Prince did not obtain the divorce accredited to him in dispatches some time ago, but that he plans to obtain a decree. His present visit, he declared, is for business reasons.

"I do not expect nor do I wish to see Madame Chakir," said the Prince: "That she still is my wife is unfortunate—for me.

"Divorces are not granted lightly in Turkey. Marriage there is not a caprice and divorce takes time. We have come to the parting of the ways. I have been played with and humiliated long enough. It is the end.

"When we were married I was only 24 years of age—a boy. She was ten years older. Now I am thirty. I had hoped that we might have a quiet, dignified home. It has not been so.

"For two years and a half my family name was trampled into the dust by the suit brought against Sidi by Princess Chivekiar, charging indiscretions and rendezvous with her husband, Selim Bey. Through it all I bore my humiliation before the world as best I could. I clung to our Turkish ideals of marriage as a thing of dignity and enduring worth. But now, with this long sojourn in America; excuses, false addresses, evasions, I can bear no more.

"Divorce is the only solution."

Hope of Towing Alloway Into Port Abandoned

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 10. (AP)—Abandoning all hope of towing the freighter Alloway to Dutch Harbor or Davidson Banks, Alaska, the steamer Bronnoy late today offered to take off the crew of the helpless ship. The Bronnoy was forced to give up attempts to tow the Alloway when the vessel became unmanageable in a ninety-mile gale in the North Pacific, radio dispatches received here from Dutch Harbor said.

Although their ship was wallowing badly in the heavy seas, the captain and the crew of the Alloway refused to leave as long as the hull was sound. The only damage to the ship at present is the disabled engines.

BOMBAY COUNTS TOLL OF HATRED

Casualties in Hindu-Pathan War Run High

Deaths Number 120, Hospital Cases 700 Now

Disorders Launched by False Rumors Continue

BOMBAY (India) Feb. 10. (AP)—A week of terror from riots between Hindus and Pathans here has resulted in approximately 120 killed and 700 injured as reported by hospitals and with possibly hundreds more of injured who have hidden in their homes.

There were seven new killings and the wounding of fifty-six persons today, while it was officially announced that twenty-eight, including fifteen in hospitals from previous injuries, had died in the past twenty-four hours. Among these were several volunteers working for the restoration of peace who were attacked and injured by a Hindu mob which mistook them for enemies.

Some jewelry shops were looted during the day. The police held up and searched hundreds of pedestrians and seized much looted property. They arrested 100 suspects.

The present outbreak had for its direct cause rumors that the Pathans were kidnaping Hindu children at Baroda as sacrifices to be buried under the foundations of a great bridge being built there. Native superstition is that such a structure would be unsafe without such sacrifice.

PETTING PARTIES BANNED

Budapest Authorities So Strict That Man Is Fined for Embracing His Own Wife in Public at Railroad Station

BUDAPEST (Hungary) Feb. 10. (AP)—City authorities have inaugurated a campaign against public "petting."

Police have received instructions to stop couples walking down the street arm in arm. Other objectionable conduct of young people in cafes and restaurants is liable to fines ranging from 20 to 100 pengos ($3.50 to $17.50.) Cafe proprietors are required to report such offenses to police.

A number of public dancing halls have been closed. Dancing is permitted only at the fashionable hotels. Girls attending must be chaperoned and then may dance only with young men known to the family.

Several arrests have been made.

One case which attracted some attention followed detention of a young man and woman at a railway station platform. The man protested the woman was his wife and that the policeman had no right to interfere with them. However, the magistrate reprimanded him severely and fined him 100 pengos.

They were told that a farewell kiss did not constitute a public offense but that embraces of a more ardent nature did.

DENIES DARWIN ATHEIST

Nebraskan, Who Has Several Letters from Scientist, Refutes Contention

NORTH LOUP (Neb.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Several letters from Charles Darwin, the scientist who is credited with the evolution theory are possessed by E. W. Black of North Loup, a retired carpenter.

While Black, fifty years ago, carried on an independent investigation of paleobotany and the pollenization of plants, he wrote to Darwin and received several letters replying to his statement of findings.

About five years before Darwin's death Black sent to the master scientist a number of specimens and queries about the inter-relation of insects to the proper and necessary pollenization of flowers.

One letter which Black possesses and written in a hand so cramped as to be almost unreadable, refers to the curious habit of the flowers of the asclepidiae which are sometimes laden with the dead bodies of insects—chiefly bees—the legs of which become hopelessly caught in the intricacies of flowers.

Darwin said:

"It is well known that the flowers of several of the apocynae catch insects and I think that I have heard of cases in the allied family of the asclepiadae.

POORLY ADAPTED

"As far as I know this habit is of no use whatever to the plant, and seems to be the incidental result of their structure. Both families require insect aid for their fertilization and I have sometimes suspected that the insects which are caught are those which are not well adapted for the fertilizations of the flower. I have one apocynae now in flower in my greenhouse which catches butterflies but not the wasps which visit the flowers; but I cannot say that wasps are the proper insects for the fertilization of the flowers for I have not had time property to observe them."

Speaking of the evolution controversy, Mr. Black says:

"In the somewhat ridiculous and certainly acrimonious controversy waged between the late Hon. W. J. Bryan and certain scientific professors and others, it seemed to be gratuitously assumed that Dr. Darwin was a rabid opponent of Christianity. Nothing could be farther from the facts.

"In speaking of New Zealand, he said, 'I look back to but one bright spot and that is Naimote, with its Christian inhabitants.' Neither was he an atheist. In contrasting the primeval forests of Terra del Fuego and Brazil, he said, 'Both are filled with the varied productions of the God of Nature—No one can stand in their solitudes unmoved, and not feel that there is more in man than the mere breath of his body.'

WAS SEVERELY HONEST

"Whatever may have been his exact religious views in early or later life, (he took his B.A. and M.A. degrees in Christ's Church, Cambridge, in preparation for the church) it cannot be denied that in all his investigations he was severely honest. He once said, 'Whenever I have found out that I have blundered, or that my work has been imperfect, and when I have been contemptuously criticized, it has been my greatest comfort to say hundreds of times to myself, I have worked as hard and as well as I could, and no man could do more. That he was tirelessly patient also is proven by the fact that he spent eleven years in experimenting and collecting data for his 'Cross and Self-fertilization.'"

Black came to North Loup in 1880 and worked as a carpenter until a few years ago when he retired to care for his invalid wife, who recently died.

While Black's scientific investigations have been necessarily limited, he found time, many years ago, for two expeditions, one to the Uintah Mountains and one to the Black Hills. He has also done solitary "bone-hunting" in the bad land fossil beds of northwest Nebraska.

He has always had, he says, a "trend toward scientific research anywhere and in any direction, unfortunately always on the side."

TRADE-MARKS MEET TO OPEN

Pan-American Delegates to Assemble Today

Kellogg Will Make Address to Welcome Group

Agreement Declared Vital for Protecting Trade

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Delegates from the United States and other American republics have assembled here for the opening tomorrow of the Pan-American trade-mark conference, the purpose of which as stated in the authorizing resolution is "the studying in its amplest scope of the problem of inter-American protection of trade-marks."

Addresses of welcome to the gathering which will hold its meetings in the Pan-American Union Building will be made by Secretary of State Kellogg and by Dr. Hernan Velarde, chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the governing board of the Pan-American Union.

In speaking of the significance and importance of the conference Dr. L. S. Rowe, director-general of the Pan-American Union, today made the following statement:

"The Pan-American trade-mark conference marks another forward step in the important movement for Pan-American co-operation. An agreement on the protection of trade-marks throughout the American continent will mean much to inter-American commerce and will tend to eliminate the irritation that is aroused from time to time by reason of inadequate protection of such trade-marks.

"The adequate protection of trade-marks is a matter of deep interest to every consumer throughout the continent. Thousands of persons in the republics of America have suffered real loss by reason of the unauthorized and, at times, fraudulent use of well-known and long-established trade-marks. The whole situation must be viewed primarily from the point of view of the interest of the consumer.

"There is every reason to expect constructive results from the approaching conference—results which will find their ultimate expression in increased commerce and increased uniformity in the protection of industrial property throughout the American continent."

Marriage Marts in Thirty States Denounced; Justices and Preachers in Competition

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—The Russell Sage Foundation reported today that a study of marriage law administration in thirty States has revealed the existence of fifty-seven "marriage market towns" in twenty-nine States. The report states that these towns constitute the most conspicuous, though not the most serious, result of "the general neglect of marriage laws in this country."

The communities styled marriage-market towns are those that have more than twice as large a marriage rate as that of their State or which draw more than half their marriage candidates from outside license districts.

"We are so little inclined to advertise these places," says the foundation, "that we are suppressing their names throughout this report."

In one marriage-market town, the report says, social workers were told by the justice of the peace that his regular fee was $3, but if the principals wanted their marriage kept out of the papers he charged $3 extra.

In this town runners for the justices were found who went so far in soliciting business as to board moving automobiles if they thought the occupants looked as though they might get married if properly approached.

In another town two justices of the peace advertised in street cars running from a near-by city, displaying car cards reading "Sweetheart: Be ready at 4 o'clock—We'll go to . . . just a short ride, and Justices . . . and . . . will tie the knot."

In a third town ministers rather than justices were found to be profiting by the business, splitting fees with taxi drivers who brought them couples to marry having been charged against several.

In one marriage-market town the Chamber of Commerce spoke in its printed circulars of the town's advantages for weddings and expressed its desire for a "legitimate marriage-resort business."

The report includes a study of exploitation of marriage which it says is by no means limited to marriage-market towns. In one city where license applications may be received by any notary public a jeweler had himself appointed a notary and then advertised free marriages for all who bought rings in his store. Other means of exploiting marriage were listed as weddings at public expositions, on floats in street parades, in Ferris wheels, in airplanes, theaters, swimming tanks and at midnight on June 1, to win prizes offered by merchants for the first June bride.

The foundation says that exploitation of marriage is rarely illegal and suggests that only public opinion can stop the "unseemly procedures," which the report says destroy the solemnity of the marriage vows and tend to eliminate a conscientious attitude among the officiating justices.

The study was made for the foundation by Fred S. Hall of the Russell Sage staff and the late Mary E. Richmond.

ROOF SIGNS FOR FLYERS URGED

Aviation Interests Approach Commerce Department

Standard Markings to Guide Planes Proposed

Name of Town and Airport Pointer Suggested

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The placing of air markings on the tallest buildings of cities to guide aviators on the transcontinental flying routes was recommended today to the Commerce Department by a special committee of officials and representatives of aviation interests.

The committee submitted a report recommending a standard set of airway markings, which approved the system already begun by the Federal airway establishment for marking routes.

In urging the use of high buildings to help aviators locate their bearings the committee recommended that the name of the respective city be prominently displayed on the roofs of the structures.

"It is important that air markings be placed on the most outstanding buildings or structures in each city, when suitable roof space is available," the report said. "The name of the city, together with a meridian marker and an airport pointer should be placed on one or more suitable roofs near the center of the city for smaller cities, and at or near the center of each section of the city for the larger cities. It is also considered helpful if such markings are placed at or near railroad stations."

FLEET RETURNS TO ANCHOR

Great Naval Maneuvers Void of Serious Casualties; Lindbergh Receives High Praise

BY LIEUT. A. A. AGETON, U.S.N.

ABOARD THE U.S.S. CALIFORNIA, PANAMA, Feb. 10. (Via naval radio.)—The United States fleet is back at anchor on Panama Bay tonight after two days of tactical exercises in the gulf, the Navy's first maneuvers wherein every element of sea power was simultaneously engaged. With 150 surface craft scattered over the scene of action, the submarine forces attacked the fleet on Friday, while 250 fighting planes filled the air in sham combat above.

Despite the intensive activity there were no serious casualties and only two forced landings of aircraft. When a corsair observation plane from the dreadnaught Pennsylvania fell at sea the pilot, Lieut. J. G. Farrell, and Lieut. W. S. Parsons, observer, saved themselves by crawling up on the nose of the badly damaged plane.

Personnel of the entire fleet still is praising the feat of Col. Lindbergh in leading the Sea Hawks, Lieutenants Storrs and Davis last Friday in an air attack on the fleet, as he previously led the Army's Three Musketeers in flight at Los Angeles. Before taking off for the United States this morning, Col. Lindbergh by dispatch thanked Admiral Wiley, Commander-in-chief, for his trip aboard the aircraft carrier Saratoga during the exercises and said "Naval aviation has shown great progress."

TARIFF BOOST HOPES DASHED

Raising of Whole Wall Not Now Held Likely

Farm Products With Others In Need to Benefit

House Committee Nearing End of Hearings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—With opinion solidified more than ever against a wholesale revision of the tariff at the special session of the new Congress, the House Ways and Means Committee tomorrow will enter its sixth week of hearings on the subject.

Silk, paper and books, and sundries will demand the attention of the committee for the next five days. Next week will be devoted to sundries and the free list, with the administrative provisions coming up for consideration the 25th inst. This will conclude the open sessions at which, to date, 680 witnesses have pressed hundreds of proposals for changes in the import duty structure, mostly increases.

That a majority of these suggestions will be ignored is the opinion held rather generally among Republican congressional leaders. They hold that only in isolated instances outside the agricultural rates will there be a necessity for upward revision and openly declare that many of the witnesses recommend higher duties, not expecting them to be granted but in the hope that present rates will not be lowered or that compromise higher duties might be agreed upon.

SMOOT DAMPENS HOPES

While there have been some predictions that the whole tariff wall would be raised, the return of Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee from Florida, where he conferred last week with President-elect Hoover, with the opinion that there should be no tinkering with rates other than those applying to agriculture, except in a few scattered instances, has served to allay the fears of the moderate revisionists of the House.

Speaker Longworth, Republican; Tilson, of Connecticut, the Republican House floor leader, and Chairman Hawley of the Ways and Means Committee, have been in accord all along that schedules other than those dealing with products of the farm should be readjusted only where inequities are definitely shown. They have read reports, however, that the Senate will open up the whole tariff to radical change and it is against this proposal that Senator Smoot has now taken a stand.

The Utah Senator, whose committee will have charge of the tariff bill in the Senate, says that while there is no way of limiting consideration to any special items and all may be subjected to revision once the bill reaches the Senate floor, he will oppose all efforts to change rates in wholesale fashion.

He believes the farm duties generally could well stand increases, but moderate ones. Aside from this he sees little need of changes except perhaps in the sugar and cotton textile schedules. He believes the world sugar duty of 2.2 cents a pound and 1.76 cents against Cuba will be raised as well as the rates on fine cotton yarns and cloths.

Smoot's general views are similar to those held by Chairman Hawley, whose names most likely will be linked as authors of the 1929 tariff law.

"The present tariff has done well," the Oregon Representative said today, "but new developments in old industries, new industries, and new competition from abroad create a situation that ought to be remedied. Of course, the agricultural schedule is on a different basis. I still believe a comparatively small number of items will be affected in the readjustment.

"It's like the roof of the Capitol," he added by way of illustration. "It might be a good roof, but we want to stop the leaks if there are any."

Hawley pointed out that many trade representatives who have appeared before his committee complaining of foreign competition were not suffering from this at all, but rather from competition at home.

"Some have old machinery and less effective methods than their domestic competitors," he said, adding that this could be not be remedied by the tariff.

BROKERS' LOAN ACTION LIKELY

Senate Expected to Ask for Reserve Board Idea

Curb on Speculative Outlay of Funds Requested

Many Difficult Questions in That Field Revealed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—A legislative remedy against the continued expansion of brokers' loans from Federal reserve funds will be sought this week by Congress as a result of the warning issued last week by the Federal Reserve Board against a further increase of loans in the speculative fields.

There is every indication that the Senate tomorrow will adopt a resolution asking the board to submit a legislative corrective for the evil of which it complained. Also it seems likely that the House Banking Committee will turn to a study of this condition.

Otherwise, there seems to be little likelihood of a flareback against the unprecedented warning issued by the board which played a part in the heavy slump on the stock market.

Representative Black, Democrat, New York, however, has demanded an investigation of the board's action and an inquiry into any possible connection between it and the action of the Bank of England in raising its rediscount rate.

There have been some undercurrents of criticism against the board in the Senate this session, but no outward display in the debate. The only resolution introduced there on the affair is one by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, asking the board to propose legislation to meet the situation of which it complains.

When this resolution came up yesterday, the Senate found it had had before it since last May a resolution by Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, approved by the Banking Committee, of precisely the same nature. The LaFollette resolution asked the board to admonish member banks against excessive loans to brokers and to propose legislation which would permit a curb on this practice.

The great problem in writing legislation is to determine what loans are speculative. It is conceded that not all of the $5,000,000,000 in the reserve banks' brokers' loans is used for speculation. Who is to determine when a stock purchase is for investment or speculation and how each is to be determined is what is bothering the legislative minds.

MEXICO HAS TRADE GAINS AND LOSSES

Republic's Imports from United States Increase as Exports Decline

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Mexico and United States trade during 1928 is reviewed in a statement issued by the American commercial attache, George Wythe, who declares that Mexico's imports from the United States were in round numbers $115,500,000, an increase of $6,500,000 or more than 5 per cent over the totals for 1927.

Mexico's exports to the United States also were in round figures $124,500,000, a decline of $13,300,000, or a drop of 9 per cent as compared with 1927.

These figures do not include movements of gold and silver, statistics for which are available only for the first ten months of 1928. These figures, in round amounts, with the corresponding data for the same period in 1927 are as follows:

Mexico's net imports in gold from the United States during the ten months ending October of last year amounted to $500,000; Mexico's net imports of gold from the United States for the same period in 1927 were close to $600,000; Mexico's net exports of silver to the United States during the ten months of 1928 amounted to more than $37,000,000 while silver exports for the same period in the previous year were a little more than $28,000,000.

December imports from Mexico to the United States amounted to nearly $9,000,000 and Mexico exports during December to the United States amounted to close to $11,500,000.

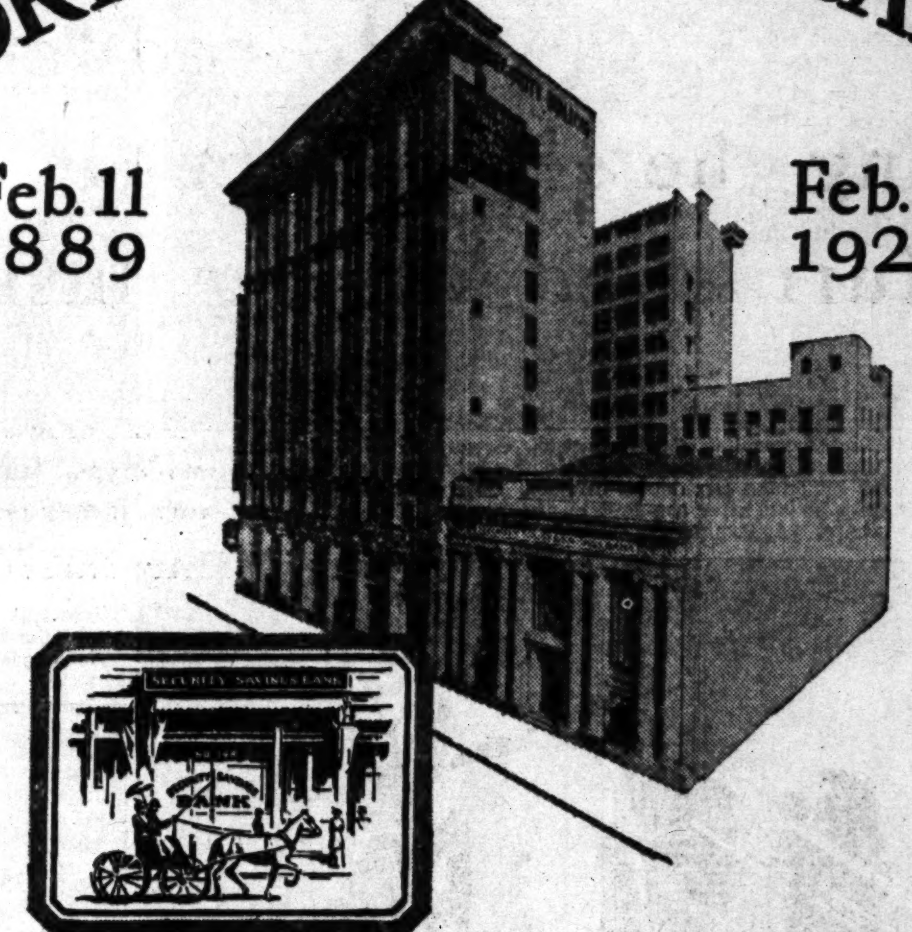
FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Feb. 11 1889

Feb. 11 1929



FORTY YEARS AGO TODAY, Security Bank opened its doors in a small rented room at 148 South Main Street. Initial paid-in capital was $29,000; officers and employees, three.

TODAY, capital, surplus and undivided profits exceed $19,000,000, and Security Company, owned by stockholders, adds capital assets in excess of $7,500,000. Deposits exceed $260,000,000 and depositors are more than 330,000 in number. Officers and employes number over 1500. The small rented quarters have expanded into a Head Office and fifty-four branches, most of them occupying splendid buildings, which are a credit to their communities.

GROWING WITH the COMMUNITY In 1889 Los Angeles was a small city of some 50,000 population. Today it is the commanding city of the Pacific Coast. The growth of the Security Bank has kept pace with the remarkable growth of the city.

CONTINUITY of MANAGEMENT It has been the good fortune of Security Bank that its first cashier, and one of its founders has been its president since 1895, and is now president, and three of its present senior officers have been with the Bank since the first year of its existence. Continuity of management and policies have been maintained to an extent seldom found in a Bank.

FUNDAMENTAL POLICIES The founders of Security Bank have held steadfastly to the fundamental policies of safety for depositors; the lending and investment of its funds with an eye to the sound economic development of the community, and fair dealing with all.

Behind theses policies has always been a sincere desire to serve the community and the public.

The banking functions of Security, based upon these broad policies, have expanded to meet the needs of modern social and business conditions.

CONSOLIDATION On January 25th, the Boards of Directors of Security Trust & Savings Bank and of the Los Angeles-First National Trust & Savings Bank unanimously approved an agreement for the consolidation of the two institutions. When consolidation is completed, the new institution, together with a new security company to be owned by the stockholders, will have capital assets in excess of $59,000,000 and total resources of $600,000,000.

The consolidating banks are two of the oldest and largest banks in Southern California; they are distinctly and historically Los Angeles and Southern California institutions. Combined, they will be able to render unsurpassed banking service in the communities in which they operate.

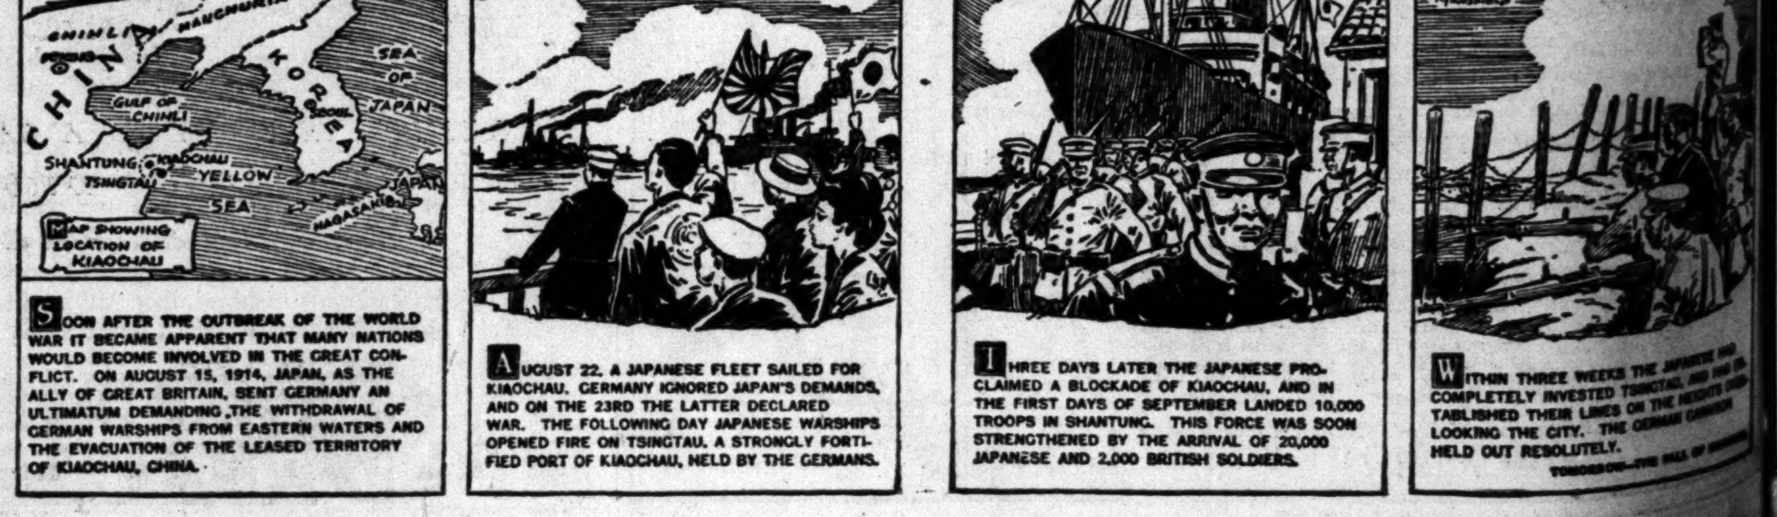
XXXI—Japan Strikes at Germany in the Far East.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



SOON AFTER THE OUTBREAK OF THE WORLD WAR IT BECAME APPARENT THAT MANY NATIONS WOULD BECOME INVOLVED IN THE GREAT CONFLICT. ON AUGUST 15, 1914, JAPAN, AS THE ALLY OF GREAT BRITAIN, SENT GERMANY AN ULTIMATUM DEMANDING THE WITHDRAWAL OF GERMAN WARSHIPS FROM EASTERN WATERS AND THE EVACUATION OF THE LEASED TERRITORY OF KIAOCHAU, CHINA.

AUGUST 22, A JAPANESE FLEET SAILED FOR KIAOCHAU. GERMANY IGNORED JAPAN'S DEMANDS, AND ON THE 23RD THE LATTER DECLARED WAR. THE FOLLOWING DAY JAPANESE WARSHIPS OPENED FIRE ON TSINGTAU, A STRONGLY FORTIFIED PORT OF KIAOCHAU, HELD BY THE GERMANS.

THREE DAYS LATER THE JAPANESE PROCLAIMED A BLOCKADE OF KIAOCHAU, AND IN THE FIRST DAYS OF SEPTEMBER LANDED 10,000 TROOPS IN SHANTUNG. THIS FORCE WAS SOON STRENGTHENED BY THE ARRIVAL OF 20,000 JAPANESE AND 2,000 BRITISH SOLDIERS.

WITHIN THREE WEEKS THE JAPANESE HAD COMPLETELY INVESTED TSINGTAU, AND HAD ESTABLISHED THEIR LINES ON THE HEIGHTS OVERLOOKING THE CITY. THE GERMAN GARRISON HELD OUT RESOLUTELY.

DYOTT SURROUNDED BY SAVAGES ON SANDBAR

Indians Menace Searching Party as Aloique and Comrades Desert Expedition

BY G. M. DYOTT

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

One sleeps uncommonly lightly in the jungle, but on such occasions as the last night in our Indian-beset camp on the sandbar the slightest sound roused one like an alarm clock.

At three in the morning I was electrified into action by the muffled sound of some one walking in my direction. I switched on my electric flashlamp and saw the figure of Joao Climaco coming toward the tent. He explained that he was making an early start for Baikari post. He told me it had been impossible to get an extra canoe. Some Indians were on their way upstream to visit us, he added, and he would be able to barter for one with them.

Of our four bark canoes he proposed taking three, leaving behind the largest for our use down the Xingu. He then bid me good-bye and pushed off.

Back once more under my mosquito net I turned the matter over at leisure in my mind. On the whole I was glad that Joao Climaco had gone. It meant fewer people to worry about, his fear of the Indians was infectious. The microbe was already spreading to my own men, particularly the camaradas who were upset by his obvious alarm and the stories he circulated. With such thoughts running through my mind I fell asleep.

INDIANS DESERT

At daybreak I proceeded immediately with my arrangements for going back up the Kuluene with Aloique, but another surprise was yet to be sprung on me. The Anauqua Indians had vanished! Aloique, Rapatzi and Matuala had decamped during the night. If I was to visit the scene of the Fawcett disaster, I would have to reorganize my plans afresh.

It seemed obvious that Aloique, becoming suspicious, feared some plot on his own life, and had decided to slip off. It might be argued that he knew nothing of the Fawcett affair and having made promises which he could not possibly fulfill had fled rather than face an embarrassing issue. This is possible but my knowledge of Indian psychology makes me think differently.

The real motive which swayed Aloique, I am convinced, was fear of my having discovered the part he played in the crime and that I was plotting to take his life in reprisal.

Had he not committed the murder it is possible that the reward of a rifle or clothing might have induced him to show us all that remained of Col. Fawcett in the piqui grove. It might also have caused him to promise more than he could carry out. But it would not have made him turn and run.

FEAR VENGEANCE

All Indians fear vengeance, either from the living or the spirits of the dead. With them reprisals are invariably sought, and if they kill they expect a relative or a fellow tribesman of the slain to seek their life in return.

Aloique might well have thought that something had enabled me to discern the part he had played in the drama and what would be more natural than I should try to get him on the very spot where his foul deed had been enacted?

Although everything seemed to conspire against putting the final touches to our discoveries I felt honor-bound to leave no stone unturned in the search for Col. Fawcett's bones. As the day progressed it was obvious that it would be impossible to do very much more. By nightfall things reached such a pitch the lives of my entire expedition were at stake. No perception was needed to see that unless we could get clear of these awkward Indians in double-quick time we, ourselves, would never come out alive.

In the morning the Indians started to become aggressive. They pushed their way into our inclosure and openly helped themselves to things. In some instances they waited until no one was watching then deftly grabbed a knife and thrust it into the soft sand, planning to recover it at some more opportune moment. We were up to these tricks and were never so indiscreet as to hurriedly recover the stolen goods. We waited until the thief had gone and then dug around until we found it.

ADVANCE CHECKED

We checked this advance by displaying our rifles and revolvers, which up to now had been kept in the background. On the pretext of cleaning and testing them we advertised the fact that we were able to look after ourselves.

Quack-Quiro, the troublesome Anauqua, was on hand as usual, watching the proceedings. He pointed to his wife standing at some distance and made an expression of fear. In other words, the women feared there was going to be a fight. We smiled reassuringly at him, but we were pleased to see the effect of our actions.

New arrivals continued from all points of the compass. A few women were among the throng. But for the most part they were mature armed men. They landed enthusiastically, their faces aglow with anticipation for the gifts they expected to receive. But their broad smiles changed into grimaces of disappointment when told that little was left for them.

As time wore on and no presents were distributed the newcomers experienced growing anger and impatience.

How about all those bundles? they asked one another, pointing to our numerous packing cases full of photographic and wireless gear. What did they contain? To their way of thinking they could only be stuffed full of clothes and knives.

At noon a regular fleet of canoes was sighted making its way up the Kuluene. They appeared as fine specks in the distance. Gradually their black outline became more distinct, and naked figures were seen silhouetted against the water's glare. The steady flash of countless paddles flickered in the sunlight. Quack-Quiro pointed to these with an expression of intense satisfaction.

"Kamaiula, Kamaiula, Kamaiula," he said. "(K)aimaiula break boxes and help themselves." He pantomimed tearing open a case and helping himself to the contents.

It was from the Kamaiulas that Joao Climaco had tried to get us an extra canoe, and as we witnessed boat after boat discharge its living cargo on the shore we realized with growing concern the seriousness of the situation.

The Kamaiula chief, Jacuma, came to greet me with all signs of friendliness and told me his story. So far as I could piece it together Joao Climaco had met him the day before and had accepted presents of farinha and other foodstuffs for which he, Jacuma, was to receive presents from us on his arrival at our camp.

ALARMING SITUATION

Once again we announced the deplorable fact that we had few presents left. Once again a stifled protest surged through the ranks of those wild people. The situation was steadily getting out of hand. The Kamaiulas had a real grievance and unless something could be done to divert the approaching storm we would all be swept into enternity before another sun had set.

I now began to understand Joao Climaco's haste and why he had not wanted to tarry any longer with us. He had met these people on his way down river, accepted their presents without giving anything in return, and left us to settle the bill as best we could, knowing full well that we were not provided with the necessary means for doing so.

Among the Kamaiula cockleshells on our sandbar, not a single one was of any use to us. They were all small and leaky. Furthermore we found that the bark canoe which Joao Climaco left behind was not the best one as he informed me, but the worst of the lot, wholly inadequate if we had to fight our way down the Xingu to the Amazon.

(In his next article Commander Dyott tells of escape from the besieged camp on the sandbar.)

LONDON, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Now that the King is on the way to recovery he is beginning to take more interest in his food, and his devoted chef, Ramon, is busy at all hours preparing appetizing dishes for his royal master.

At present the King takes chiefly fish, broths and egg dishes, but soon it is expected he will resume virtually normal diet. The Queen, a skilled cook, sometimes prepares the King's invalid meals herself, and often lays his tray with Willow-pattern china and carries it to him with her own hands. The tray is a pretty green one, edged with wicker, which Her Majesty recently bought at a sale of blind ex-servicemen's work.

The Queen's vitality and cheerfulness have been of inestimable value to the King during his illness, and now, in his convalescence, she is spending much time with him. The King is becoming increasingly interested in current topics, and has been eager for the news of the test matches the English cricketers have been playing in Australia.

Following is the text of a resolution adopted by the association and sent to each member of the Legislature:

Whereas, the United States Department of Commerce has set a satisfactory standard of regulations for airmen and aircraft throughout the United States, and

Whereas, in the interests of aeronautical progress and uniformity of air regulations it is desirable to have in California one standard of technical quality for aircraft and one standard of proficiency for airmen, therefore be it

Resolved, that the Pilots' and Operators' Association of Northern California hereby formally protests against the enactment of any air legislation having for its purpose a separate State department for aviation, or the delegation to any State agency or bureau of a separate department for the licensing and inspection of airmen and aircraft, or any regulatory measure that would be derogatory to the progress and development of aviation in California, the leading aviation State in the United States.

Standard Oil Head Indites Letter to Stockholders

Stewart's Continental Deal Shown in Detail

Proxies to Defeat Insurgent Declared Obtained

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Winthrop W. Aldrich, a member of the proxy committee directing the fight of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to oust Col. Robert W. Stewart as chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, today made public a seventy-two-page printed letter which is being sent to all stockholders of the company reciting Col. Stewart's connection with the Continental Trading Company bonds.

"In view of the statement issued yesterday by Col. Stewart in regard to his connection with the Continental Trading Company transaction," the letter, dated February 8 says, "this letter is mailed to the stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana for their information. The facts are all matters of public record in the minutes of the hearing before the Committee on Public Lands and Surveys of the United States Senate. Col. Stewart's relation to these transactions is to a large extent set forth in his own testimony before that committee.

BY HIS OWN WORDS

"Certain portions of the testimony of Col. Stewart appearing in the published records of the hearings of the committee are hereinafter set forth, together with such facts with regard to the surrounding circumstances brought out at the hearings of the committee or in the record in the Teapot Dome suit as are essential to an understanding of the subject matter of this testimony.

"In appendix GSA at the end of this letter a quotation is made from the opinion of the United States Supreme Court in the Teapot Dome suit (Mammoth Oil Company vs. United States, 275 U.S., 13, page 47) in which the United States Supreme Court characterizes the transactions of the Continental Trading Company, ending with the statement that the facts made it 'plain that the company was created for some illegitimate purpose.'

"After Col. Stewart testified before the Senate committee he was tried under indictments for contempt of the Senate and for perjury in his testimony before the Senate committee and was acquitted in both trials.

CONTEMPT IN MANNER

"It was not, however, the charge of contempt of the Senate or of perjury, but his conduct over a period of years in connection with the transactions of the Continental Trading Company and his attitude toward his own company, toward the public and toward public authority which caused loss of confidence in Col. Stewart."

The letter then lists all those who had any connection with the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., of Canada, which was formed to purchase oil from the Humphreys Oil Companies at $1.50 a gallon and sell it to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company and the Prairie Oil and Gas Company for $1.75 a gallon. This list included Col. Stewart, Harry W. Blackmer, James E. O'Neil and Harry F. Sinclair.

Follows then in chronological order the events from the negotiation for the Humphreys Oil in June-November 1921, to May 1, 1928, when "Sinclair, recalled by the Senate committee, admits receiving the same amount of Liberty Bonds of the Continental Trading Company as Blackmer, O'Neil and Stewart."

STEWART GUARANTOR

Following this chronological listing is given a detailed description of the conferences leading up to the contract for the sale of the oil to the Continental, the contracts the Continental signed to sell the oil to the other companies and the fact that Stewart and Sinclair guaranteed the $50,000,000 transaction when A. E. Humphreys, Sr., asked for time in which to look into the credit of the Continental company.

The performance of the Humphreys in delivering the oil through the Continental, which received its $1.75 a barrel on the first of each month for the oil delivered and then on the 15th paid the Humphreys companies $1.50, is then recited. The profits from these transactions were put into the Continental Liberty bonds, which were divided equally between Stewart, Sinclair, O'Neil and Blackmer. Part of Sinclair's share of the bonds later were traced to Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior and the man who leased Teapot Dome to Sinclair.

Col. Stewart's testimony before the Senate Public Lands Committee, of which Senator Nye was chairman and Senator Walsh a member, of February 2 and 3 and April 24, 1928, was given almost in full. It was this testimony which led to Stewart being cited for contempt and perjury. He was acquitted in both cases, in the perjury trial on the technicality that a physical quorum of the committee was not present when he testified.

"It should be understood," Mr. Aldrich wrote in closing, "that Mr. Rockefeller's request for Col. Stewart's resignation was not made on the basis of any right to speak for other stockholders. Mr. Rockefeller did not and does not control more than a small minority of the stock of the company. The request for the resignation was based upon a personal promise of Col. Stewart that if Mr. Rockefeller manifested a loss of confidence in his management he would resign.

"The only legal power to terminate Col. Stewart's connection with the company resides in the majority interest of the stockholders. More than a majority interest of the stockholders, many thousands in number, have already sent their proxies to the committee which Mr. Rockefeller heads."

STEWART'S LAWYER MAKES BITTER RETORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Albert L. Hopkins, personal attorney for Col. Robert W. Stewart, replying tonight to Winthrop W. Aldrich's letter to Standard Oil of Indiana stockholders, termed the message a "cunningly drawn document" designed to deceive stockholders and the public.

HE MAKES USE OF JACKRABBIT

Oklahoman Kills Two Birds With One Stone and His Chickens Show Profit

MARIETTA (Okla.) Feb. 10. (AP)—The old question—why were jackrabbits ever put on earth?—has been answered by O. Fricke, enterprising farmer of Love Valley.

Fricke had about 400 laying hens on his farm and a lot of jackrabbits. He was buying expensive meat scraps to balance the hens' diet, and the rabbits were eating his crops. So Fricke began using a gun. He killed, skinned and dried the pests, and then ground them up with the rest of his feed mixture.

Neighbors remark that Fricke has been raising all of his chicken feed except meat scraps and "now he is raising that." His income from the 400 White Leghorns is about $100 a month.

CAPT. HAWKS PLANS HOP WESTWARD

Flyer in Church Address Tells of Aims to Lower Collyer-Tucker Record

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Capt. Frank M. Hawks, who set a new record for a nonstop flight from Los Angeles to New York the 5th inst., told the congregation at the Chelsea Methodist Episcopal Church tonight that he plans an attempt to make the east-to-west nonstop record.

The flyer said that at the conclusion of his recent successful flight he was asked why he flew so high, to which he replied, "No matter how high above the clouds you go, the sun is always there. So it is in everyday life. No matter how dark it is or how rainy, like the sun, God is always up there."

Capt. Hawks, discussing plans for the westward flight, said he is making adjustments in the cowling of his plane which will make it possible for a ten-mile per hour speed increase. In the record flight Hawks's plane maintained an average speed of nearly 150 miles an hour.

The east-to-west nonstop record was set by Charles B. D. Collyer and Harry Tucker. They made the flight last summer in 24h. and 21m., and a short time later were killed in a crash in Arizona in an attempt to set a new west-to-east mark.

CHURCH DECRIES MARITAL WOES

Home Ideal Urged in Report of Federal Council

Companionate Marriages Strongly Opposed

Stage, Films and Tabloids Blamed in Unrest

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) The committee on marriage and home of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, in a lengthy report issued today, declares that the church "has much to answer for in the present unsettled conditions of the home," in a set of specific recommendation to the churches it contends that "marriage which has children in mind, the right of children to happy homes, the joys of parenthood and the great meaning of marriage for the enrichment of life must have a new place in preaching and in the entire program of the church."

The committee, headed by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, states that it is "strongly opposed to the proposal of companionate marriage;" that the "ideal of a marriage for life is the only union which the church can teach," that "divorce even when allowed by the church must be looked upon as a tragic and humiliating failure" and "that the church should lift up the Christian ideal of marriage with all the power of its great influence" and "throw about it every possible religious sanction."

IDEAL OF MARRIAGE

Touching on the American ideal of marriage the report holds that love between the sexes and the love which expresses itself in religion are closely related.

"That does not mean," the committee explains, "that the emotional desire accompanying sex and that splendid love for God and mankind which is the glory of religion, have the same source; but rather that the devoted and enduring love of one man and one woman for each other is like the love of God; and that the realization of such a love is akin to religious experience.

"This concept of marriage prevails in the United States. It is sound and should be preserved at whatever cost, especially since other and lower ideals are contending for supremacy."

Referring to situations affecting home life in America, the committee notes the obsession of the stage and present-day literature with sex, the distributed condition of the home, a disquieting increase in divorce and an apparent growth of laxiness in the relations of the sexes."

BLAME FURTHER FIXED

To reports "that the great war had unsettled temporarily at least the entire range of ideas and customs relating to sex," that "the motion picture, while possessing very great recreational and educational value has done great harm by overestimating sex emotions," and that "the press also, notably the tabloids of the emotional press, have played excessively upon the same instinct."

"The recent period of unemployment" the report's recommendations continue, "has witnessed mothers leaving their families to go to other communities in search of work, and this is not the first experience of this kind. Employers, especially in highly competitive industries such as textiles, should be warned against wages so low as to require the additional wage of the mother in the factory to maintain the home, and against encouraging mothers to leave their little children during the day. No mother should have to work away from home at night."

LINDBERGH ARRIVES IN NICARAGUA

He Drops in Hours Early at Managua and Therefore Has Only Small Crowd

(Copyright, 1929, by New York Times)

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived at Managua from Panama and Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, at 1:35 p.m. today on the first northbound trip of the new Panama air-mail service. He had left Colon at 6 a.m. today. He was accompanied by Col. Hambleton, vice-president of the Pan-American Airways, and Mechanic Busky. Ten minutes later another amphibian, sister ship of Lindbergh's plane, piloted by Raymond Herrick, arrived as an improvised second section to carry the unexpected overflow mail.

As Lindbergh's arrival was expected at 5 o'clock this afternoon only a small, but enthusiastic, crowd was on hand. American Minister Eberhardt presented Lindbergh to President Moncada this afternoon. Lindbergh desired no social functions on his behalf.

Lindbergh will leave at daylight tomorrow for Tela, Honduras.

Antipodes Flood Worst in Years

SYDNEY (N. S. W.) Feb. 10. (AP)—The worst flood in forty years is reported in Northwestern New South Wales. Ten inches of rainfall in some districts destroyed thousands of cattle and resulted in serious conditions in the business centers of Gloucester, Taree and Kempsey.

Twelve persons are marooned by the floods in the Royal Hotel at Gloucester. Two men were drowned in an attempt to swim to the hotel with a life line. All other attempts at rescue also have been unsuccessful.

WARNING GIVEN ON FOOD PERIL

Scientists Find Boiling of Spoiled Edibles May Not Kill Poison

BERKELEY, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—It is far better for housewives to throw away food suspected of spoilage than to take a chance of poisoning by boiling. In a report sounding this warning the Hooper Foundation for Medical Research of the University of California sets forth the result of lengthy experiments in which it has been demonstrated that boiling does not always kill the spores of botulinus and that sometimes the spores will develop later in the human body, conceivably causing a fatal infection.

Recent research by Dr. K. F. Meyer and George E. Coleman of the foundation has shown, the report states, that "even when as few as twenty-five of these spores freed from toxin, reach muscle tissue that has been devitalized or debilitated, they will develop and produce fatal poisoning in guinea pigs."

ONE KILLED, TEN INJURED, IN COLLISION

Los Angeles Man May Die as Result of Crash Last Night Near Hesperia

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 10.—One young woman was killed and ten other persons were injured badly when two automobiles collided at a road crossing near Hesperia last night. The young woman was Miss Gladys Thies, 22 years of age, daughter of William J. Thies, a building contractor of San Bernardino. She was in a car driven by her father.

The accident occurred when Thies drove onto the National Old Trails from Bear Valley highway just as another car containing six persons and driven by Clarence H. Hastings approached at a rapid speed from the north. The Hastings car struck the Thies machine squarely and the impact turned the latter car over eight times before it rolled into the ditch.

In the Thies car, besides Gladys and her father, were her mother and sister Adeline, and Mrs. E. V. Easley. All were injured badly. Mrs. Easley has eight broken ribs, besides serious cuts.

In the Hastings car besides the driver were Mrs. Hastings, Edward Kinsey, a prospector, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dailey. Kinsey, who lives in Los Angeles, has a fractured skull and may die. He had been given a ride by Hastings when his car broke down on the road near Victorville.

All of the injured were taken to the Victorville Hospital. The police were unable to determine whose fault caused the accident. Thies declared he made a stop before driving onto the main highway and Hastings disputed him. Blame will be fixed at the Coroner's inquest today, it is asserted.

LINCOLN SHRINE BILL OPPOSED

Ford's Theater Perpetuation Proposal Under Fire

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Ford's Theater, the historic old place where John Wilkes Booth fatally shot Abraham Lincoln, will not be preserved if Representative Underhill, Republican of Massachusetts, has his way.

Only the shell of the theater now remains. The balconies, seats and stage were removed many years ago. And Representative Yates, Republican of Illinois, is sponsoring a bill to preserve the building by fireproofing it and thus making of it both a national war memorial museum and a place where the Grand Army of the Republic may hold its meetings.

But Mr. Underhill is adamant in his opposition. He will consent to no bill which would, in effect, be a monument to a murderer, John Wilkes Booth.

Ford's Theater is across the street from the little brick house in which Lincoln died. This house contains the famous Oldroyd collection of Lincoln relics which the Federal government purchased last year at a cost of $50,000. The Yates bill provides for the transfer of these bits of Lincolnia in the remodeled theater.

Mr. Underhill's objection is answered by Ulysses S. Grant III, director of the public buildings and public parks of the national capital, who would have charge of the reconstruction of the theater.

"While I appreciate Mr. Underhill's abhorrence of the crime committed in this building, I believe it already occupies such an important place in history and is so associated in the public mind with Mr. Lincoln, that I doubt if any ignoring of the site and physical remnants would tend to efface the memory of the crime. In my opinion the reconstruction of the box and in a general way of the theater auditorium, together with the location of the relics there, would most suitably enshrine the collection," said Mr. Grant.

Alhambra Poloists Capture Overtime Game

DEL MONTE, Feb. 10. (AP)—Midwick defeated the Australian-Hawaiian freebooters, 11 to 10, today in one of the hardest-fought extra-chukker polo games ever seen here.

ERIC PEDLEY

The game was the first of the Pacific Coast championship (high goal flat) series, and as a result Midwick will play in Wednesday's semifinals. Tomorrow San Mateo plays Eastcott at 11:15 p.m., and San Mateo meets Greentree at 3 p.m. Finals were set for Friday.

The Anzac combination put up a great battle, and in general displayed better team work, except, perhaps, in the eighth and extra chukkers, against Midwick's individual stars. Except in the first period, they were ahead until tied in the sixth and again in the eighth chukker.

With the score tied both teams accelerated play, and the game was fast and furious enough to thrill the great crowd of fashionable spectators. El-

ALEX-PANTAGES CAPTURES RACE

Theater Man's Steed Wins Sprint Championship

Philpot Pilots Mount to Nab Rich Speed Handicap

Judge Schilling Second in Tia Juana Feature

TIAJUANA RACE TRACK, Feb. 10.—Alexander Pantages, named for and owned by the Pacific Coast theatrical magnate, is the new sprint champion of Tia Juana.

Thundering down the stretch this afternoon, as is his wont in racing, the 4-year-old colt raced to a length victory in the Speed Handicap, first of the major stake events on the program of the Tia Juana Jockey Club. It was the second successive victory in the stake for Pantages. Last year he won with Shasta Bullet.

Judge Schilling, owned by Rudolph Spreckels, got the place and Nusakan, New York sprinter from the stable of Gifford A. Cochrane, the show. Thirteen of the band of nineteen overnight nominees went to the post, Genie, Coffroth Handicap favorite; Witchmount, Forbis, Riffraff, Host and Sweep Out declining the issue.

Alexander Pantages first came into prominence as a 2-year-old. He was bred on the Meadowbrook ranch in San Diego county, a son of Bonn Homme and Peggy Martin. He raced well as a 2-year-old and climaxed the season with a victory in the Futurity, major event for the juveniles.

He carried the silks of the theatrical magnate for whom he is named, to victory in that stake, too.

The brown colt ran the six furlongs this afternoon in 1:11, within three-fifths of a second of the track record set by Nusakan earlier in the meeting. The track was fast. First money for the stake was worth $7400. Judge Schilling took $1250 for second, Nusakan $750 for third. The largest crowd on hand this meeting turned out for the renewal of the speed and roundly cheered the band of thirteen starters as they paraded to the post.

The start was delayed for several minutes largely due to the antics of Conquistador, from the C. B. Irwin stable, which has twice been barred from racing for bad post action. Nusakan and Eddie Ahearn joined in the trouble but Starter Marshall Cassidy finally got all but Conquistador away to a good start. Conquistador was left flat-footed at the post and never raced after his field.

Nusakan broke on top of the band but Judge Schilling, on the rail, dashed to the front at once. At the half he had a lead of half a length with Nusakan second, Henrietta Wildair third and Old Kickapoo fourth. Eddie Ahearn, Dr. Wilson, Old Dutch, Alexander, Pantages, Grier of Spain, Alto, Begorra and Oh Say followed.

At the far turn Judge Schilling had stretched his lead to a length and a half with Nusakan still second and the rest of the band holding their positions, too. But rounding the turn into the stretch things began to happen. Judge Schilling held his lead with Nusakan second but Henrietta Wildair began to tire and Eddie Ahearn moved up into third and Alexander Pantages moved from eighth to fourth. Old Kickapoo dropped back to fifth.

Into the stretch the field thundered. Judge Schilling, on the rail, hung on gamely with Nusakan closing up. Almost in the center of the track came Alexander Pantages. He was in the clear with free running and he soon thundered to the front to draw out into a length lead at the wire. Judge Schilling hung on for the place and Nusakan the show.

NURMI QUITS MILE RUN

Plans to Confine His Running Activities to Longer Races Following Defeat

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Paavo Nurmi, once the "Phantom Finn" at any distance you could name, quite possibly has run his last ed by Ray Conger, Illinois in the Rodman Wanamaker mile at the Millrose games last night seemed to demonstrate conclusively that the Flying Finn no longer has the speed and stamina every good miler needs for his finishing spurt.

At the longer distances there is little doubt that Paavo will outrun any rival on this second American invasion unless his from Sweden, Edvin Wide, But at distances under the mile Paavo no longer is Flying Finn who made track history on America's indoor tracks four years ago.

NO ALIBI

There could be no alibi for Nurmi's decisive defeat. He ran his own race but it was not enough—not by some yards. After setting the pace from the start, Nurmi found he did not have the "kick" left to match Conger's whirlwind spurt, half a lap from the tape. Past the fading Finn Conger swept, widened his lead with every stride and won, going away, by a dozen yards, while 15,000 spectators roared acclaim.

It must have been a bitter dose for Nurmi to swallow. Conger's time of 4:17 2-5 was more than five seconds back of the world's record Nurmi set four years ago in winning the same event. That record—4m. 12s.—still stands although Paavo is forced to share it with another

HORTON SMITH TRIUMPHS

Joplin Youth Defeats "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn in Duel on Pensacola Links to Nab Open Title

PENSACOLA (Fla.) Feb. 10. (AP)—Skillful putting enabled Horton Smith, 21-year-old Joplin, Mo., professional, to emerge the victor from a duel with "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn today in the Greater Pensacola open golf tournament. Smith won with a 274, ten strokes under par for the seventy-two-hole grind, while Mehlhorn was five strokes behind.

Gene Sarazen, New York, shot a 282 to rank third, and Henry Cotton, British professional, was fourth with 283. Tied in the next group with 284's were Al Espinosa, Chicago; Bobby Cruickshank, New York, and Tommy Armour, Washington.

BILL MELHORN

Densmore Shute, Columbus, O., with 285, and Ed Dudley, winner of the Los Angeles pro, with 287, ranked next while William Burke, New York, 288, completed the list in the 280 class.

The rest of the heavy field found the going harder and such luminaries as Joe Kirkwood, Albany, Ga.; Mike Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., and John Dawson, Chicago amateur, fell into the 290's.

It was a see-saw journey to the

LAURITZEN RUNS FAST CENTURY

Stanford Dash Star is Clocked in 9 4-5s. For Early Season Race

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 10.—With John Lauritzen prancing through the 100-yard dash in the phenomenal early season time of 9 4-5s., Coach Dink Templeton had his varsity trackmen going through swift paces in practice last week-end. The field performers have not yet got into good shape, as the cold and often wet weather prevailing has been even more unfavorable to them than to the runners.

ROSS NICHOLS.

While Lauritzen's rapid century was the best work shown by any of the tracksters, Capt. Ross Nichols took the high hurdles nicely in 15 1-5s. Although Ward Edmonds, ordinarily a pole vaulter, has been trimming the skipper in the sticks, he took but third in last Friday's race, placing behind Podge Smith, a sophomore.

John Morrison clicked off 50 4-5s. in the 440-yard run, beating out Maynor Shove, Hay, a freshman, and Bob Syer, in that order.

Elkus won a negligible mile in 4m. 47s. Alex McKinnon, the leading miler, did not run.

Hector Dyer, last year's freshman star, pressed Lauritzen closely in the 100. Al McDermott was third in this memorable race.

FERET AMATEUR AGAIN

PARIS, Feb. 10. (AP)—Raoul Feret, member of Charley Pyle's traveling tennis circus of several years ago, was reinstated as a bona fide amateur by the French Amateur Tennis Federation today.

A MIGHTY name in golf is Smith, mightier than any other, with the possible exception of Jones. Could the Smith golfers beat the Jones golfers? I don't mean to match all the golfers named Smith against all the golfers named Jones—that would be too much of a good thing—but for the four or five best Smiths to tangle with the four or five best Joneses.

Horton Smith is the latest sensation among the golf professionals. Until this winter he was an unknown pro in Joplin, Mo. He jumped into fame overnight, so to speak, by beating Walter Hagen by one stroke in the $2500 Catalina Island open tournament, and since then he's been going like a house afire. Sir Walter, the Great, chose his conqueror as a member of the United States Ryder Cup team, which plays at Leeds, Eng., in April.

Macdonald Smith of Great Neck, N. Y., cannot be on the Ryder Cup team, as he was born in Carnoustie, Scotland. Mac was winning American tournaments back in 1910, and his recent feat of successfully defending his title as winner of the 1928 Los Angeles $10,000 open was no small feather in his cap. He would oppose Bobby Jones in the Smith-Jones tournament, and might win—but probably wouldn't. Horton Smith would oppose Dick Jones, semifinalist in the 1925 United States amateur tournament. Alex Smith, Mac's older brother, and United States open champion in 1906 and 1910, would oppose Rowland Jones, famous English pro of hole-in-one fame. As to the rest of this Smith-Jones feud, pair the competitors as you see fit and toss a coin to decide the winner.

WHITE POLO TEAM COPS GAME ON MIDWICK FIELD

BY FRANK ROCHE

Despite a Garrison finish put on by Neil McCarthy, who looked like a Tommy Hitchcock for one chukker, the Midwick White poloists, led by Howard Paddock, defeated the Midwick Purples, captained by McCarthy, yesterday in an overtime game by a 12 to 11 score at the Midwick Field. McCarthy came through with three goals in the eighth period to tie the game and it looked as though the Purples were destined to cop the honors but Steen Fletcher bounced into the limelight in the ninth chukker with a goal that cinched the game for the White players.

The winning goal was scored in the first two minutes of play of the overtime period. Fletcher, who had refereed the first two chukkers, came into actual competition when Bob Honeyman was injured in a spill in the fourth period. Honeyman was thrown from his pony and almost fatally injured in this session. He was carried from the field with a badly splintered right ankle and Fletcher took his place.

The Purple team had spotted the White three goals at the start of the game but the Whites played better polo until the last few chukkers when Neil McCarthy and Capt. White got going.

At half time the Whites led by an 8 to 7 score.

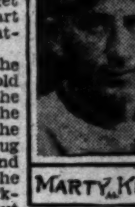
ANGEL BATTERY MEN BEGIN WORK AT WRIGLEY FIELD

Krug Expects Twenty-two Athletes for Workout; Jacobs, Burkett Get Early Start on Regs

BY BOB RAY

Although the weather for the past few days has been decidedly much better for ice skating instead of baseball, Marty Krug will gather a gang of about twenty-two Angels out at Wrigley Field this morning to begin spring training.

All but Ray Jacobs and Howard (Cisco Kid) Burkett will be either pitchers or catchers at today's muscle-loosening fiesta, the two infielders having been granted permission to get an early start with the batterymen.



MARTY KRUG

Because of the present cold snap and the dampness of the grass in the mornings, Krug does not intend to start the opening workout until about 11:30 o'clock this morning. The first training session will last not more than a couple of hours, for about all the athletes can do today is take a few jaunts around the park, unloosen pitching arms with about fifteen minutes of throwing and engage in the customary "high-low" games.

Following is the list of athletes due to report today:

Pitchers—Glenn Gabler, "Big Casino" Peters, "Deacon" Plitt, Tex Weathersby, Harry (Chesley) Child, Jack Jacobs, Russ Miller, Augie Walsh, Carl Holling, Red Roberts, Clyde Barfoot, Bart Smith, Cam Templeton and Charley Moncries.

Catchers—Truck Hannah, Gus Sandberg, Dallas Warren, O. K. Norton, Dusty Simmons and Jack Garrison.

Infielders—Ray Jacobs and "Cisco Kid" Burkett.

All of the above players are expected to be on hand for today's session, but it is not certain whether Plitt, Miller, Walsh and Child, who are driving here, will arrive in time.

Child, who flivvered across the country last summer and got a chance with the Angels under the name of Chesley, is driving back from Baltimore in the same rickety Ford and there is some doubt as to whether he will again be able to make the ancient gas-chariot deliver with a third transcontinental journey. Child signed with the Angels under the name of Chesley so he could continue his studies at Loyola College in Baltimore and still play football.

Carl Holling, veteran righthander, who was with the Missions last season, claimed on option by the Boston Red Sox and later sold by them to the Angels, has not yet signed his contract with the Angels but is

PORTLAND BOSS UNEARTHS FIND

Claims League Constitution Nullifies Patrick Act

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 10. (AP)—Thomas L. Turner, president of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League, dived today in that mysterious document, the league constitution, and came up clutching a forgotten amendment that seems to reopen the entire war between the Los Angeles Angels and the other clubs over the much-disputed matter of admitting women free to all baseball games at Wrigley Park.

JOE PATRICK

William Wrigley, owner of the Los Angeles team, insists on letting the women in free to all games played at home by the Angels. The other owners have insisted that unless he pays them what their share of such attendance would be, as he did last year, he can let them in free only on specified "Ladies Days," which the league limited to not more than three in any week.

The Angels seemed to have won the war, however, when J. H. Patrick, their president, emerged a couple of weeks ago from a study of the constitution by quoting a provision thereof, the first part of section 41, authorizing each club owner to set the admittance charge for women in his own park. Los Angeles chose to set it at nothing.

There seemed no answer to that. Patrick's accompanying ultimatum to the stunned magnates that the Los Angeles club not only would admit women free, but would no longer pay pro rata for their attendance, went unchallenged.

Now comes Turner's new constitutional "discovery," which he declares nullifies "the previous find" by Patrick.

To put a complicated matter into terms of one syllable, the Turner discovery is based on a motion by Cal Ewing, adopted at the Coast League meeting here in 1926, under

Caltech and Occidental Track Squads in Southern California Conference Meet Satur

BENGAL SQUAD DOPED TO WIN

Tigers Too Well Balanced for Track Foes

Loss of Hunt and Petty Ruins Sagehen Team

Pipal Uncovers Javelin Ace and High Jumper

(This is the seventh and final article dealing with the track and field situation in the Southern California Conference.)

BY BRAVEN DYER

On the basis of meets held in the Southern California Conference last Saturday we see no reason to change our prediction voiced in these columns a week week ago, that Occidental will retain the championship won last year. On the contrary the great all-around strength of Joe Pipal's team was only emphasized the more.

"FOX" STANTON.

The Tigers start defense of their title next Saturday, invading Caltech for their opening dual meet for the year. Fox Stanton's team, triumphant over Redlands last Saturday, will give Oxy a fair battle in some events, particularly the hurdles, two-mile, mile, hammer and broad jump, but the well-balanced Bengals should romp home victorious.

Since writing the opening article of this series a week ago several matters have come to the writer's attention which necessitate a change or so in the original dope. None of the changes, however, affect Oxy's strength; on the contrary they only go to increase the power of Pipal's outfit.

HOWARD RUNNING

In the 100-yard dash Occidental's prospects have brightened with the appearance of Cecil Howard, former Compton boy. He ran the quarter Saturday, favoring an injured leg as he galloped. In contrast to the acquisition of Howard, Pomona lost Chuck Petty, who was counted on to run right behind Harvey Bear this year.

Petty's going was bad enough but Coach Strehle suffered a worse blow when the faculty ax also deprived him of Quincy Hunt, his best hurdler, and a boy who was a potential first-place winner. Loss of these two men pretty definitely sinks Pomona.

In the 440 it develops that Hampson of Redlands, who won the frosh all-conference last year in 52s. flat, has not left college as Coach Cushman told us. He ran at Caltech Saturday and won in 52 4-5s. Also, Fairbanks of Occidental is still on hand in this event. He placed second in the Eagle Rock meet Saturday. It is expected that Appleton will be used in this race by Pipal, along with Fairbanks.

As for the 880, Taylor of Redlands must be given serious consideration. His 2m. 3s. in early February indicates considerable running ability.

In the mile, Kleinbach of Caltech, running 4m. 43s. in his opening meet, gave promise of developing into a fine distance man.

We had neglected to include Crawford of Occidental in the original list of distance runners. He will concentrate on the two-mile for Pipal's team.

The hurdling situation is unchanged, except for Pomona's loss of Hunt.

LOVE BOBS UP

Occidental made another gain in the high jump when a chap named Love bobbed up to clear 6ft. 3-8in. to tie Hall for first place. This gives Pipal two consistent 6ft. men and a potential second-place athlete in Larson. Love wasn't mentioned before as we didn't know he existed.

Lufkin's heave of 133ft. in the hammer indicates that he will have things pretty much his own way in this event. We are told that his teammate, Westlund, has bettered 132ft. already this year, which will probably give Caltech first and second in this event in practically every meet. Klein of Oxy, originally listed in the hammer-throwing group, is now out of school.

Just to round out his team to perfection Pipal trotted out Ed Carrey, a second-rate javelin tosser in the past, and had him hurl the spear 176ft. Saturday. This will make the favorites, Peterson of San Diego and Bishop of Pomona, hump to win.

As for various relay teams this year it is too early to tell what will happen. Occidental has a splendid start with Appleton, Howard and Fairbanks, while Pomona, with Cobb, Dyer, French and McKnight will not be easy to beat. Hampson, Moore, Taylor and Smith give Redlands a pretty steady combination, capable of running right around 3m. 24s. or better later in the season.

SERAPHS BEGIN TRAINING WORK

expected to be out at Wrigley Field today. Holling is satisfied with the salary terms offered him but is holding out for a bonus if he wins fifteen games. The Angel officials can't see the bonus angle, for they figure that Holling should win fifteen games for the local club if he is to be a help to them.

Among the new faces among the Angel pitching talent this season will be Walsh and Miller, purchased from the Phillies, Roberts, who was bought from Art Griggs's Wichita club, Holling, and two recruits from Fresno, Cam Templeton and Charley Moncries. The rest of the Angel hurlers were with Krug at some stage of last year's campaign.

THIRTY-EIGHT ROUNDS OF BOXING ON OLYMPIC CARD

Enthusiasm is holding its own in boxing here. The fact that the Olympic show Tuesday night already looks like a sellout seems to prove that.

BERT COLIMA

Earl Mastro and Kid Francis sold out two weeks ago. Tommy Loughran and Armand Emanuel sold out a week ago seven days in advance.

The arena will this week to see be packed again the thirty-eight rounds of boxing which include three ten-rounders and two four-rounders. This is the biggest program Matchmaker Wad Wadhams has tossed in at the new bargain prices.

The fact that Bert Colima is headlining against Johnny Gill, a boy who claims a newspaper decision over Mickey Walker, looks heavy enough by itself.

Colima is a heavy favorite over the newcomer, who has also fought Jack Britton, Ted (Kid) Lewis, Paul Berlenbach and Jimmy Slattery.

The angle on Gill is that he isn't as supple as he once was. But in the last year he peeled off eight knockouts in eleven starts. So Johnny must still retain his athletic poise and figure.

Colima is out to lick the world this year—then probably retire and manage boxers. At least that is his present idea of things. It is a foregone conclusion one of his big 1929 bouts will be against Ace Hudkins.

Under Colima and Gill is a match which is a rousing little natural. Baby Sal Sorio and Joe Mancillas will clash in a ten-round bout for the 130-pound Mexican championship.

That one is an even-money bet. Sal with his punch and his color faces a boxer of excellence. Mancillas hasn't lost more than once or twice in his entire career, which is as long as Sal's.

If Colima and Gill were scratched off the bill Sal and Mancillas could headline just as well as not. That's how important their battle is.

The extra is the third ten-rounder between Ernie Owens and Bill Thayler. There are times when one thinks Owens can't help but break into high-kite heavyweight society. The big fellow hasn't found himself yet. All heavies are slow in climbing except Armand Emanuel, who came up in two years and now rates with any of them.

Art Winch is expected back here tomorrow. He will handle Ernie Peters, the Chippewa Indian, against Speedy Dado a week from Tuesday.

ELLSWORTH VINES AND HELEN MARLOWE BEATEN

Esther Curtis and Gerald Bartosh provided the lone upset in the mixed doubles event of the Los Angeles tennis championships yesterday afternoon at Harvard and Sixty-second streets in defeating Ellsworth Vines and Helen Marlow, boys' and girls' singles champions, respectively, of Southland high schools, in the semifinal bracket, 2-6, 10-8, 6-3.

The doubles tilt proved a hectic see-saw battle. The losers ran through the initial set with comparative ease at 6-2. Games went with service in the second frame until the count stood at 10-10, when a net-cord ball from the racket of Bartosh returning a drive of Vines after a long rally cost the losers the second set at 12-10. Miss Curtis and Bartosh were too fast and accurate for the prep stars in the final set which the former combination won by virtue of brilliant volleying and driving on the part of Bartosh.

Miss Marjorie Gladman of Santa Monica, seventh ranking player in the United States, and Ben Gorchakoff, Los Angeles Athletic Club star, gained the other final bracket. Miss Gladman and Gorchakoff eliminated Gladyz Patz and Jack de Lara in the semis by a 7-5, 6-3 score. Earlier in the afternoon this combination had conquered Frank Gove and Mary Taylor of Occidental College, 6-4, 9-7, in one of the feature tilts of the day.

The summary:

AMATEUR PUCK WAR LOOMS

Declaring in no uncertain terms that his Scot Clan ice hockey players have been "shackled" into defeat by President Kester and other officials of the league, Manager Gordon Dewar vehemently asserted last night that he will order his players to "open up" and disregard all warnings when they meet the Union Oilers tonight.

The teams clash at the Palais de Glace rink. It is claimed by Dewar that his Highland pucksters have been so "bullied" by threats of suspension if they display unnecessary roughness in checking, that they have not played up to standard lately. Dewar says his team will overlook all threats of suspensions this evening and will smash their way to victory.

STAUBER IN PERFECT SHOT

The sun tried its best yesterday to penetrate the pall of smoke that filled the air of Southern California from the smudge pots in the citrus orchards. That, together with a head wind that came driving over the mountain range that was white with snow caused fingers to stiffen and eyes to water, but under these drawbacks a wonderful turnout of trapshooters gathered at the Los Angeles Gun Club traps to battle for the five prizes on display.

Stauber was in wonderful form and smashed 100 targets straight in the century shoot. E. V. Minock, Fred Mastie and Gus Backer accounted for 98 each.

A registered tournament will be held on the local grounds next Friday, Saturday and Sunder.

FAILURE OF SHELBY FIGHT NO REFLECTION UPON TOWN IN OPINION OF TEX RICKARD

(This is the only autobiography written by Tex Rickard. It was prepared in collaboration with Bozeman Bulger, for publication exclusively for The Times and The North American Newspaper Alliance. Shortly before Rickard's death he discussed with Bulger plans for publication of these memoirs in book form. Following is the thirtieth installment of the autobiography, which is appearing in daily chapters.)

BY TEX RICKARD

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

I have a letter from the editor of a prominent western newspaper asking me to explain in these memoirs what, in my opinion, accounted for the famous Shelby fight between Dempsey and Gibbons being a financial failure, while that at Goldfield, also a small place, was a big success. Often I have been asked that.

TEX RICKARD

As a matter of fact there was no similarity between the events. The failure was no reflection on the town of Shelby. Nobody could have made that fight a financial success under the circumstances.

To begin with the promoters did not select the right attraction, one that people throughout the country were eager to see. Evidently the officials of the American Legion as well as the townspeople figured on the drawing ability of Dempsey without regard to his opponent. At that particular moment Gibbons was not in the limelight. To illustrate—the thousands who went to the Carpentier-Dempsey battle were just as eager to see Carpentier as Dempsey. The psychology of the Shelby affair was wrong.

NOT FAIR TO PEOPLE

It is not fair to the Shelby people to compare their match with the Gans-Nelson fight at Goldfield. Their fight had to be ten times as good to get an even break.

Those who have made fun of the Shelby scrap apparently did not consider the purse. The promoters of the Shelby event offered $300,000, as against $30,000 at Goldfield. The $270,000 makes quite a difference. The promoters showed more gameness than judgment.

In brief, the Shelby people didn't have a good card, the town didn't have enough population and the promoters offered entirely too much money. It did not figure to be a success from the start.

Another thing: We staged the Gans-Nelson fight primarily to attract attention to the town of Goldfield. I thought we had overstepped the bounds in offering $30,000. Now these people figured on making some money as well as getting publicity. They offered $300,000. The answer should be obvious.

Always I have thought the criticism of Jack Kearns in insisting on the terms of the contract being carried out a little unfair. Kearns did not seek this fight. He acted for Dempsey in signing the contract. Naturally, he felt it his duty to act for Dempsey in seeing that all obligations were met. That fight, however, was none of my affair. Perhaps it does not become me to discuss it further.

WILLARD HARD HITTER

Another reader of these memoirs has asked me to give my candid opinion regarding the toughest fight Jack Dempsey ever had among his early title battles.

"There has been considerable discussion," he says, "whether Firpo or Carpentier gave him the most difficulty."

Only one man can answer this question authoritatively — Jack Dempsey.

The champion answers it for me in his own words:

"Strange as it may seem, Jess Willard hit me the hardest punch I ever received, in the second round of our fight at Toledo, in 1919. It must be remembered that I had knocked him down seven times and he was practically out in the first round. Everybody, including myself, thought the big fellow was gone and that it was merely a question of flattening him with a punch or two in the second round.

"In my eagerness to put over a knockout. I rushed at Willard wide open in the second round. Willard was desperate. He put everything he had on a right uppercut that caught me flush on the chin. I thought somebody had walloped me with a policemen's club. I saw a million lights and then everything went dark. It was only for an instant, I felt pretty shaky for a minute, but my head soon cleared and I was all right before the round ended. If Willard could have followed up his advantage with another punch like that while I was shaky he might have won that fight.

"A funny thing about that punch is that Jack Kearns and the other seconds in my corner didn't think the punch had hurt me. I don't think anybody else at the ringside saw the effect of that uppercut. I know, though. Willard was big, heavy arms and they felt like logs when they dropped on you. He was a better fighter than he generally got credit for being. Willard was very active for a big fellow. He boxed well and was a straight and accurate puncher. Nobody knows better than me what terrific power he packed in those blows. I know because I stopped some of them.

NOT IN TROUBLE

"Carpentier didn't have me in any serious trouble in the second round of our fight in Jersey City. He tipped my head back with a couple of rights, and I knew I had been hit all right—make no mistake about that—but I wasn't really groggy. They didn't even make me hesitate. I was able to keep right on boring in, trying to put over a finishing punch."

"What about Miske?" Dempsey was asked.

"Say," he replied, smiling, "do you know that Billy Miske gave me plenty of trouble in our first fight in St. Paul back in 1918? Miske was at his best then, having beaten Fred Fulton, Jack Dillon, Carl Morris, Gunboat Smith, Harry Greb, Kid Norfolk and Battling Levinsky. Most of my fighting up to that time had been with second and third raters.

"I wasn't the finished fighter that Miske was. Billy was aggressive and he swarmed over me like a flock of bees in the early rounds. Luckily for me he wasn't a knockout puncher, but his blows cut and bruised. He certainly could take it. I socked him on the chin with everything I had in the third and seventh rounds, but he shook it off and came back at me like a tiger.

"A fellow named Jack Downey, from the Pacific Coast, also gave me plenty of grief during my early career as a fighter. We fought three times. He got the decision over me in two of these battles but I knocked him in the third."

In another chapter I will tell of another blow—one that Dempsey will long remember. I must reserve it, though, for my discussion of the famous Firpo fight.

Daro Dickering for Bouts on Next Mat Card

"Carnation" Lou Daro, local wrestling promoter, announced yesterday that he expected to stage another all-star mat show at the Olympic, February 20. Pete Sauer, the Glendale mat star, who blocked, socked and grappled his way to a sensational victory over Dick Daviscourt here last week, and John Spellman, who beat Jack O'Malley in the other big bout on the same card, are in line for matches on this card, it was stated.

LOU DARO.

Daro had originally planned to match these two mat stars for his feature event February 20, the winner to meet Champion Gus Sonnenberg here next month. Yesterday, however, two other topnotchers, Paul Jones, the Texan torso twister, and Stanley Stasiak, 250-pound Polish giant, who is rated as equal in strength and ability to Marin Plestina, Hans Steinke, Ed Lewis or Joe Stecher, asked to be given a chance to compete for a title match.

The promoter declared he may act favorably upon the request of these two wrestlers. Others in addition to this quartet seeking a match here on the next card are Nick Lutze and Dick Daviscourt. Jim Londos, the Greek mat Adonis, who arrived in this country last week after a six months' stay in Europe, and who was wired an offer for a big match here, cannot make the trip west at this time, it was reported.

which women specifically are required to pay regular admittance prices to Coast League ball parks on opening day of the season, on Saturdays and Sundays of each week, and on holidays.

"The Los Angeles club can let women in free on all the other days, if it insists, and we can't stop it," said Turner, "but under this provision it cannot do so on Saturdays and Sundays nor any opening game of the season, nor on any holiday."

"That ought to end the controversy because another provision of the constitution, section 51, provides that 'any section of this constitution may be suspended or rendered non-applicable by a three-fourths vote of the league.'

"That is what happened when the Ewing motion was adopted November 9, 1926. Adoption of this motion automatically suspended section 44, under which the Los Angeles club bases its recent action.

"I have telegraphed the facts to Harry A. Williams, president of the league and expect the fur to fly shortly. We have them hooked."

SCOTS ANNEX SOCCER TILT

Sons of St. George Eleven Upsets Magyars After Trailing in Torrid Game on Loyola Field

Sons of Saint George and Scots were returned victors in the feature games yesterday of the Los Angeles Soccer League and the two teams with their wins crept nearer to the second place elevens who both dropped their fixtures.

Magyars were unlucky to lose to Sons of Saint George, 1-0, after controlling the play for the better part of the two halves. L.A.A.C. lost to Scots, 1-0, the teams going scoreless in the first half with the Mercury players grabbing the lead shortly after the restart. Pasadena A.C.C. collected two points from Vikings by a large score, 7-3. Hollywood ran roughshod over the lowly Oilers, 5-0.

Scots maintained their third position alongside of Sons when the Stevens men downed the Los Angeles Athletic Club eleven 4 to 1 in the Rose Bowl. Neither team found the net the first half, L.A.A.C. taking the lead shortly after the rest interval when Bullock scored. Scots came back to tie the score when Summers put the teams level with a smart piece of footwork. Scots from then on were the masters of the situation and ran in their three remaining goals in quick order.

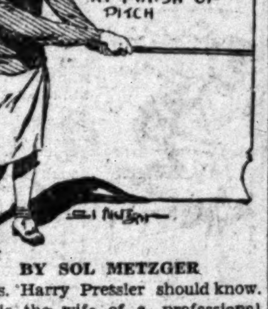
Pasadena Athletic Club gathered in their first victory in a few weeks, having a clear margin over the weakened Vikings, the final score reading 7 to 3. The winners were at all times the better team and with their forward line showing rapidly improved form the Crown City team look like making their opponents step lively in the future engagements.

Richfield Oil took another tumble when Hollywood ran off winners, 5 to 0, in the opening game at Loyola Field. Cleve and Wittingham scored in the initial half, while Horsfal, via a penalty, and McDill were responsible for the second half goals. Morrison, a new referee from Vancouver, handled the latter game and he officiated in a capable manner.

Mercury retained their lead in the Southern California League with a 4-to-0 win over the lowly Italians. Rangers downed the Victoria 2 to 1 in the keenest battle of the day, Johnny Tucker scoring both of the winner's tallies, while Steudle netted for the Vics.

All the league fixtures brought out interesting batles with the results as follows: Scandia 1, United 2; Inglewood 1, Germania 2; Teutonia 0, Santa Monica 5; Caledonias 3, Rovers 2.

Mrs. Pressler Gives Advice



MRS. HARRY PRESSLER BELIEVES IN HITTING THROUGH—HERE SHE IS AT FINISH OF PITCH

BY SOL METZGER

Mrs. Harry Pressler should know. She is the wife of a professional golfer and the women's western champion. And she states that the all-important thing in golf, for players of both sexes, is to hit through the shot. That's just what she does in the accompanying sketch, which shows her hitting through a pitch and run, a short shot that is played with an iron of little loft.

Long has the theory been extant that we learn our golf backward. That is, we start with the driver and work down to the putter, whereas we should begin the other way. If we do, the belief is rather rampant to the effect that we would then learn the value of hitting through on the short shots, habituate the swing to a groove and finally develop it for the full shots.

This week I want to stress the importance of hitting through and of hitting crisply even on short shots. There is no better way of getting at the subject than to take up the mashie or pitch shot with its accompanying backspin or "stop." So, tomorrow we'll start with Al Espinosa playing it.

Putting is half the game. Sol Metzger has prepared a fine leaflet on "Putting," which he will send free to any reader sending stamped, addressed envelope. Address The Times.

MIDWICK FOUR BEATS ANZACS

mer Boeseke made the last and winning tally, soloing the ball perfectly almost the length of the field. It was the flashiest bit of play that the tall Midwick back dispensed during the entire afternoon.

Eric Pedley was the all-around mainstay of the Purple Midwickians, scoring four goals and playing a great defensive game as well. Hal Roach played brilliantly above his handicap rating.

ROACH GETS FIVE

Roach registered five goals. C. Skene at No. 3 appeared to be slightly the best man on the Hawaiian - Australian team, but E. Baldwin, S. Pearson and Fred Beveridge, who substituted for the slightly injured Walter Dillingham, all played a great game, putting everything into it in every chukker.

Pearson chalked up four goals for the Anzacs, Skene three, Baldwin two and Beveridge one. At half time the free-booters were leading, 6 to 3, and prospects looked gloomy for Midwick. A burst of speed in the fifth netted a tally apiece by Roach, Pedley and Boeseke for Midwick, and things looked brighter momentarily for the Californians.

Then Pearson and Skene retaliated with a score each, leaving the score 8 to 6. Then Pedley put two more across in the following period to tie the score again.

BEVERIDGE TALLIES

Beveridge came through with a tally in the eighth. Roach scored again, but so did Pearson, and the bell found the score 10 to 10. Shortly after the ninth started, Pedley missed a free goal chance, but Midwick, undaunted, kept up a constant attack on the free-booters' goal until the visitors finally broke loose and got the ball back into Purple territory.

Then came Boeseke's great play and the winning goal.

crown for Smith. After seeing Mehlhorn lead the procession with a snappy 66 on the first eighteen holes, Smith came back to take leadership with 136 at the end of the first thirty-six, Mehlhorn carding 138. Today, at the fifty-fourth, Smith and Mehlhorn were tied with 206 strokes and Mehlhorn, who turned in a 68 for the third eighteen to clinch the tie appeared headed for the crown.

Then, Mehlhorn's putter failed and the young Missourian went one stroke up on the first hole of the last round. Smith was 2 up when they finished the fourth, taking a par 4, while Mehlhorn missed his putt for a 5. "Wild Bill" missed another putt on the fifth and Smith's par 4 brought him to a three-stroke advantage. On the long sixth, Mehlhorn looked good with a birdie 4, but Smith calmly laid down an eagle 3, sending him four strokes ahead. On the ninth and eleventh the youth added two more strokes. Thenceforth Mehlhorn was unable to do better than play even until the eighteenth, when he gained back one stroke with a birdie 3 after Smith missed a short putt.

Felix won the match for Hillcrest when he holed a 30-foot putt on the nineteenth green and Devine's shorter shot lipped the cup and failed to fall. It was a great finish to an exciting match, Devine rimming the cup for birdies on the four last holes after Jones holed a nice putt which evened matters on the fifteenth green.

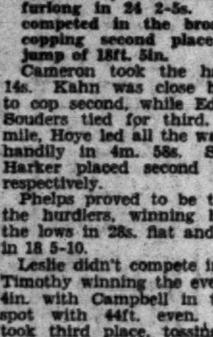
L. A. HIGH SHY VET TRACKMEN

Clif Reynolds Must Develop His Own Team

Houck and Foore Only Vets Back This Year

Leslie Shows Prowess at Tossing the Shot

With only two letter men returning, Coach Clif Reynolds's L. A. High track and field team is not expected to set the world on fire this year. Practically the entire championship Roman squad graduated last year, so Reynolds, in his first year as coach, has a tough row to hoe. Foore, half-mile star, and Red Houck, who gallops the quarter, are the two who will form the nucleus of this season's Roman team.



The Romans boast a weight star in Leslie, who failed to make a letter last year. Dame Rumor had the big Roman heaving the iron pellet out 50ft. recently. However, Leslie may not be eligible this year.

In the novice meet held last Friday, no exceptional times or distances were made. Possibly the reason for this was that neither Houck nor Foore, the only letter men, were barred from competing in the events in which they had made letters. Foore turned in a fast quarter, galloping the one-lap event in 53 3-5s. Houck entered the century in 10 3-5s. and the furlong in 24 2-5s. Red also competed in the broad jump, copping second place with a jump of 18ft. 5in.

Cameron took the half in 2m. 14s. Kahn was close behind him to cop second, while Edwards and Souders tied for third. In the mile, Hoye led all the way, winning handily in 4m. 58s. Sturdy and Harker placed second and third, respectively.

Phelps proved to be the best of the hurdlers, winning both races, the lows in 28s. flat and the highs in 18 5-10.

Leslie didn't compete in the shot, Timothy winning the event at 44ft. 4in. with Campbell in the second spot with 44ft. even. Chapman took third place, tossing the ball 40 ft.

In the highjump C. Smith ran off with first place honors, lifting himself over 5ft. 6in. Three lads tied for second at 5ft. 4in. The trio were Doocz, Robbins and Rean.

The best broad-jumper on the squad will most likely be Johnson, who copped first place in that event with 20ft. 7in.

Limeburner took the pole-vault at 10ft. 9in. Sowens and Kawanamosa tied for second, both making 10ft. 6in.

Coach Reynolds has lined up a tough schedule for his team, planning the regular interclass for this Wednesday. The rest of the schedule follows:

February 16—City relay meet.
March 1—Manual Arts.
March 9—A.A.U. relays.
March 15—Poly High.
March 22—Hollywood.
April 5—Lincoln.
April 9—City meet tryouts.
April 13—City meet.
April 20—Southern California tryouts.
April 27—Southern California finals.
May 4—State meet.

FILIPINO BOXERS ON ALL PASADENA BOUTS

Filipino boxers as one-half of each of the five bouts on the Thursday night card, will be the novelty offered by Manager Morrie Cohan of the Pasadena Arena this week. The eight-round feature which will attract the most Pasadena attention is the final bout of the evening, between Dud Eades, fast climbing Crown City junior lightweight, and Tiger Napoleon, a Filipino who has made a good impression in previous bouts at the arena.

The other eight-round bout of the program will bring Benny Furrell against Babe Walker, at 120 pounds. Furrell is a great little Filipino who is well liked at Hollywood and the Olympic. There will also be three four-round bouts, each featuring a Filipino, as follows: Marcelino Ortega vs. Phil Blood, 140 pounds; Foster Manalo vs. Midget Gaudes, 112 pounds; Ceril Accuning vs. Louis Garcia, 112 pounds.

TRIPLETT VICTOR IN FRESNO AUTO RACE

FRESNO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Erna Triplett of Fresno won the 25-lap feature of a program of A.A.A. dirt track races here today. He covered the distance in 13m. 8 2-5s. Mel Kenealey and E. C. Woodford, both of Los Angeles, finished second and third.

In a five-lap match race between super-charger equipped mounts, Lou Moore edged out Babe Stapp. The winner's time was 2m. 45s.

SETS NEW SWIM MARK

Arne Borg, of Sweden, recently established a new world's record when he swam a half-mile in 10m. and 27s., at Sydney, Australia.

BRITISH BOWLERS IN DEBUT

The program and schedule for games for the British lawn bowling team, which is in California for the third international championship match, have been arranged, and were anounced yesterday by the Los Angeles Lawn Bowling Association.

The first test match of the American International Lawn Bowls Cup was played Saturday at Lakeside Park, Oakland, the Americans winning by one shot, the score, 62 to 61. The second test match is scheduled for next Saturday, the 16th inst., at Exposition Park, while the third will be played the following Saturday at Central Park, Pasadena.

The complete schedule for the British team, during its local stay, is as follows:

Today—Exposition Park.
Tomorrow—Exposition Park vs. Angelus Club.
February 13—Central Park vs. Pasadena club.
February 14—Exposition Park vs. Exposition Park club.
February 15—Beverly Hills vs. Beverly Hills club.
February 16—Exposition vs. American team (cup match.)
February 18—Raymond Hotel greens, Pasadena.
February 19—Exposition Park vs. L. A. Bowling Club.
February 20—Sightseeing.
February 21—Exposition Park vs. Angelus club.
February 22—Against native-born American bowlers.
February 23—Central Park vs. American team (cup match.)

Twelve men make up the British team, which hopes to lift the cup, which America has held during the two years of competition to date. Robert Brown of Gerrards Cross, Bucks, is captain, and Albert Male, Balham, Surrey, the secretary.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

SHIPPING COST CUT ANNOUNCED

Consignments from Midwest to Hawaii Affected

Lassco Line Responsible for New Arrangement

President McKinley Among Arrivals at Port

Shippers from the Middle West to Hawaii now are offered large rail rate savings to route their goods by way of the Los Angeles Steamship Company at Los Angeles, according to announcement yesterday by J. W. Trefry, freight traffic manager.

By arrangement with the International Forwarding Company at Chicago, shippers in the Mississippi Valley with less than carload lots may have their shipment consolidated with others at the Windy City and dispatched to ship's side here as carloads.

In most instances, it is said, the cost will be about half that of the usual less-than-carload rates. Rail rates up to 5000 pounds will be $2.50 for 100 pounds; from 5000 to 15,000 pounds, $2.25 for 100 pounds, and above 15,000 pounds the rate is $2 for 100 pounds.

Every Thursday special cars of the merchandise will leave Chicago to connect with the regular sailing of a Lassco ship on Saturdays of the week following—affording faster service to consignees as well as a financial saving.

Trefry said substantial savings now also are made available on practically all less-than-carload shipments as far north as Minneapolis, east to Cleveland, south to St. Louis and as far west as Omaha. Addition of Lassco ships, which now afford a regular sailing every Saturday for Hawaii, has proved of economic convenience to shippers, whose plans heretofore were constantly disarranged by breaks in sailings.

TRANS-PACIFIC SHIP HERE ON TRIP FROM ORIENT

The Dollar trans-Pacific liner President McKinley from the Orient, which dropped most of her passengers at San Francisco, continued here yesterday to disembark thirty-three travelers and drop 2000 tons of Asiatic freight.

Among the passengers was Capt. W. Bertholf, commander of the American naval shore guard in China for two years under Gen. Butler, accompanied by Lieutenant Commander W. A. Vogelsang and their wives. Capt. Bertholf is ill and was taken to the Naval Hospital at San Diego in an ambulance. Mrs. C. B. Moore, wife of the Shanghai manager of the National City Bank of New York, also landed here.

Thirty-four will take passage when the liner sails back for the Orient at noon today, including George A. M. Fuleiham, Los Angeles importer, and Charles A. Hayward, president of the Hayward Lumber Company of Los Angeles, bound around the world with Mrs. Hayward.

Cargo off here included 500 tons of frozen Albacore caught off Japan and shipped to Los Angeles Harbor canneries; rubber, spice, rice, hardwood, hemp and canned Chinese vegetables.

Two thousand tons outbound will comprise 20,000 cases of sardines; oranges, old newspapers, oil-well machinery and an unusual amount of new tires.

Among the 500 passengers sailing from here this morning on the new Panama-Pacific electric liner Virginia are C. V. Brokaw, New York financier, and his California bride, Miss Louise N. Grace, daughter of W. R. Grace, founder of the shipping lines; Mrs. A. Macloon who, as Lillian Albertson, is known as a theatrical producer; E. M. Mills, vice-president of Zellerbach Paper Company, and Mrs. Herman Janss and Miss Louise Janss of Los Angeles.

Built originally as a comfortable cruising yacht, Mat Walsh's new forty-five-foot sloop, so far unnamed, exhibited such speed on her trial trip yesterday afternoon that Mat will race her. She has a fifty-seven-foot mast, Marconi rig and carries a jib and mainsail, but will have added a little racing rig. Resembling in hull design the famous schooner Diablo, her sections are like the Boston racing sloop Live Yankee, which showed such speed out here last year.

Following its election of directors, the H-10 Water Taxi Company announces election of the following officers: Nicholas Johnson, president; C. R. Bartell, vice-president; Robert W. Benson, secretary-manager; W. J. Truscott, treasurer, and C. E. Study, office manager. Ernie Bartell also is a director. The company now has eighteen speed boats and is contemplating more.

The power cruiser Anna C came in with her owner, W. H. Cain, and ten guests yesterday after a two weeks' cruise along the Mexican west coast.

The Hammond Lumber Company is reported to have purchased the steamer Calabasas from the Atlantic Fruit Company. No assignment has been announced, but she is expected to be entered in the coastwise lumber trade.

Redwood Line advices from New Orleans are that a new rate on cast-iron soil pipe will go into effect next Saturday. It will be 30 cents per 100 pounds released or 37 cents unreleased. Effective April 1, the line's rate on hardwood lumber will be 45 cents for 100 pounds.

Sagehen Five Ready to Face Tigers Again

CLAREMONT, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) Act II in the big Southern California Conference basketball game, starring Occidental and Pomona Colleges, will be staged Saturday night with the scene shifted from Glendale to Claremont. The two quintets clashed in the first of the games night before last, playing one of the most sensational games seen in the loop all year; next week's tussle, the finale, will be staged at Pomona and will probably officially crown the Tigers 1929 champions.

"Beefy" Heath

Next week's game winds up the long trail for Occidental, and will incidentally be the end of the rainbow with the traditional pot of gold awaiting them in the shape of their second consecutive Southern Conference basketball gonfalon. Pomona, on the other hand, has still one more game to play after the series with the Bengals. "Beefy" Heath's quintet goes down to the University of Redlands on the 23rd inst., and ends its season with the Bulldogs.

Providing all goes according to the dope, and there seems to be no reason for supposing that it will not, Occidental will hand Pomona another licking on the Sagehens' home court next Saturday. That will leave the Tigers undefeated for the year, and with a record of but one beating in two years. Last season they played a two-game series with Whittier College and dropped the second tilt, tying with the Poets for the title. This year they are undisputed leaders of the loop.

NEW DEEP-ZONE BONUS OFFERED

Huntington Beach Property Owners Hit on Scheme

To Raise $60,000 for Driller Tapping New Sand

Richfield Work in District Not Seeking Prize

While the Richfield Oil Company preparing to spud in a new well the old Huntington Beach field, meet drilling requirements on old lease," property owners in city are endeavoring to raise bonus fund of $60,000 to be placed trust and paid to the first oil company or individual operator who successfully completes a well in a deep zone in that field and the oil into the tanks.

Business has been somewhat dull Huntington Beach, according to reports, owing to uncertainty as to developments in the field. A or two ago many homes and buildings were mover to make for a town-lot drilling campaign which did not prove to be a success. Many property owners are convinced that there be still deeper producing sands the field and construction work been slow because investors been holding off to see what might happen.

DISCLAIMS AMBITION

When Richfield started building foundation for a well at Holly and Garfield streets, in the old field, two blocks from the original discovery, it was rumored that the well would search for deeper sands, but Richfield has been quoted to the effect that it is simply drilling the well to carry out drilling requirements on what was formerly the Bardeen lease and that the company is not ambitious to discover a new deep sand there at this time.

For the sake of getting a deep well drilled so that the future of that district can be determined, one property owner has agreed to post toward a $60,000 bonus and many others are said to have agreed to give such sums as $1000, and and $100. Sponsors of the bonus plan are arranging to make a canvas of the lot owners in order to sign up the full amount.

DISTRICT AFFECTED

Owners of 2053 lots have banded together on this project. The district embraced runs westward to Fourteenth street in the town lot section and extends east to the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks. The northern boundary of the district is Crest avenue.

Property owners on the East Side of Huntington Beach, where oil tests have been made but where no exceptional wells have been developed, are said to be considering a similar bonus plan. Approximately lots will be affected in that district if the plan is carried out.

SANTA FE OIL FIELD UNIQUE

Extent and Possibilities of District With Seven Producing Sands Uncovered Hard to Guess

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

With seven producing sands uncovered, the Santa Fe Springs oil field has proved that it still is capable of springing surprises. Although the last two oil sands—the Getty sand at 6400 feet and the Clark sand at 7320 feet, have not been given production tests, the industry is beginning to clear the decks for action, and many wells will this week be headed for the deeper zones.

Nobody knows how far out toward the edges of the field the Getty sand extends, but the Associated has demonstrated with forty-seven feet of sand that the Clark zone extends as far west as the old Meyer zone, and production departments assume that it extends as far east as the Meyer reached.

On this basis, with fifty feet of sand near the edges, the geologists are inclined to think that perhaps 200 feet will be found up in the town-lot area of the field, where the Wilshire, Richfield, General Petroleum, Globe Petroleum, Superior and many other companies have projects under way. The assumption is that the new zones will make the middle of the field rich again, with the picking fairly good around the sides.

DEEPENING PLANNED

Up in the town-lot area, where Getty, General Petroleum, Globe and many others are still drilling for the Nordstrom and Buckbee zones, General Petroleum is preparing to dismantle and remove ten or twelve wooden derricks over old producing wells, and shut the wells down for a while, in order to make room for new steel derricks which will be put up for the purpose of starting a new line of wells which are to go down to the deeper sands.

Away over on the west side, where the Shell Oil Company's Slusher wells appeared to be clear out of the Buckbee zone, Shell is starting two wells for the Clark sand which Associated and Richfield both apparently have picked up in paying quantities, the latter in its Elliott No. 2 hole at 7110 feet. Shell is already drilling deeper in Slusher No. B-1 and is preparing to deepen Slusher No. B-2 to a point between 7000 and 6500 feet. Other major companies are preparing to drill tests to the deeper zones.

Up in the town-lot area the Wilshire outfit has for some time been deepening two of its wells beyond the Buckbee zone, and Standard is going on down in its Carter No. 1, in the southwest end of the field, but none of these projects is far enough along to report picking up the new discoveries.

PROBLEM DIFFERENT

From an operating standpoint it is believed impossible to tie the deep sands together and produce the whole flock, as they do at Signal Hill and Ventura. The difficulty is that there are water sands between the various oil sands. It is thought, however, that if certain operators produce from the Buckbee, others from the Nordstrom, still others from the Getty and a certain group from the Clark sand there will be profit in it for many. As a matter of fact many projects have missed the Buckbee and Nordstrom, and will have to confine their activity to other zones.

Operators yesterday were of the opinion that the newly-discovered oil sands will inspire the drilling of 150 and perhaps 200 new wells stretched out across the main structure. Many wells that have been drilling for the Nordstrom and Buckbee sands will continue on down for the new sands, so it appears probably, in the opinion of many operators, that drilling at Santa Fe Springs will be a live issue next Thanksgiving instead of being shot to pieces by May 1.

Because of the great depths to which many of the operators are planning to go, it is expected that drilling will be much slower than it has been, and that the completion of wells will be delayed in proportion. This makes it appear that while a peak of 225,000 barrels for the Nordstrom and Buckbee zones is possible in March, the curve of decline from these sands will be such that the new wells from the deeper sands may not run the ultimate peak of the field much higher than that estimate, but that there will be a great deal of activity in this field throughout the entire year.

Gold Recovery Plant Operating on Lynx Creek

President L. V. Riddle of the Dividend Mining Company, operating the Lynx Creek gold placers twelve miles from Prescott, Ariz., in Los Angeles from the diggings last week, reports that the new gold recovery plant is now working one shift daily, it being the intention of the management to have two shifts working within the next ten days in handling about 1000 cubic yards of gravel daily having a content of approximately 45 cents in gold to the yard.

Mr. Riddle states that a most satisfactory preliminary run of the plant has been made, while the necessary surveys have been made for the purpose of adding fifteen feet to the height of the dam on the property, thereby increasing the capacity of the reservoir so as to permit the adding of another unit to the gold-recovery plant in the fall, giving a total capacity for the treatment of 2000 cubic yards of gravel daily.

TWO SHALE HILLS LOCATIONS STAKKED

SHALE HILLS, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Two locations have been staked for wells in the Shale Hills on the west side of Kern county. One is for L. F. Barnes, to be drilled on Section 17, 27-18, and the other is for M. M. Young, to go down on Section 17, 27-19. The Barnes No. 1 well on Section 13, 27-18, is standing idle at 615 feet.

NEW PLANS FOR BANNIE MINE AFOOT

Owners of Property in Arizona Preparing for Extensive Operations

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—The Bannie, one of the best-known properties of the Walker section, owned by R. M. Garrett and associates, is to be developed extensively, under charge of L. G. Blackmore. The 350-foot shaft is to be pumped and repaired and work will be pushed toward the northward.

Much milling ore is being brought out on the Squaw Peak property, near Camp Verde, according to President Edison Thacker. A fault has been found in following a promising lead and search is being prosecuted to find the connection. The ores carry mainly copper.

A 2000-ton mill is promised for the Bagdad property, west of Hillside on the Santa Fe branch, south of Prescott. Development is being prosecuted principally by churn drilling, outlining the large ore bodies and determining the grade of the ore.

A fifty-ton selective flotation mill is planned for the Money Metals Exploration property, near Walker, as well as installation of added surface machinery.

Three new levels, at 1000-foot intervals, are to be driven on its property, near Cleator, in Turkey Creek district, by the Howard Copper Company. Ralph Roseberry of Los Angeles, is manager, with F. W. Dryden in charge at the mine.

MINE FIELD ACTIVITY AT HIGH PITCH

Operations in District Around Phoenix Noted as Unusually Heavy

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Not for years has there been such activity in the Phoenix Mountains, north and northwest of Phoenix. The main work is that of the Maricopa Mining Company, which announces that $75,000 is available for exploration, to be pushed to at least 500 feet depth on the Jack White property.

The run of the vein, down to 340 feet, in no place is reported to sample less than $20 gold, with much of the ore running $56 and even higher. George Walker, geologist and engineer, is in charge, with Roy Barnes as superintendent.

Ralph Douglas of Seattle, treasurer of the Maricopa organization, has purchased the William Williams mine, adjoining the Jack White, and proposes to sink a 500-foot shaft, starting at once. The property has many openings, the deepest only 120 feet. The mine has been held by Williams for fifty years, with occasional income through operation of an arastra, which is to be preserved by the purchasers. The main claims are patented.

Ezra Thayer, formerly of the Monte Cristo, at Constellation, has purchased the Blue Bell mine in the Phoenix Mountains and states that he is prepared to spend $100,000 in development. The first work is to be a deep shaft.

Revival of Old Seventy-nine Mine Pending

RAY (Ariz.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive) Early rehabilitation of the old Seventy-nine mine, near Hayden, in the Banner district, is expected. A tract of 400 acres, with inclusion of the old workings, has been taken over by the Peacock-Johnson interests, in association with Shattuck-Denn associates. The announcement has been made by Archibald M. Chisholm of the Shattuck-Denn, who states that a main shaft is to be started at once and that immense profits are expected in the operation.

Near Hayden is the property of the Kullman-McCool Mining Company, which is reported to be preparing for the erection of a 100-ton mill, with a power plant. Ore blocked out is estimated by President C. F. Kullman at 250,000 tons, averaging $16.50. The corporation has headquarters at Best, Tex.

Manager A. L. Flagg states that about 6000 feet of exploratory work has been started on the property of the Hope Metals Company, east of Hayden, near the Gila River, especially for better opening of the Lawrence vein. The company has a power plant on the river.

GREENHORN SHIPPING ORE

The Greenhorn mine in Shasta county has just made a shipment of a carload of copper ore to the Tacoma smelter, which runs 38 per cent copper in addition to some silver and gold.

United Republic Making Headway on Milling Plant

Good headway is being made in the completion of the 150-ton daily capacity milling plant for the Century mine of the United Republic Mining Company, according to General Manager P. L. Mullen, who left Saturday for the mine in Mohave county, Arizona.

With the work of mill installation progressing satisfactorily, mine development is being steadily pushed during the same time, and with most encouraging results, Mullen reports. In the mine workings, he says, in excess of 100,000 tons of $25 ore, carrying silver, lead, copper and gold, await mill completion for treatment.

The annual stockholders' meeting of the company is scheduled to be held on the 23rd inst., at which the board of directors, among other subjects, will discuss the question of mine and mill production, the marketing of concentrates, and make final plans for mill and mill operation; the program when carried out, it is asserted, being calculated to place the company upon a regular earning basis.

BAKERSFIELD HOLE MAKING PROGRESS

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—The Standard Oil Company has reached a depth of 3360 feet in its Oak-street wildcat well at the northwestern limits of Bakersfield, and is now in coarse sand.

CANADIAN MINERALS INCREASE

All Previous Years' Productions Passed During 1928

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Canada surpassed all previous records in mineral production during 1928.

The total value of the mineral wealth produced during the year is placed at $271,000,000, which represents a gain of nearly 10 per cent over 1927, according to a bulletin issued by the department of colonization and development of the Canadian Pacific Railway, made public here.

"Few previous years can show the advance in mineral production made in 1928," the bulletin states. "The advance was general, in metals, nonmetals, and structural materials. Fifteen individual products reached output records never before attained. These were: Gold, cadmium, cement, coal, copper, gypsum, lead, lime, natural gas, and petroleum output values, sand and gravel, salt, stone, talc, soapstone and zinc.

"Among the metals, production records for 1928 show gold in the lead with 1,869,548 fine ounces valued at $38,647,000. Copper came second, with a value of $26,913,000; nickel third, with $21,394,000, and lead fourth, with $15,484,000. In nonmetallics coal led with an output of 17,785,265 tons valued at $63,600,000.

"Cadmium is a newcomer among Canada's minerals, and was produced in British Columbia for the first time in 1928. The mineral is used in alloys for plating and other purposes, and is bluish white in color.

"Canada's mineral industry is third in importance among the Dominion's primary industries, being exceeded in output value only by agriculture and forestry."

Arizona Mine Pay Checks to Show Larger

PHOENIX, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) The 15th inst. pay checks of 17,500 Arizona miners, smelter men, mill men and administrative employees will show increase of 5 per cent of the basic wage, this according to announcement just made by the principal copper-producing corporations. December 1 was a rise of 10 per cent, when copper passed the 15-cent mark. The last addition is to continue as long as copper remains at 17 cents or better. Recent quotations are at 17½ cents.

The bettered quotations for their product has caused stimulation of business conditions in the larger camps, though the principal producers still are loath to force the market, even for added profits. Production is expected to approximate past levels, though owners of small mines are beginning to ship to the custom smelters, which always are ready to co-operate in district development, while welcoming fluxing ores.

SCOUTS STILL ACTIVE

North Midway Area Continues Center of Interest

FELLOWS, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—The North Midway or Temblor Hills district is still the center of attraction for oil operators and land scouts due to an excellent showing in the Thomas H. Purman well on Sec. 12, 32-23. The hole is down 875 feet with a string of casing set at 779 feet.

While the well would probably produce at the present time, 150 barrels of 16 deg. gravity oil, it is asserted, the owners may go deeper to test the lower strata for higher gravity. The present oil sand is about 110 feet thick.

POSO CREEK OIL FIELD HUMMING

Drilling Activity Keeps Up at Lively Pace

Necessity for Shutting Off Output Ignored

Status of Various Projects in District Told

POSO CREEK, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Although the oil is being shut in every time a new well is brought in at Poso Creek, drilling activity continues at a lively pace and derricks are going up on both sides of Woody Road, which runs through the field.

The Reynolds Oil and Gas Company completed its No. 1 well on Sec. 6, 28-29, at Poso Creek, at 1576 feet and pumped the hole for a test, getting an average of 875 barrels daily, which has been shut in. The company set casing at 1365 feet and put in 171 feet of six-and-one-quarter-inch pipe.

The General Petroleum Corporation has completed another good well in the same field, and has shut it in. It is the Heisen No. 11, on Sec. 16, 27-28. It was completed at 1585 feet. The company is now grading for Glide No. 25 and has a rig up on Sec. 21, 27-28, for Glide No. 26. No production test was made.

The Ohio Oil Company has selected the location for its new well on Sec. 32, 27-27. It will be 660 feet north and 290 feet east from the south quarter corner of the section.

The Superior Oil Company has surveyed the site for its No. 1 well on Sec. 27, 27-28, at Poso Creek. The rig will go up at a point 100 feet south and 445 feet east from the west quarter of the section.

OUTPUT AT FRUITVALE POINTS UP

Haberfelde Well No. 1 Completed with Flow of 700 Barrels Daily

FRUITVALE, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Interest in Kern oil development swung back to the Fruitvale area during the week when the Haberfeld No. 1 well on Sec. 21, 29-27, just southwest of the Pacific Eastern Production Company's discovery well on Sec. 21 came in with a flow estimated at 700 barrels a day. The well has settled down to a steady flow of about 400 barrels, field reports indicate.

The strike was made on property recently acquired by George Haberfelde but the well was drilled by a group of Los Angeles men including Andrew Lucas, Jack Doyle and W. H. Janns, on a royalty basis. The well extended the Fruitvale producing area a considerable distance.

NEW STAMP MILL OUT

Inventor Claims Patent Device Far Superior to Old Type

A new type of stamp mill has been invented and is now being manufactured by A. Tetrauld of Sacramento. Fifty-pound stamps are used which the inventor claims will do the work of 1000-pound stamps. They are actuated by springs as well as gravity and four stamps have a capacity of twenty tons daily. He has developed a concentrator to use with his stamps.

HYDRAULIC MINE ACQUIRED

The Pushek hydraulic mine in the You Bet district of Nevada county has been acquired by C. D. Lucas of Hayward, who plans to resume operations as soon as arrangements can be made for storage of debris and for water.

KETTLEMAN OIL NEWS REPORTED

Six Wells Spudded in and Drilling in Field

Deepest Project Announced as Down 3100 Feet

Half-Dozen Others Rigging Up for Early Start

Six new wells have been spudded in and are drilling ahead in the Kettleman Hills field, with the deepest of the new holes down approximately 3100 feet, or about half the expected distance to the oil sands. Six other projects are rigging up to start drilling within two weeks, and several others are preparing to rig up.

After some delay occasioned by inclement weather the Texas Company's absorption plant began operation yesterday and is taking the gas output of the Milham Exploration Company's discovery well.

The General Petroleum Corporation's Ochsner No. 27-2, several miles southeast of the discovery well, is reaming at 5600 feet. The corporation's Ochsner No. 20-2 is rigging up rotary.

The Standard Oil Company's No. 8, east of and offsetting the discovery well, is drilling at 1642 feet. The company's No. 81, offsetting the Milham well on the south, is drilling at 3115 feet. The Standard's No. 61, southwest of the Milham well, was spudded in Thursday. The company is building rigs for its No. 41 and No. 58 wells.

The Marland Oil Company is rigging up its No. 2-13 and No. 12-8 wells, which will be spudded in early this week. These originally were designated Elliott No. 3 and Elliott No. 2, respectively.

The Milham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 2 is drilling at 1750 feet, after having had considerable trouble setting heavy casing. The company's Beal No. 1 is drilling at 900 feet and rotary is being rigged for Kennedy No. 1.

The Armstrong No. 1 of George F. Getty, Inc., is drilling ahead at 1800 feet.

The Shell Oil Company is pouring concrete and hauling boilers for its Armstrong No. 1.

The Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation has completed derrick for its well on Section 24, 22-17.

The Petroleum Securities Company is grading location for its well to be drilled on Sec. 35, 21-17.

KERN FIELD OPERATIONS ON UPGRADE

Forty-two New Wells Started in January and Fifteen During Week

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Forty-two new oil wells were spudded in during January in Kern county. Fifteen were started during the last week.

In the Midway field there were four wells started, three being on the property of the North American Oil Consolidated. They are No. 22, on Sec. 2, 32-23; No. 23, on Sec. 32, 31-24; and No. 38, on Sec. 30, 31-24. The other Midway well was the No. 6 of the Standard Oil Company on Sec. 9, 32-24.

The Union Oil Company began drilling three new wells, the No. 8 and No. 9 on Sec. 30, 28-21, in the Belridge field and the No. 4 on Sec. 10, 11-23 in the Sunset field.

Another Belridge well was the Berry Oil Company No. 92 on Sec. 30, 28-21.

The Pan American Petroleum Company spudded in two wells in the Kern River field, they being No. 5 and No. 10 on Sec. 22, 28-27. Another Kern River well is the No. 2 of H. H. Bell on Sec. 6, 28-28.

Three Poso Creek wells were begun as follows: Superior Oil Company No. 1 and Signal Oil and Gas Company No. 5, both on Sec. 27, 27-28, and the Shell Oil Company No. 1 on Sec. 15, 27-28.

At Round Mountain the Elbe Oil Land Development Company has begun drilling its No. 3 well on Sec. 20, 28-29, known as the Freeman lease.

PASO CREEK OIL FIELD HUMMING

Southwestern Petroleum Company's No. 1 well on Sec. 30, 27-29. R. T. Dennis is rigging up rotary on Sec. 32, 26-28, the well to be known as No. 4.

The Shell Oil Company is fishing for a core barrel in its Trust No. 1 well on Sec. 16, 27-28, Poso Creek, at 1298 feet. Location for the company's Rogers No. 1 well has been selected. It will be 200 feet north and 250 feet east from the southwest corner of Sec. 21, 26-28.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Free Gold

BIG PINE, Jan. 25.—Question: Under separate cover two samples. Please test. No. 1 when panned shows free gold and a scum floats on the water; is it arsenic? No. 2 also pans free gold; would the sulphides also be auriferous? Both samples from a fissure vein south of Aberdeen in White Mountain range. X.

Answer: No. 1 is a massive and spongiform quartz mixture, and native gold is present with sulphides that should give fire assay returns for silver. The supernatant scum which floats on water is a mixture of sulphur and sulphides in very fine divisions. No. 2 is also quartzitic and spongiform quartz running high in microscopical pyrite, arsenopyrite, blende chalcopyrite and galenite. Sample No. 1 also contains the named sulphides. By qualitative tests it is not possible to determine whether the sulphides are auriferous or not—too much of a mixture.

Native Gold Absent

DESERT, Jan. 25.—Q.: I am sending five samples of rock or mineral content from a ledge running across the gulch south of the Lucy Gray mine. I struck a streak of quartz full of vuggs and spotted with brown iron ore about six inches wide, but on the first two shots it had gone, and the soft gouge matter lying on foot and hanging walls of quartz opened up to about twenty inches. Sample No. 1 is from between the gouge matter where the quartz was located. No. 2 is the soft matter found on hanging wall. No. 3 is footwall, and No. 4 hanging wall. No. 5 is part of a small bunch found one foot below the original vein; it pans pretty fair, and No. 6 is from the Lucy Gray ledge. Everything that pans on the surface does not seem to go down but how the values get on top, just beats me. B.

A.: There are two theories regarding native gold, one of which is that it goes down, and the other view is that it cometh up. It is a common occurrence to find that free gold ledges change into sulphides at depth or water-level, when reached. Sample No. 1 carries iron oxides, silica, mica, manganese and hematite; cinnabar absent. No. 2 is altered conglomerate rock containing iron oxides and no cinnabar found. No. 3 is banded, porphyritic rock. No. 4 is an altered, shaly, porphyritic rock; limonite and hematite present. Cinnabar absent. No. 5 is quartzitic rock showing cubes of partly altered spathic iron ore sparingly. Limonite and manganese present, and giving a slight zinc reaction. Free gold absent. No. 6 is greatly altered rock; in part conglomerate. Stained with limonite and hematite and zinc reaction slight. It may be that the claim from which the samples were taken is decidedly pockety.

Quartzitic Rock

RIVERA, Jan. 26.—Q.: Will you kindly give me an analysis on the enclosed mineral. It occurs in San Diego county, and I shall appreciate it if you will give result of tests in the usual column. S.

A.: The sample is a fine-grained silica on the order of sandstone.

Three Samples

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—Q.: I am sending you under separate cover three samples that I will be pleased to have you classify and note any mineral present of value. Nos. 3 and 4 are from Riverside county, and No. 5 is from Ventura. U.

A.: No. 3 is siliceous porphyritic rock carrying iron oxides, mica, and traces of altered pyrite. No. 4 is a mixture of limonite, traces of Basalt, and porphyritic matter. No. 5 is Basalt containing much magnetite.

Three Specimens

ROSAMOND, Jan. 28.—Q.: Locality three miles north of Rosamond. Specimens from depth one to two feet from vein two to six inches wide—out of place somewhat. Sample No. 1 is vein matter. No. 2 country rock. No. 3 in some spots seems to be wall rock. Does No. 3 resemble "gouge?" It is from another vein nearby. Any indications of silver chloride, or precious metals? B.

A.: No. 1 is quartzitic rock mixed with pegmatite, a little mica, garnet traces, and hornblende found. No. 2 is gneiss (soft granite of the mining boys in the hills.) It is spotted with mica, with manganese and iron present. No. 3 is not gouge matter; it is on the order of No. 2. Rather a poor showing.

Gemstone Quality

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—Q.: This sample comes from Northwestern Nevada. Please test for anything of commercial value. N. & N.

A.: The sample might be taken for dull-black garnet, at sight. When broken, however, and further tested it proves to be a brilliant blue-black, pebble-like, variety of Obsidian (volcanic glass.)

Basaltic Rock

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—Q.: Under separate cover please find samples of rock. There is quite a big ledge of this back of San Bernardino out on the desert. Does it contain any commercial values? P.

A.: The samples represent rather doubtful commercial values.

Oregon Rock

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Q.: Herein is a sample obtained from Southern Oregon. Would like to know about what to expect in ores or minerals present in it. Is it worth an analysis. J.

A.: Without a thorough and complete quantitative analysis on rock represented by the sample you would probably find nothing of value, and such an analysis on twenty pounds of rock would cost $100. The specimen is on the order of rock found among the so-called "mystery ores" of Oregon, and by some chemists giving results—way up in platinum. It is spotted with traces of lime carbonate, mixed with iron magnesium silicate, and it does not carry any flake platinum.

Four Samples

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Q.: I am sending you four samples. Please tell me what kind of rocks they are, only one—as far as I know—contains a little copper and pyrite. M.

A.: Sample No. 1 is hornblende. No. 2 is hornblendic rock. No. 3 is hornblendic rock containing traces of microscopical pyrite and pyrrhotite (two of the iron disulphides.) No. 4 is hornblende.

Rock

SOLDIERS' HOME, SAWTELLE, Jan. 30.—Q.: Found in San Gabriel Canyon. Please analyze for anything of commercial value. This is a refractory ore. D.

A.: The sample is a mixture of hornblende and pyroxene and shows traces of microscopic yellow mica known as "cat gold."

Sulphide Ore

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Q.: Please test this sample of ore for the metals it contains, etc. This sample comes from Montana and there is said to be a large tonnage of it. G.

A.: The sample is partly Tetrahedrite. It shows a little quartz, and carries pyrite, chalcopyrite, galenite, peacock iron, bornite, and blende, all of the named sulphides in greater or lesser percentages. It was not tested for gold or silver, and it is a concentrating ore.

TEXAS ACT TO CURB WASTE

Measure Before Legislature Gives Rail Commission Greater Power in Oil Conservation

AUSTIN (Tex.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—No bill before the Legislature has aroused more interest on the part of oil producers of Texas than that which was written by the Railroad Commission, having for its purpose the strengthening of the powers of that body in the matter of dealing with the waste of the oil and gas resources of the State.

The measure gives the Railroad Commission full authority to prorate oil production, instead of this being done by agreement of the operators as at present. It provides penalties for the enforcement of its rules and regulations.

OPINION DIVIDED

Independent producers are divided into two groups, one supporting and the other opposing the bill. Practically all of the larger companies favor the bill. W. S. Farish of Houston, president of the Humble Oil and Refining Company, belonging to the Standard Oil group, made a statement denying the charge that his company wrote the bill.

"As a matter of fact, this bill is not entirely satisfactory to the Humble Oil and Refining Company," Mr. Farish said. "It is not the kind of a bill that the Humble company would ask the Legislature to pass if it were trying to obtain legislation. It ought to be much stronger and go much further than it does. We are for the bill because we consider it a step in the right direction, and we think that it will benefit the State, the oil industry and the public at large. We hope that it will pass.

INDUSTRY CONDEMNED

"There is a widespread feeling over the entire United States that the oil industry is playing fast and loose with perhaps the most necessary of the nation's irreplaceable resources; that it has wasted and still is wasting with a careless hand our oil and gas reserves, thereby hastening their ultimate exhaustion. The industry is being publicly condemned for such a course, the President of the United States himself having long since taken the lead in this condemnation. Sooner or later, the hue and cry against the oil industry on account of waste will become louder in Texas.

"It is time someone called the attention of the public and of the Legislature to the unfairness of condemning the oil industry for waste, and at the same time refusing to permit the industry legally to take those steps, by agreement or otherwise, which are necessary in order to cure its troubles and to prevent their recurrence."

OPERATIONS IN TONOPAH FIELD TOLD

Lancashire Claim Taken on Lease by Seventy-six Mining Company

TONOPAH (Nev.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—The Tonopah Seventy-Six Mining Company, a subsidiary of the West End Consolidated, has leased for two and one-half years the Lancashire claim of the Garfield group, situated between Hawthorne and Mina. The Lancashire endlines the famous Mabel mine of the West End Consolidated and is believed to contain extensions of the Mabel vein-system. Operations are to start at once.

The Nevada Silver-Lead Company, a Nevada corporation dominated by M. E. Bohannan and associates of Los Angeles, has acquired the Black Metal group of claims in the Groom mining district, fifty-five miles north of Indian Springs. The company is erecting buildings, retimbering the old shaft, and preparing to install a hoist, a four-drill compressor and 100-ton mill. A large tonnage of silver-lead ore is reported in sight.

The Nevada Quicksilver Company reports that the value of its January quicksilver output reached $42,840. Sinking of the shaft from the 300 to the 400-foot level has begun, and arrangements are being made for extension of lateral developments. The company operates large cinnabar properties near Lovelock.

Expert to Help Santa Barbara in Oil Zoning

The City Council of Santa Barbara has been loaned the service for one month of County Planning Director Tilton of that county, and has assigned him to the task of making a study of the problem of rezoning La Mesa, a subdivision on the west side of the city, where many oil companies are desirous of drilling for oil.

The Santa Barbara City Council plans to extend the present city oil zone to include the boundaries asked for by many petitioning property owners, and is said to be committed to the policy of charging oil companies $1000 for a permit to drill each well, with the stipulation that all derricks be of steel. The Long Beach fire ordinance is to be modified to fit local conditions in Santa Barbara, it is reported.

Angeleno Buys Mine Estate in Mexico State

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—R. O. Skelton of Los Angeles, representing Los Angeles and New York capital, is reported by Mrs. A. W. Sanborn of Pilares de Nacozari to have paid $100,000 for mining property that has been developed by her in Eastern Sonora. She states that much of the transportation from the mines will be by airplanes, landing on the Agua Prieta field, at Douglas.

H. Frank Skelton of Boston has contracted for the property of the Ainsworth Copper Company of sixty-three claims, in California district, fourteen miles north of Rodeo. Operation will be by the Ainsco Mining Corporation of Boston, with Mr. Skelton in charge, as managing director.

CHRISTMAS COPPER TO HAVE MILL

Flotation Plant Plans Ordered for Estate at Saddle Mountain

PHOENIX, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) The Southwest Engineering Company of Los Angeles has been authorized to prepare plans for a 400-ton flotation mill for the Christmas Copper Company, which is opening the pioneer Saddle Mountain or Gila Sulphide property, near the Gila Canyon, east of Hayden, at the end of the Southern Pacific Gila River branch.

According to Manager F. A. Woodward, it is proposed to utilize a part of the mill, at Globe, of the Iron Cap Copper Company, a corporation under the same control. A. A. Russell of Deming, former mill superintendent of the Iron Cap, is to be placed in charge of the new plant, which may be in operation within four months. Besides its concentrates, it is proposed to ship about 100 tons a day of straight ore to the Hayden smelter.

Mr. Woodward states that the mine has produced 600,000 tons of ore above its 500-foot level. About forty years ago the camp had a water-jacket furnace in which the surface ore was reduced. At one time they tried coke that had been burned in the near-by Deer Creek coal field.

MINING PROJECT PLANS RIPENING

Development of Estate at Eureka Held Assured

Work Booked to Commence Early Next April

Expenditure of $5,000,000 on Venture Expected

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive) President Griffith E. Riddle of the Eureka Smelting Company reports that plans for vigorous development of its silver-lead mines at Eureka, erection of a 500-ton smelter and extension of the Eureka and Pallisade Railroad from Eureka to Hamilton have been worked out, and that financing of the ambitious project is assured. Preliminary work is scheduled to commence next April, with the total investment to approximate $5,000,000.

Improvement and extension of the railroad is expected to cost around $3,500,000, with the smelter costing about $1,500,000. The plant is to be so constructed that additional smelting units may be easily installed at the lowest practicable cost. President Riddle states an immense tonnage of commercial ore has been demonstrated in the Eureka properties of the corporation, while a large tonnage of custom ore is assured from numerous mines developed in the Hamilton field.

Hamilton was one of the leading silver-gold camps of Nevada fifty years ago and was particularly noted for its output of rich silver ores. Boston, New York and California capitalists are largely interested in the Eureka Smelting Company, which is a consolidation of the Eureka Croesus and other old properties in the district.

Federal Judge Frank H. Norcross had directed that the assets of the Tonopah Mining Company be sold in Tonopah on the 27th inst. to satisfy a judgment recently obtained by bondholders. Indebtedness of the company approximates $630,000, including over $300,000 due bondholders and over $320,000 in receiver's certificates. It is understood that the receiver expects to receive $627,000 for the property. It is understood in Reno that the property will probably be taken over by the bondholders, headed by Thomas F. Cole and associates.

President George Wingfield of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company reports that the corporation has acquired the Kicking Horse and Monarch silver-lead-zinc mines in the Fields district of British Columbia and has sold an interest to the Mining Corporation of Canada. The properties embrace about two square miles of mineralized ground and are said to show approximately 350,000 tons of commercial are. The Goldfield Consolidated owns a 65 per cent interest in the holdings. Wingfield states arrangements have been made for building of a mill, tramway, mine buildings and installation of equipment.

What Is An Investment Trust?

GUIDED by a history of more than half a century of successful and conservative operation in Europe, the so-called "investment trust" is now attaining a popularity in the United States that challenges the attention of all investors. Based on the principle of extremely careful diversification of security holdings and constant and exacting professional supervision, these investment companies of the general management type have solved the problem of scientific investment.

We have been identified with the financing of a number of such companies and we recommend their obligations for investment. The bonds may be had at prices to yield about 5.75% income. Some of them selling at higher prices bear warrants giving the holder the right for several years to purchase stock of the company at very advantageous figures. We shall be pleased to supply further information upon request.

NEW FINANCING ON MINE SLATE

Royal Development Boosts Capitalization

Will Offer Block of Stock for Development

Kennedy Company Preparing to Resume Mining

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—The Royal Development Company, working the Royal mine near Hodson and the Tullock group at Angels Camp, has increased its capitalization to 3,000,000 shares and announced that two shares of new stock will be issued for each share of the old issue now held by stockholders.

It is proposed to sell part of the new issue to finance more extensive work at both properties. Royal is producing steadily, and the company expects soon to start production from the Tullock.

The Kennedy Mining Company reports that mining will probably start within three weeks, following several months of preparation. The shaft is being cleared of water below the 4500-foot level, and repairs made to the upper workings. The Kennedy has been idle since last September, when a fire destroyed the mine buildings.

The Fortuna Mining Company of Los Angeles is steadily pressing developments at its Dutton Creek and Lorenz mines, near Weaverville, but erection of the new mine plant has been halted by severe storms. Deep snow has blocked the roads and machinery is held at Redding until road and weather conditions permit transportation to the mines.

The Greenhorn Copper Company has resumed production from its property west of Redding. A recent shipment to the Tacoma smelter is said to have averaged 38 per cent copper, together with some gold and silver. The shipment is said to have been among the richest copper consignments ever sent out from a California mine. Development of large deposits of smelting ore is proceeding, and the company is reported completing plans for installation of flotation equipment.

Angeleno Wins Oil Prospecting Permit in Kern

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Oil prospecting permits on 1720 acres of Kern county lands located a few miles from Maricopa went to L. W. Hood of Los Angeles, and another big tract in San Luis Obispo county went to Dr. J. J. Kirby of Bakersfield during land drawings held in Sacramento this week.

First alternates in the drawings were Charles Thomas of Ocean Beach, for the Kern tract won by Hood, and Dr. Joe Smith, superintendent of the Kern General Hospital, for the tract in San Luis Obispo county.

Dr. Kirby's plot is said to consist of 2000 acres in the Cuyama district, ten miles southwest of Maricopa.

Luck also favored another Bakersfield man, John Brooke, in a recent drawing. He obtained a prospecting permit on forty acres in the Buttonwillow gas field, southwest of Wasco. Value of this district has been proven.

Heaving Shale Encountered in Test Project

BUTTONWILLOW, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—The Doheny-Stone Drilling Corporation experienced heaving shale in its Salisbury No. 1 well on Sec. 7, 29-24 at Buttonwillow Ridge, but not sufficient to pinch the drill pipe. The hole is now in better shape and the crew is busy washing in, with the eleven-inch casing set at 3656 feet and bottom of the hole at 4671 feet.

The Milham Exploration Company is rigging up its Harris No. 1 well on Sec. 8, 28-23 at Buttonwillow.

The Richfield Oil Company is redrilling its Kerwin No. 1 well on Sec. 21, 26-22, at Semitropic Ridge, at 4500 feet. Its Redding No. 1 well was spudded in January 30. It is located on Sec. 36, 27-23.

The Southern California Gas Company has the foundation in for its No. 1 well on Sec. 27, 28-23 on Semitropic Ridge.

THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK, Trustee
BERLINER HANDELS-GESELLSCHAFT, Co-Trustee

The following is summarized in part from the letter of Messrs. Fickler and Meissner, managing directors of Harpener Bergbau-Aktien-Gesellschaft:

Harpen Mining Corporation, founded in 1856, is the largest independent enterprise in Germany devoted to the production of coal and its by-products and the manufacture of coke and briquettes. Its properties are located in the Ruhr district, which is the largest producing coal field in Europe and which produces coal of a quality superior to that produced anywhere else on the European continent.

The corporation's coal reserves consist of more than 37,000 acres of coal lands. There are many seams, and reserves estimated to contain 529,000,000 metric tons (2,204.6 pounds) above the lowest level of present mining operations. Estimated reserves above the depth of 1,500 meters (3.28 feet) total 3,700,000,000 metric tons. The properties of the corporation include 9 by-product coke plants, including the most modern and efficient in Germany, the largest benzol refining plant in Germany, a tar refining plant and a plant for manufacturing briquettes.

The bonds will be secured by mortgages, subject only to the charges securing $5,861,310 of industrial debentures, on the operating properties (as defined in the indenture) of the corporation and its constituent company, Gewerkschaft Victoria Zu Lunen. Ranking pari passu with these bonds are $1,156,905, principal amount, of 7% convertible reichsmark debentures of the corporation.

The net earnings of the corporation, after operating expenses, maintenance, renewals, replacements and taxes (other than taxes based on income) but before depreciation, depletion, industrial debenture charges and bond interest charges, amounted to $5,071,160 for the year 1926, $4,998,252 for the year 1927 and $1,919,447 for the first six months of 1928. The corresponding net earnings after depreciation, as charged, were as follows: 1926 $2,537,961; 1927 $2,562,027; 1928 (six months) $796,805. The annual interest charges on the present issue and on the 7% convertible debentures, respectively, and the present annual fixed charges on the industrial debentures aggregate $1,002,412.

The pro forma consolidated balance sheet of the corporation and its subsidiary companies, adjusted to give effect to the present financing, shows current assets of more than 2.2 times current liabilities even after allowing for $4,520,476 of the proceeds of this issue which may be invested in fixed assets. Mr. Howard N. Eavenson, American consulting engineer, who has examined the properties, estimates the reproduction value of the plant, discounted for present conditions, without allowing for the value of any coal in the ground, at not less than $60,000,000.

Each bond will carry a stock purchase warrant, non-detachable before July 1, 1929, entitling the holder to purchase after July 1, 1929, and on or before April 30, 1932, for each $100, principal amount, of such bond, either one "American share" to be issued against the deposit in Berlin of 100 reichsmark (approximately equivalent to $23.81) par value, of common stock of the corporation or, at his option, 100 reichsmark, par value, of the common stock itself, fully paid and non-assessable; provided, that such common stock will be purchasable only in multiples of 1,000 reichsmark, par value. The price to be paid for each "American share" will be $36, and for the common stock, $36, for each 100 reichsmark, par value, thereof. The stock purchase warrants will be void after April 30, 1932.

The legality of this issue will be subject to approval of our counsel, Messrs. Shearman & Sterling, New York City, and Dr. Ernst Wolff, Berlin. We offer these bonds if, as and when issued and received by us, and subject to approval of counsel. It is expected that delivery in temporary form will be made on or about March 1, 1929.

Price 90 and Accrued Interest, to yield 6.93%

A substantial portion of this issue is being taken in the European market, including $2,500,000 which is being issued publicly by Hope & Company, Amsterdam.

Senator Asserts Menace of Overproduction Greater Than Four Years Ago

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The menace of overproduction in the petroleum industry was termed by Senator Waterman of Colorado, in an article in the American Bankers' Journal, as more pronounced today than four years ago when the Federal Oil Conservation Board was created by President Coolidge to rectify it.

"Its baleful influence overshadows 1929," the Colorado Senator's article, made public today, declares, adding that the consumption of gasoline during the present year may increase 40,000,000 barrels over 1928, while lubricating and fuel oils will likewise show marked gains.

His article declares that the Federal government has power under the Constitution to conserve the oil resources of its public lands and to prevent its drainage by owners of adjacent lands. The States, too, it says, have "their reserve police power" to regulate petroleum production in their own boundaries. Congress, it adds, can prevent the exploitation of oil through the prohibition of the exportation of petroleum and its products under its constitutional authority to regulate foreign commerce of the United States.

Unique Sale of Antiques Held

LONDON, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—A unique sale has just been held in London—by the Palestine Exploration Fund. This was the first official sale of antiquities from the excavations of Ophel, and it was possible to purchase for a modest half crown a pottery lamp 2500 years old.

Other bargains were stamped Rhodian jar handles, (the handles of wine jars imported into Jerusalem from the Island of Rhodes 1000 years ago) ancient stone weights and other fragmentary articles having a sentimental interest, though not altogether decorative. The authenticity of all the objects sold was vouched for by the British explorers who had dug them up.

The sale proved a great success, and bargains were haggled over in the best manner.

COPPER ANODES CAST

Phelps Dodge Plans to Produce Fire-Refined Product

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—At its local smelter the Morenci branch of the Phelps Dodge Corporation is starting a second step toward production of pure, fire-refined, metallic copper without necessity for the usual electrolytic treatment. The copper now is being cast in anodes instead of bars.

The crushing plant at Morenci is being remodeled at $100,000 cost for finer product. Nearly 1200 men are employed by the branch, which is managed by Frank Ayer, with I. J. Simcox in charge of the smelter.

FIRE DAMAGE LIGHT TO KENNEDY SHAFT

The first skip since the disastrous fire that destroyed all surface workings was sent down in the Kennedy shaft this week for inspection. The shaft was not badly damaged but water has risen to the 4500-foot level. Two or three weeks will be required to unwater the mine before operations can be resumed. The Kennedy is now better equipped than ever.

STANDARD ENGAGED ON SIDETRACKING JOB

Skaters Throng Seattle's Lakes

SEATTLE, Feb. 10. (AP)—With thousands of skaters on Seattle lakes for the first time in years and slushy streets that turned to ice-covered roads at night, the Puget Sound region still was looking for a return to normal temperatures today.

A gradual relief from the cold is in sight, however, the Weather Bureau reported.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

Por el Profesor R. Guerrero
DEL DEPARTAMENTO ESPANOL DE "THE TIMES"

En general denota "caber", dice el señor Cuervo, la naturalidad o congruencia con que una cosa se halla en otra o se acomoda y subordina a ella: "Yo imagino que eres hecho de mármol o de duro bronce, en quien no cabe movimiento ni sentimiento alguno" (Cervantes, "Quijote"); "En el estilo oratorio no caben las palabras plebeyas ni familiares" (Capmany, "Filosofía de la elocuencia"); "Todavía quiero tomar por disculpa de vuestro yerro vuestros pocos años, en los cuales no cabe tener experiencia de los muchos engaños de los hombres" (Cervantes, "Novelas"); "Se distinguieron entre todos . . . prestándonos cuantos oficios y obsequios caben en la hospitalidad y cortesanía" (Jovellanos, "Defensa de la Junta Central").

Se usa en construcciones absolutas con la significación de "ser posible o natural". El sujeto es a menudo un infinitivo o una proposición subjuntiva: "La dicción es castiza y limpia; pero desciende a veces demasiado y cabría haberla alzado un poco más sin salir del tono propio de la tragedia" (Martínez de la Rosa, "Tragedias españolas"); "Cabe que en una corporación, por noble y santa que sea, haya alguno que prostituya su honor y su deber, sin que esto degrade la nobleza ni la santidad de su gremio" (Jovellanos, "Defensa de la Junta Central"); "No cabe que sea presidente de la comisión un hombre tan ignorante"; "No cabe disculpar crimen tan odioso". "No cabe más" es una expresión con que se da a entender que una cosa ha llegado en su línea al último punto: "¿Te gustaron las películas parlantes? — Me encantaron: ¡no cabe más!" "Todo cabe" significa "todo es posible o puede suceder": "Se me hace casi increíble que me haya engañado; pero todo cabe".

Se usa para denotar el desasosiego que siente una persona, como si le viniese estrecho el puesto en que se halla: "No cabía (D. Quijote) en su asiento de puro alborotado" (Cervantes, "Quijote"). Se usa también con nombres que significan lugar para denotar la hinchazón de la vanidad o soberbia excesiva: "Iba el buen hidalgo tan ancho y vanaglorioso, que no cabía en toda la calle" (Avellaneda, "Quijote").

Se usa para denotar la necesidad de expansión que siente el ánimo dominado poderosamente de un afecto, y en cierto modo forzado a manifestarlo exteriormente. Se emplea en la frase "No caber en sí o dentro de sí": "Quería dar voces en alabanzas el alma, y está que no cabe en sí, un desasosiego sabroso" (Santa Teresa, "Vida"); "Altos relinchos da, y huella y escarba el polvo no cabiendo ya en sí mismo" (A. Saavedra, "Amor, honor y valor"). Empléase en especial por 'tener mucha soberbia o vanidad", construyéndose con "de" para expresar el afecto de que está poseída la persona, que generalmente es la alegría: "Comieron aquel día con D. Antonio algunos de sus amigos honrando todos y tratando a D. Quijote como a caballero andante, de lo cual, hueco y pomposo, no cabía en sí de contento" (Cervantes, "Quijote"); "En ver que estaba ya libre de las vanidades pasadas, no cabía dentro de sí de contento y placer (Yepes, "Vida de Sta. Teresa"). Con la preposición "de" tiene cabida un predicado: "Ya yo no cabía en mí de hinchado con tantas alabanzas" (Espinel, "Escudero Marcos de Obregón"). Se omite a veces el complemento reflexivo, conservándose el que expresa la causa: "Quedó Ana Bolena tan contenta y tan ufana con la muerte de la reina, que no cabía de placer" (Rivadeneira, "Cisma").

En sentido semejante se usan otras expresiones como las siguientes: "Yo ya no cabía de contento en el pellejo: no trocara mi buena suerte a la mejor que tuvo Alejandro Magno" (Alemán, "Gumán"); "No le cabía el corazón en el pecho, temiendo que la mucha hermosura de Auristela, la gallardía y buen parecer de su hija Transila, los pocos años y nuevo traje de Constanza no despertasen en aquellos cosarios algún mal pensamiento" (Cervantes, "Persiles"). Es singular la extensión que ha experimentado esta construcción, aplicándose a lugares en el sentido de "estar en extremo lleno": "Allanada por César esta provincia, dice Cicerón que no cabía de mercaderes negociantes" (Aldrete, "Origen"); "En palacio no son pocos, porque esta jaula de locos no cabe de pretendientes" (Tirso, "Averígüelo Vargas"). "Era tanta la gente que venía, que aunque era la ciudad un grande espacio, de pies de forasteros no cabía, ni de reyes extraños el palacio" ((Villay., "Mosquea").

BANK FRAUD CHARGED TO KANSAS MAN

Fresno Resident Also to Be Named in Complaint by Federal Examiner

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10. (AP)—L. K. Roberts, chief national bank examiner here, today said complaints would be filed in a few days with the United States District Attorney for Kansas charging that Roy C. Gafford, president of the Minneapolis (Kan.) National Bank, and others had misapplied funds of the institution.

J. C. Gafford, father of Roy Gafford and founder of the bank, who now is said to be a resident of Fresno, Cal., also will be named in the complaint, as will one or two others, Roberts declared. The bank was closed Saturday.

An investigation conducted by C. W. Lyon, a national bank examiner, and his assistants has revealed a total of $200,000 in doubtful paper, Roberts said. A total of about $116,000 of the paper assertedly consists of notes of J. C. Gafford, partly secured by California real estate. Approximately $75,000 more of the paper is in notes which have as their purported security live stock which does not exist, Roberts asserts.

Similar notes totaling $125,000 were liquidated by Roy Gafford following a recent visit to the Bank Examiner and the elder Gafford's paper substituted, Roberts said.

The notes, signed by many persons in the bank's territory, were characterized by Roberts as "dummies" negotiated by Gafford for speculative purposes.

SENTENCES HEAVIEST IN MONTHS

State Prison Board Fixes Series of Lengthy Terms for Folsom Inmates

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Dealing out the most severe sentences imposed in many months, the State Prison Board, meeting at Folsom prison today, fixed sentences for forty-one inmates, postponed a number of applications for paroles, and granted three paroles to convicts who had served all but four months of six-year sentences.

Men convicted of statutory charges drew the heaviest sentences today. Hilario Campos, convicted in Los Angeles, drew a fifty-year term; Joseph Broco, Sonoma county, thirty years; Donald O'Brien, Yolo county, and Albert Craib, San Mateo county, twenty-five years each.

William F. Ryan, bunko man of Los Angeles, convicted on twenty-one counts, drew a sentence of fourteen years on one count and one year each on the other twenty, for a total of thirty-four years.

Louis Costello, San Francisco burglar, drew the maximum of fifteen years for second-degree burglary. Tom Watson, a four-time loser convicted of second-degree robbery from Los Angeles, was sentenced to thirty-five years, and George Washington, negro, three-time loser, also of Los Angeles, drew twenty-five years on a robbery conviction.

J. S. Fenton, Los Angeles forger; Charles Rogers, negro, two-time loser from Alameda county on a larceny charge, and E. O. Thomas, Orange county forger, are the three paroled.

WILL BE MARRIED BY MAYOR WALKER

Phyllis Haver

When Phyllis Haver, fair-haired screen actress, becomes the bride of William Seeman of New York, Mayor Walker himself will perform the ceremony. The wedding will take place at the home of Rube Goldberg, comic-strip artist.

This much was established definitely yesterday by Miss Haver's mother, although the exact date for the wedding has not yet been determined. The actress' screen work will prevent her leaving Hollywood for several weeks, at least, it was said at her home, but the marriage probably will take place within three months.

As to whether Miss Haver will abandon her picture career, that is something else again. She may, and again she may not, her mother said. She wishes to live in New York, but that is a matter which will have to be settled later.

Mr. Seeman is a brother of Mrs. Rube Goldberg and an intimate pal of Mayor Walker who, incidentally, requested that he be permitted to officiate at the wedding.

GRAND JURY CLEANING UP WORK ENDS

Three Matters to Close Up and Others May be Left to Successors

Entering the last week of work, the 1928 grand jury today is expected to close at least three pending cases and decide that several others shall be referred to the 1929 grand jury for further investigation.

One of the cases which probably will be suggested for further investigation is that concerning the sale of sewer flushers to the City of Los Angeles. It is charged that the city has lost more than $500,000 by the manipulations of contractors who sold the same flushers on numerous occasions, transferring them from one assessment district to another.

The grand jury also will consider the final phases of the annual report to be submitted at the close of its tenure of office.

COLD SNAP END BELIEVED NEAR

Tonight May Be Last Time Requiring Smudging

Some Damage Thought Done to Citrus Groves

Temperature in City Again Goes Below 40 Deg.

With temperatures generally higher last night throughout the citrus-growing districts, orange and lemon growers probably will be forced to fire their smudge pots tonight for the last time against the cold snap, which gradually is wearing itself out, Floyd Young, senior meteorologist of the United States Weather Bureau in Pomona, predicted last night.

Minimum temperatures in the citrus districts last night were: Riverside, 26 deg.; Redlands, 27; Upland, 27; Pomona, 29; Azusa, 27; Covina, 27; San Gabriel, 29; Lamanda Park, 29; Whittier, 28; Orange, 28; San Fernando, 30; Santa Paula, 30; Ventura, 28; Lindsay, 26; Porterville, 26.

IT WILL BE WARMER

The local United States Weather Bureau bore out Young's statement with the prediction that it will be fair here today and tomorrow with slowly rising temperatures. Frost was predicted for this morning.

The thermometer reached a minimum of 36 deg. again yesterday, the lowest point recorded here since December of 1924. This marked the second time in four years that the temperature in Los Angeles has fallen below the 40-deg. mark, figures compiled by the Federal observers showed.

Young stated that there probably has been some damage done by the low temperatures, but due to the matured condition of the fruit and varying winds in most citrus districts, the crops have not been injured extensively.

LEMONS SUFFER

"Some of the oranges on the outside of the trees," Young said, "undoubtedly have been hit by the frost, but the fruit under the covering of the tree leaves has escaped.

"Reports we have received from lemon growers show that their crop has been harder hit than the oranges. Some of the lemon growers in the higher foothill districts believed that they were in a frostless belt and failed to smudge.

"It will be several days, however, before we can tell accurately how much both orange and lemon crops have been damaged."

HILLS NEAR ENSENADA COVERED WITH SNOW

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Fishermen returning to this port today from the coast of Lower California reported the hills back of Ensenada and Cape Colnett covered with snow. This is in approximately 32 deg. north Latitude. Veteran fishermen say they never before have seen the snow so low on the Lower California mountains.

Unusually cold weather also is reported along that coast.

EX-MISSION SECRETARY SUCCUMBS

Henrietta Ash Bancroft, Noted Methodist Worker, Dies in Pasadena

Henrietta Ash Bancroft, former secretary of the deaconess department of the Methodist Episcopal Women's Home Missionary Society, died yesterday following an extended illness at the home of her sister, Mrs. George O. Robinson, 1303 Wentworth avenue, Pasadena.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Robinson residence at 2 p.m. next Wednesday.

Miss Bancroft held the secretarial position in the women's society for sixteen years. Prior to that she had studied in American and European universities and was dean of women at Albion College in Michigan for six years.

Poor health forced her to resign from the missionary society in 1914 and she came to Pasadena three years later.

THREE KILLED IN TRAFFIC

Two Women and Boy Victims of Auto Collisions as Police Continue Drive on Recklessness

Two women and a young boy were killed in two major traffic crashes yesterday and the drivers of the automobiles involved in one of the accidents were arrested on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter, police and Sheriff's office reports showed.

The dead are:

Mrs. Cecile Brown, 26 years of age, 548 Turnbull Drive, Whittier.

Donald Brown, her 6-year-old son.

Miss Marion Jones, 33, 1203 East Seventy-fourth street.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Dale C. Thompson of 939 West Eighty-fourth street, and V. L. Mead of 411½ East Eighty-second street, are the two men reported to have been taken into custody following the death of Miss Jones in a crash at Florence avenue and Broadway. Thompson is said by police to have been the driver of the car in which Miss Jones was riding. Mead received minor injuries and Thompson a fractured skull.

Mrs. Brown and her son were killed when the family car, reported by Deputy Sheriffs Hall and Standley of Substation No. 4, to have been driven by Mrs. Brown's husband, Floyd G. Brown, collided with another car at the intersection of College avenue and Alameda street in Downey.

M. T. King of 600 West Main street, Compton, is reported to have been at the wheel of the other car. He was accompanied by his wife, but neither was injured.

CHILD THROWN CLEAR

Barbara, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and her father were thrown clear of the heavy sedan and only slightly injured, as it careened off the road and turned over after the crash with King's car, pinning the mother and son beneath it, according to the deputies' report.

Seventy-seventh - street police station officers state both cars were much damaged and the victim, Miss Jones, was dead before they reached the scene. Police say that both drivers had been drinking.

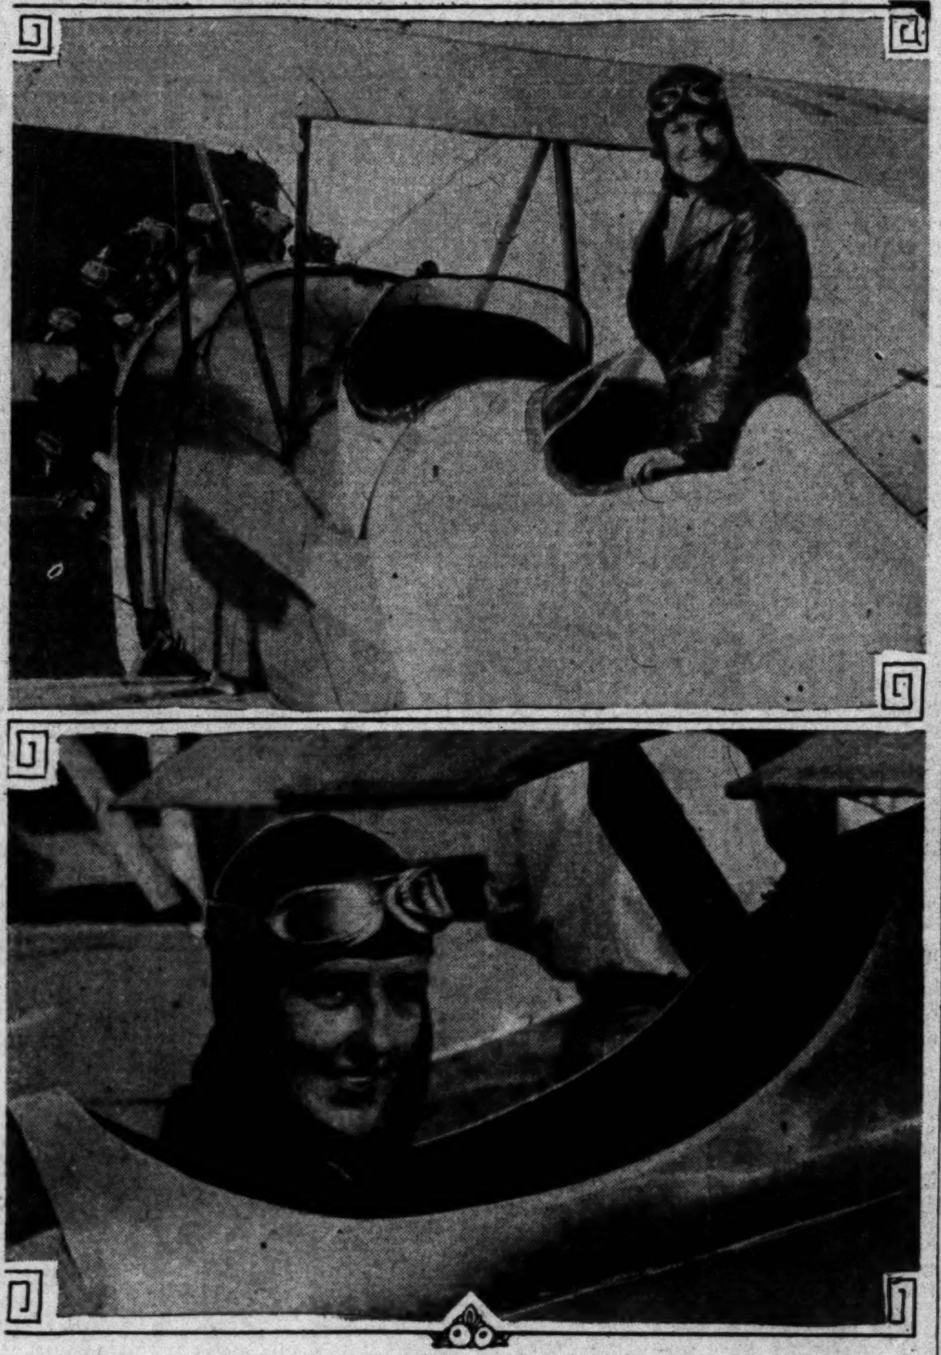
Just Before Cloud Queens Set Out for New Laurels



Ready for Record Flights

Above is Miss Crosson standing in cockpit just before taking off on a flight which may have taken her higher than any woman ever went. Below is Miss Trout seated in her plane ready to break the woman's endurance flight record.

TWO WOMEN SOAR ALOFT IN QUEST OF AIR RECORDS

Altimeter Fails Miss Crosson in Climb

The "weaker" sex took the spotlight of the air-minded public's interest yesterday when two young women soared into the sky from the Los Angeles Municipal Airport (Mines Field) and Clover Field determined to hang up new aviation records for women. Miss Marvel Crosson was the first to take off and is believed to have set a new altitude record and Miss Bobby Trout, one-time holder of the women's endurance flight record, followed three hours later and was still flying strong late last night toward her objective of three records.

Miss Trout's attempt was continuing as midnight passed and she entered her eighth hour in the air, almost half of her objective of seventeen hours, with the little 60-horsepower LeBlond motor droning away the dark hours as it pulled her Golden Eagle monoplane over an eleven mile course at a speed of about sixty-five miles an hour.

Not only was she striving for the woman's endurance record but for a distance record for airplanes propelled by sixty horse-power motors which must exceed 930 miles, the present record, and for the longest flight ever made by a woman in darkness.

She left the ground at Mines Field at 5:10:45 p.m. and after a run of approximately 2000 feet lifted easily and gracefully into the air. After circling the field once she straightened out and began her long, grueling, continuous circling around her starting point, the Aero Corporation of California Field, at Ninety-third street and Western avenue, and another at Ninety-ninth street and Western avenue.

She left with a determination, she asserted, to stay aloft until 10 o'clock this morning and shatter by almost four hours the record set by Elinor Smith of New York only a few days ago.

The tiny monoplane carried eighty gallons of gasoline and is said to be the heaviest load ever lifted into the air by a sixty-horsepower motor. Considerable doubt was expressed by aviators at the field prior to her take-off that she would be able to get into the air, but her rapid run across the field convinced them to the contrary.

The record of miles flown, if broken, will be one which men as well as women can shoot at as it is one for motor performance rather than for test of the pilot's ability. The present record for a sixty-horsepower motor is 930 miles.

Miss Trout's flight was sponsored by R. M. Bone, manufacturer of the Golden Eagle plane, who expressed confidence in the aviatrix's ability to stay aloft more than seventeen hours, but stated that he gave her instructions not to remain up after 10 o'clock.

All three fields forming the course over which Miss Trout is flying were lighted with huge searchlights

Miss Crosson returned to Clover Field two hours and thirty minutes after she took off after having attained an altitude believed by officials of the Union Oil Company, sponsors of the flight, to be a new record, something more than 20,000 feet.

The aviatrix reported upon her return that on her first attempt to reach the plane's ceiling she went to a point where her altimeter ceased to register, which was at the 20,000 mark, and continued her efforts to gain a greater height. Whether she went to an altitude higher than ever attained by any woman will remain undecided until the barograph which she carried with her is checked by government officials in Washington.

Miss Crosson left Clover Field in a Union Oil Company Travel Air plane powered with a Wright whirlwind motor at 2:26 p.m., and returned at 4:56 o'clock.

SOON OUT OF SIGHT

"I'm going to find out what the ceiling of this plane is," she declared as she climbed into the cockpit preparatory to the start of her flight, and with that she sped away. The aviatrix guided her ship out over the ocean, circling for altitude, and back over Los Angeles. Within forty-five minutes she was out of sight.

She said that when she reached the 20,000-foot mark her altimeter ceased to record and after a few minutes she noticed the oil pressure was falling off rapidly. The plane was nosed down and dropped 2000 feet lower from where another effort to climb higher was made. She did this three times, she reported, but believes that her greatest height was attained the first time.

Bitter cold was experienced by Miss Crosson on her flight, with her thermometer registering 15 deg. below zero at the ceiling. She was clothed to withstand the cold weather, with furlined flying suit and helmet, but notwithstanding this fact, looked very tired when she landed and showed the effects of the strain to which she had been subjected.

PACOIMA FLOOD DAM FINISHED

Engineer Eaton Reports Completion of Vital Unit in Control Scheme

Pacoima Dam is finished, and Chief Engineer Eaton of the Los Angeles flood control district will recommend to the Board of Supervisors today that the construction work of Bent Brothers be approved and the dam be accepted as complete.

This dam is located above where Pacoima Creek, draining twenty-five square miles in the Sierra Madre Mountains, debouches into the level San Fernando Valley.

In the past this creek has caused considerable damage by washing large quantities of rock, sand and gravel over fields, roads and lawns.

The dam was begun March 19, 1925, and has cost the district approximately $2,500,000.

Confirmation of assessments for lighting maintenance in the Mountain View-avenue and Miramar-street lighting district and along Lincoln Park avenue between North Broadway and Mission Road will be considered by the City Council today.

KEYES TO SEEK RESPITE TODAY

Trio Will Ask Stay to Allow New Trial Motion

Release from Jail on Bail Also to be Sought

Fitts Will Demand Immediate Sentence to Prison

The first major offensive of Asa Keyes, Ben Getzoff and E. H. Rosenberg against the conviction of bribery and conspiracy charges against them will start today at 10 a.m., in Superior Judge Shaw's court when they appear to be sentenced to from one to fourteen years each in San Quentin Penitentiary.

The appearance of the convicted trio before Judge Shaw, Presiding Judge Keetch announced last night, is necessitated because Judge Butler, assigned to Los Angeles county for the trial, has returned to San Rafael, Marin county, but perhaps he will return to hear the arguments on an expected motion for a new trial.

STAY MAY BE GRANTED

Today's court procedure will include the sentencing, unless Judge Shaw grants a stay of execution. The defense then is prepared to make a motion for a new trial, and the court will set a date for the arguments which will be heard and ruled on by the trial judge.

During the court session the battery of defense attorneys which bitterly fought the State's case at the trial also will set in motion machinery intended to release the convicted trio from jail on bail.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced yesterday that he is prepared to meet any move of the defense and will demand that the convicted trio be sentenced to prison at once. In resisting the defense Fitts will be aided by Special Prosecutor Clark, Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Simpson.

GETZOFF IN HOSPITAL

In blue denim behind the bars of the County Jail yesterday Keyes and Rosenberg held several conferences with their attorneys in preparation for the court session today. Getzoff remained in the jail hospital suffering from a nervous collapse, which seized him Friday night, when the verdicts were read. The jailers say he is resting fairly well.

Members of the men's families visited them at intervals during the day. Rosenberg, whose composure was visibly shaken during the first twenty-four hours of incarceration, has gained control of himself again under the solace of his wife and other members of his family.

In the meantime, Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief Investigator Wheeler said they have not been informed of any anonymous telephone threats against Mrs. Keyes or her two daughters. Reports say Mrs. Keyes was called on the telephone Saturday night and a voice threatened to "blow up the Keyes home." In the absence of an official report, Fitts and Wheeler are inclined to discredit the rumor.

BERMAN PROTECTED

At the same time, however, the prosecution forces kept Jacob Berman, star State's witness, under close armed protection since the attempt made against his life in the early hours of Saturday morning while his hiding-place was being changed.

Safely in seclusion again the District Attorney's investigators were pressing a sweeping inquiry in an attempt to locate the lone gunman who apparently was intent on shooting Berman when he trained a gun on an investigator, thinking he was Berman, noticed his mistake and ran without firing a shot.

On March 4 Keyes and Getzoff will face trial again on similar bribery charges which assert that a conspiracy was entered into to dismiss twenty-one felony counts against A. I. Lasker, a broker. The counts were dismissed by Keyes, but on the exposure of the Julian case "fixing" conspiracy Lasker was reindicted, convicted on the original counts and sentenced to from fifteen to fifty years in San Quentin.

HEARING SET TODAY

Protests will be heard today by the City Council against the ordinance of intention for the improvement of Willoughby avenue between Fairfax avenue and Crescent Heights Boulevard, Laural avenue and Mississippi-avenue improvement district.

CITY BOARD MUST PAY UP

Council to Retaliate on Self-Sustaining Bodies That Refuse to Meet Assessments

The City Council has decided to take retaliatory measures against the departments of the city government having their own revenues which refuse to pay assessments for improvements adjacent to properties owned by them. As its first move in this direction the Council has directed the street-lighting engineer that whenever any of these self-sustaining departments refuses to pay assessments for proposed street lighting the proposed improvement should be omitted in front of the property of the recalcitrant department.

As another measure designed to bring these departments to terms the Council is considering the advisability of forcing them to pay rent for the quarters they use in the City Hall.

The matter came to a head with the refusal of the Park Department to pay an assessment for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on Echo Park avenue from Sunset Boulevard to Temple street. Almost the entire west frontage of Echo Park avenue borders on Echo Park. The assessment of the Park Department was fixed at $3348 for installation and $372 per year for maintenance.

MAY PAY RENT

The Council's Traffic and Street Lighting Committee recommended that the assessments of the Park Department be paid from the general funds of the city, but it also recommended that consideration be given to the possibility of making the Park Department pay rent for its quarters in the City Hall. The matter went then to the Finance Committee, which asked Roy A. Knox, director of the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency, to submit a report on it.

Director Knox pointed out in his report that this instance is not the only one in which the Park Department has refused to pay assessments for lighting adjacent to its properties and said that in every case a grave injustice was done other property owners. He recommended that in this case and all subsequent cases the frontage of the

by Harry Carr

ONE of the things that impresses a casual visitor to the Boulder Dam is the almost complete absence of life. It is a dark and mysterious tomb. Yet life abounds there in hiding.

PINTO BURROS

Back in the hills on the top of the high cliffs is a band of wild burros. Most of them are pintos—what we used to call "calico ponies." As nobody ever heard before of a pinto burro I greatly fear that a social scandal must have taken place when a band of pinto wild horses lingered near.

These wild burros are more baffling to hunters than the wild horses which are plentiful in Northern Nevada. They run like antelope and are not deluded by the simple tricks that cost wild horses their liberty.

A mule knows three times as much as a horse and a burro is smarter than a mule.

MUD FISH

The river is thick with mud. Geologists estimate that fifty tons of silt is carried by every second at the site of this dam. It naturally follows that what fish inhabit the waters are varieties that have an appetite for mud.

The natives catch catfish and suckers; they throw back the suckers but the catfish are delicious. At certain seasons of the year, however, they are very blase about bait. Won't bite.

At other seasons of the year, the river is full of large salmon trout going up to spawn.

BIGHORNS

There are very few wild animals along the river; but the morning that we went to the dam site the boatman had seen a band of bighorn sheep—now nearly extinct—making their way down the steep cliffs to the water. There was a ram and a ewe with her baby. They came leaping down to the water's edge; then turned and shinned up the straight-edge cliffs.

QUEER LIZARDS

Just above the dam site, the cliff on the Arizona shore is plugged full of holes; it looks like swallow nests. These tiny caves during the heat of the day are alive and squirming with lizards. This is the first time I have ever heard of desert lizards hanging around the water.

ICE WATER

When the dam is finished and the water backs up to form one of the largest lakes in North America it is to be expected that Nevada will find itself as a great winter resort. When that comes, the waters will naturally be stocked with fish. The water is so poison cold, however, that I fear it will not be one of the world's most favored bathing beaches. The Colorado comes right off the ice.

Morton Funeral to be Tomorrow

Mrs. Mary M. Morton, widow of Walter S. Morton, who died on January 19, last, died at her home in Compton at noon Saturday, after a severe illness. Mr. and Mrs. Morton celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary November 5, 1928. At that time they were in good health.

They had been residents of California for twenty-eight years, having lived seven years in Los Angeles and the remaining twenty-one years in Compton on the Riverside-Redondo Boulevard.

They leave one daughter, Jennie Morton Estlingen, and one son, Clyde W. Morton.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:45 p.m. tomorrow at the chapel of Inglewood Cemetery.

SHE MOTHERS HOMELESS AS MEMORIAL TO SON

Dying Youth's Tribute Suggests to Pasadena Woman Career of Unparalleled Service

"Mother's a good mother."

With these words an 18-year-old youth, born to the purple and reared in the lap of luxury, died like a hero, praising another, lauding the highest institution known to man—motherhood.

As this youth drew his last breath there came an inspiration to the mother, a vision of service to humanity that overshadowed impending grief, erased tears in this dark moment and gave her strength to bring her vision to a reality.

And now this mother can look into fourteen years of the past as a mother to 168 children in the place of one she lost.

The scene of that drama of mother love was in a mansion on exclusive Kennesaw Terrace, Chicago; the time was July 27, 1915, and the characters McKenzie Lowndes, a handsome chap of 18 who left the world at its brightest point, and his mother, Mrs. Louise Sullivan, a society woman of culture, refinement and wealth. Other characters who enter the story as a result of this scene are the 168 homeless children who found a mother when they neded one most.

"Mother's a good mother," McKenzie sighed as he drew his last breath.

EXEMPLAR SET

"That's a statement I must live up to," vowed Mrs. Sullivan, "I herewith pledge God that I will take into my home and mother every homeless child that crosses my path."

Confronted by the duty of fulfilling this solemn obligation, Mrs. Sullivan gave up her social activities, dispensed with a retinue of servants, accepted a life of self-sacrifice and devoted her entire time to motherhood on perhaps the largest scale yet attempted.

The extent of her faithfulness and success in meeting this obligation was revealed by Mrs. Sullivan in her vine-covered California bungalow on South Marengo avenue in Pasadena as she began work on a book which will chronicle her experiences with those 168 waifs and orphans who were given a home and, in many cases, health.

PLAYS LONE HAND

For nearly fourteen years she has nursed these children, sometimes two at a time, at other times as many as twenty. Without a servant or other assistance she cared for her children, washed for them, cooked for them, sewed for them and spent her fortune on them.

Not once during the time since her son died has she taken time to go to a picture show or theater; not even one day's vacation has she had nor has she "parked" a baby with anyone else in order that she might have diversion.

"I've just appointed myself a servant of God," said the white-haired mother as little Gloria, 4-year-old blond-haired, blue-eyed girl, ran into the room and climbed to Mrs. Sullivan's lap. "People that are material minded don't understand my work. They can't understand the motive that prompts me to do it.

"They can't understand my theory of religion, because I haven't been inside of a church in eighteen years But my religion is service to humanity and I know that is the only true religion. My service has been rendered to those who needed it most—in caring for the tots who couldn't care for themselves and in so many cases had no one else to care for them.

"I haven't gone out of my way to get children and I haven't worried about their antecedents. They've been directed to me by God and I've kept them until God directed me to give them up—give them up to homes where I know they will be loved and have the advantages I'd want my own children to have."

Although Mrs. Sullivan had sufficient fortune for herself when she started her work it has been very expensive to maintain an establishment and care for 168 children, but she has never faltered or even thought about asking for financial assistance or of accepting any.

EIGHT SCORE AND MORE

These 168 children did not come all at once, nor have they all stayed with Mrs. Sullivan. Seven years is the longest she has kept any one child. Invariably there is some one sooner or later who offers a good home and the little mother of many has let one go to make room for another.

There have been two occasions where within two weeks fifteen babies ranging in age from 6 to 8 hours have been brought to her. There have been times when sick babies have come in, but they didn't stay sick for long, because Mrs. Sullivan has that touch which makes strong healthy babies of puny, weak ones.

How does she do it? Well, one mustn't overlook the fact that a mother gains a lot of knowledge over a fourteen-year period and particularly when she handles as many babies as Mrs. Sullivan has and, she adds, "Don't overlook the fact that my work is directed by God."

DOCTORS' CALLS FEW

There have been four times during the fourteen-year period when she has found it necessary to call physicians, but so well does she understand the essential and fundamental needs of the children that doctors' visits are few and far between.

Mrs. Sullivan came to California in 1920, five years after her son's death. She thought at the time that her period of service had ended but she learned that she was wrong. It has continued and today scores of persons in Southern California can attest to her ability as a mother for they have seen results and many of them now claim as their children ones who were first given a home by this "mother of many."

Mrs. Sullivan now has three children, two boys and one girl. She announces that she isn't going to take any more—at least not until she finishes her book. Whether or not she relinquishes her work entirely remains to be seen. Her friends and her children, for she has five children of her own and four grandchildren, believe that she has met her obligation in full and besides she ought to go to a movie at least once and spend a day or two at the beach just to see life as it is lived by grown-up children.

CONSUL ACCUSES WOMAN

At the request of B. Urbino Vega, Consul for Honduras, a complaint charging Mrs. Caroline Schoen, 410 South Union avenue, with petty theft, has been issued by Deputy City Prosecutor Fox. Mrs. Schoen will appear before Municipal Judge Bullock to plead to the charge. Vega in his statement declared he sold the Union-avenue residence to Mrs. Schoen some time ago, but remained there as a tenant. When he left she refused to allow him to take one of his trunks, despite the fact that he had paid all rent due her, he said.

THREE KILLED IN CAR CRASHES

and-run driver, Arthur McCann, 45, of 1742 South Grand avenue, was found at Third and Los Angeles streets in a serious condition and police surgeons hold little hope for his recovery.

Jacques Pierre, 42, of 4955 Marathon street, suffered probably fatal injuries when his car crashed into the curbing at Belmont street and Beverly Boulevard. Pierre, who is said to be a theater manager, was later removed to the California Hospital.

HUNDRED DEAD

With the Jones death bringing the total traffic fatalities up to 102 since January 1, or within a period of forty-one days, police yesterday announced the arrests of eight motorists for drunkenness in automobiles, one for driving while intoxicated, and one for failing to stop after an accident as the result of their week-end effort to curb recklessness and lower the unusual death rate.

Those arrested for being intoxicated in an automobile and held under $500 bail were: Philip M. Murray, 41, of 661 West Eighteenth street; Delip, 38, and Naud Singh, 40, of Zelzah, Roland V. Manning, 23, of 6430 Drexel avenue, Angel Flores, 24, and Edouardo Fuentez, 20, of 2744 Lan Franco street; Walter A. Wood, 33, of 5515½ South Broadway, and Edward Van Fleet, 32, of 1221 West Sixty-fifth street.

Failing to stop after an accident Thomas Taylor, 28, a negro, of 337 West Second street, was chased to Western Oil Refinery and there arrested on suspicion of a felony.

Lloyd F. Dellridge, 31, of 148 West Santa Barbara avenue was taken into custody at Sixteenth and Main streets for driving his automobile while under the influence of liquor, police reported.

The funeral of George Kelder, Olson bakery truck driver who was killed Thursday, when he turned over his truck at Pico and Sentous streets, will be conducted at the W. A. Brown chapel, 1815 South Flower street, today, at 3 p.m. Burial will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Mr. Kelder, 20 years of age, resided at 3016 West Seventy-seventh street, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kelder. He also leaves two brothers and two sisters. He was a member of the Christian Reform Church.

JOHNSON LEAVES $20,000

James E. Johnson, who was killed when a tree fell on the automobile in which he was riding, left his widow a $20,000 estate, it appeared when she filed for letters of administration. Hearing on the petition will be the 26th inst., in Superior Judge Guerin's court.

TURNEY URGES NIGHT COURT

efficiency and impose hardships upon both the judges and the court attaches on the one hand and the tax-paying public on the other.

BLOW AT THIRD DEGREE

I am in thorough sympathy—and I am quite sure the other judges of this court take the same attitude—with the movement inaugurated by President Hubert M. Morrow of the Los Angeles Bar Association, and other leading lawyers to do away with the so-called "third degree." Brutality either physical or mental such as has been made public by Mr. Morrow cannot be justified. Chief of Police Davis has expressed himself also as being in sympathy with Mr. Morrow and others who are working against the third degree. Although I have great confidence in the large majority of police officers, the fact that there may be occasionally a misuse of power by an officer should make the courts extremely careful to see that no confessions obtained by improper methods are admitted in evidence.

The American people desire a fair test of the National Prohibition Act. Accordingly the court should co-operate with police officers and prosecuting attorneys to the extent of seeing that when defendants are fairly convicted of flagrant violations of the Constitution that they are adequately punished. Generally speaking the system of standardized fines amounts to nothing more than an overhead expense for all forms of commercialized vice and crime and is of no value as a deterrent force.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

One of the most difficult problems confronting the people of Los Angeles, as those of other large cities, is the protection of life and health against drunken and reckless automobile drivers. The loss of life and physical injuries resulting from reckless operation of automobiles in Los Angeles are appalling and some means must be found to lessen this evil. Everything possible must be done to make mothers secure when they send their little children to school in the morning that they will return in safety. No persons who drives a motor car while intoxicated is entitled to any sympathy or leniency.

Under the admirable system put into effect by Judge Chambers with the assistance of Urban F. Emme, deputy court clerk, in charge of the traffic bureau, the pernicious and un-American practice of "fixing" has been greatly lessened in traffic cases. This good work will be continued and augmented until "fixers" of all kinds are put out of business.

RAPS SHYSTERS

An evil exists in the form of a small element among criminal attorneys of the class commonly denominated "shysters." These men are false to their oaths as officers of the court and are continuously engaged in the systematic perversion of justice.

Akin in some respects to "fixers" and "shysters" are certain unscrupulous professional bondsmen. Some of these men have operated with an almost inconceivable boldness, engaging in numerous forms of fraud and rascality. And some of them, I am reliably informed, are in effect practicing law without licenses. Everything legally possible will be done to break up the criminal and unethical practice of the "shysters" and crooked bondsmen as well as those of "fixers."

WIFE NO. 1 AIDS NO. 2 TO WIN ANNULMENT

Mrs. Betty L. Frye, wife No. 1 of Lloyd Forrest Frye, went into the court of Superior Judge Gould to help Harriet C. Frye, wife No. 2, get an annulment of her marriage with Frye who is now languishing in the County Jail on a charge of bigamy. Mrs. Frye No. 2 testified that she married Frye at Tia Juana on January 1, last, and separated from him twenty-four days later when she learned he already had a wife, one from whom he had not obtained a divorce. Mrs. Frye No. 1 testified that she is the legal wife of Frye and that he now is incarcerated in the County Jail on a bigamy charge. The annulment was granted.

SPRING NOW DUE FOR POLITICIANS

Candidates for Bench Will be First to Get Busy

Nominating Petitions to be Issued March 1

City Ticket Primary Date Set for May 7

Whatever the almanacs say, spring is near—at least for the politicians. In a municipal election year—and this is such a year—spring comes for the politicians on the day that the City Clerk begins furnishing the candidates for the elective offices with the nominating petition forms. Therefore, their first harbinger of the approaching end of the winter of their discontent (for some of them, anyway) is the announcement by City Clerk Dominguez that he will begin distributing nominating petition forms on March 1, next.

But the activities of the candidates for Municipal Court judgeships will begin even before that day, for under the law they are required to file with the City Clerk not more than ten days nor less than five days prior to the first day on which their nominating papers may be circulated and signed, a written and signed declaration of their intention to become candidates. The aspirant for a judgeship is also required to state for which of the number-designated courts he intends to become a candidate.

FIRST DAY TO FILE

The first day for filing nominating petitions with the City Clerk will be on March 8 and the last day on March 28. A filing fee of $10 must be paid by each candidate. Nominating petitions must be signed by at least 500 qualified electors of the city and the petitions of candidates for the Council must be signed by registered voters residing within the boundary lines of the respective Councilmanic districts. Moreover, the City Clerk's office will check all petitions to see that voters do not sign more than one petition for the same office.

The date of the primary election is May 7, and candidates will be nominated then to run at the general municipal election for the following offices: Mayor, City Attorney, Controller, Councilman (fifteen districts,) Municipal Court judge (ten to be elected,) member of the Board of Education (four to be elected.)

LAW REQUIREMENTS

No person is eligible to nomination to an elective office who is not a qualified elector of the city of Los Angeles at the time of his nomination. Furthermore, a candidate for the Council must have been a resident of the city for at least two years prior to his election.

City Clerk Dominguez has started the preliminary work incident to the primary election and now is busily engaged in the organization of 1583 election boards, consisting of four members each, in the city proper and the Los Angeles city school districts.

WHEELER'S ACTIVITIES GAIN

Reflecting the efficiency of the Bureau of Investigation headed by Lucien C. Wheeler under Dist.-Atty. Fitts, reports summarizing the work covered by the organization during January show that $20,695 in fines was collected as compared with $6773 during the month of December.

Wheeler's staff handled a total of 310 investigations during the month and 172 of these cases were assigned to the prohibition-enforcement detail formerly under Capt. Tom O'Brien and now headed by Capt. Clyde Plummer. This detail reported that forty-seven defendants were convicted and forty-nine pleaded guilty.

Of the 310 investigations undertaken, 175 were completed. Seventy-four were carried over from the preceding month.

Fifty-six bunko investigations were made by Wheeler's men during January, while only thirty-four were made in December.

How many other persons live there and what is their relationship to you? Have you been a party to a divorce in this or any other jurisdiction? Have you arranged to pay or paid your attorney's fee in this case?

A separate list of questions for husbands is prepared, but it follows the same line of inquiry, to give the court complete information upon which to decide the intricate questions of alimony and custody of children. With answers from husband and wife before the court, it will be comparatively easy to settle differences, Judge Keetch said, and if additional information is required, it can be obtained from the litigants on the witness stand.

FEDERAL COURT TO SET TAILOR SHOP TRIALS

E. Verbank Bunt and J. A. McCarthy are scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge James to have their cases set for trial. The two are accused of concealing assets of a tailor shop owned by Bunt at the time bankruptcy proceedings were in progress. It is charged that Bunt turned over to McCarthy a number of suit patterns at a time that they figured as assets of the tailor shop.

CITY'S BOARDS CAN'T DODGE TAX

Park Department be left out of any lighting installation, if the department refused to bear its burden of the cost.

Director Knox then took up the matter of forcing the department to pay rent for its City Hall offices and he gave it as his opinion that, under Sec. 33 of the City Charter, the self-sustaining departments could undoubtedly be made to pay for the space they used in the City Hall. He did not definitely recommend that this be done, however, saying that he thought that the Mayor and the Council together should work out some definite plan for regarding the payment of assessments by the self-controlling departments.

OMIT IMPROVEMENTS

The Finance Committee then drew up its report advising that, not only in the specific instance of the Echo Park-avenue lighting, but in all similar cases the contemplated improvements be omitted from the frontage of the departments unwilling to bear their share of the cost. The report did not mention the matter of City Hall rent but the discussion in the committee at the time of the adoption of the report indicated that its members intended making an affirmative report on this matter also if no compromise could be reached with the departments.

The Council unanimously adopted the Finance Committee's recommendation on the lighting assessments.

Large Ore Body Reported Hit in Wenden Copper

It is reported that the Wenden Copper Mining Company near Wenden, Ariz., has uncovered a vein thirty-two feet in width carrying twenty feet of good ore running high in its copper and gold content.

The mine management, it is asserted, has purchased a twelve-drill air compressor and a two-stage hoisting plant, the company planning to resume shaft-sinking operations with a large force divided into three shifts. The company is now building a timber-framing shed to be used in connection with the construction of the proposed 500-ton capacity milling plant.

The uncovering of this large body of commercial ore on the 1000-foot level of the Wenden mine indicates that the ore-bearing ledges of the district go to deep horizons; this condition adding value and promise to all mining properties of that section.

YOUTHFUL SCIENTIST LAUDED BY EINSTEIN

Arthur Leroy Cohen and Letter He Received

Several years ago when Dr. Albert Einstein advanced his celebrated theory concerning relativity he stated there were only five persons in the world capable of thoroughly understanding it. A sixth may have been added in the person of a 15-year-old Los Angeles high school boy who has received a personal letter from the noted scientist.

The boy is Arthur Leroy Cohen, son of Benjamin H. Cohen, 2716 Cimarron street. Arthur is a student at the Mt. Vernon Junior High School, and has written scores of articles dealing with scientific subjects which many of his teachers declare are much beyond their understanding.

The letter from Dr. Einstein pertains to an article written by the boy for a newspaper in which he analyzed and explained the theory of relativity. Dr. Einstein's letter stated the boy's article "demonstrated beyond a doubt that he had a thorough understanding of the subject."

The text of the letter did not have the tone of having been written for a boy and the professor discussed the theory of relative distance in answer to a question the boy had asked.

"That subject," stated Dr. Einstein in answer to the query," is unanswerable and I believe it is beyond human knowledge to comprehend."

The letter was in German and was signed "A. Einstein."

I haven't made the grade," commented the intrepid flyer following her landing, which was almost a serious accident as her plane barely missed telephone wires at the end of the field. Then she declined to comment further as she greeted her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crosson of San Diego, and a sister, Miss Zelma Crosson of Pasadena.

Officials of the flight were Joe Nikrent, official timer for the National Aeronautic Association; Floyd Adams and W. P. Balderson of the Pacific Scientific Instrument Company, which supplied the sealed barograph, and C. F. Leinesch, head of the aviation department of the Union Oil Company.

Miss Crosson will be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given tonight by the Southern California chapter of the National Aeronautic Association in the Chamber of Commerce banquet room. She will relate her story of the flight as a feature of the gathering.

Geology Class Making Study of Big Silver

Prof. W. J. Miller of Los Angeles, head of the department of geology of the University of California, with his class in geology, is making a study of the ore deposits exposed in the Big Silver mine in Inyo county, and surrounding rock formations.

Prof. Miller is recognized as an authority on basic rocks, and as the ore bodies of the Big Silver have been developed from the surface down through the overlying sedimentaries to the underlying basic rocks, an excellent opportunity is afforded him and his class to make a complete study of the true fissure veins of the mine cutting through all formations of that section.

John D. Fields of this city, president of the Big Silver, returning from the mine after installing Prof. Miller and his pupils in camp headquarters, states that work in mine development and operation is progressing most satisfactorily.

In opening its new town hall, Ballymena, Ireland, has regained its local title of the "City of Seven Towers."

Today's Bible Text

To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them Isaiah viii:20.

SOME EXCUSE

When a woman spends her big money for lingerie she must be lazy in self-defense.

ONE OF HIS CURVES

LADIES OF THE CABINET

Every day some voice rises in urge of a woman in the Cabinet. Maybe the idea is to have one of the handy kitchen models.

PASSIONATE PARSLEY

The have found parsley over nine feet high growing in the Mountains of the Moon, in Central Africa. But we like our parsley slight and tender and do not seem able to work up any great enthusiasm over a parsley growth that is harvested with an ax.

THE JURY WOMAN

Some of the ladies are learning that while being on a jury in a big case may be an adventure it is one fraught with embarrassments and unpleasantries. Being cooped up night after night amid scenes and associates not of one's own chosing is not suggestive of peace and comfort.

AIMING TO PLEASE

Recent shakeups in criminal circles in New York and Chicago are said to have added somewhat to our poolroom census. Maybe we should look after our visitors better, but the only thing that suggests itself just now is to take them over to the Hall of Justice and show them the new jailer.

BAD MANS

Morning after her wedding a bride gave her husband her life's savings because he said he wanted to start in business so that she would never have to work. He must have gone into some kind of traveling business, as she has never seen or heard of him since. She wanted the money for a rainy day, but this guy even takes her umbrella. He didn't want the wife to work, but it looks as if she would have to get money enough for a divorce.

THE WHOLE HOG

The administration rather preferred to have its cruisers as an emergency ration. But the politicians would not stand for anything as simple as that. Even some of those who were pacifists or who objected to cruiser construction of any kind, when they found the naval bill commanded a majority, voted to spend the full amount and as soon as possible. They let no suggestion of thrift or timeliness steal into their conception of the government's business.

WHISKERS AND WAGES

Russian extras in the movie game were said to have gone on a strike for $6 a day instead of the $5 they have been receiving. Two or three Russian pictures of late have made them believe that whiskers are in demand and they crave the top of the market. As a matter of fact whiskers are usually accepted as an evidence of thrift and a bozo with brush on his map is presumed to be free from the usual toll of the barber. On that account the Russian actors don't need $6. As a matter of fact, they might be pruned down to $4.85 and that is what they may yet have to accept.

THE ALIMONY CLUB

There are a great many wicked and dangerous things in the world, but a prominent Chicago jurist is quoted as saying that alimony is the greatest curse in America. Those are harsh words, but the judge goes on and tries to prove his contention. He says that if the alimony plaster had never been thought of in the marriage game divorces would be comparatively rare. Marriages would last much longer and lots of wives would have found comfort and contentment with the old love instead of experimenting in new fields. It must be admitted that if there were no alimony payments in the world it would be hard to strike a social balance for a few weeks.

RIGHTS OF NEUTRALS

If the international conference proposed by Senator Borah to redefine neutral rights at sea could arrive at a formula acceptable both to the United States and Great Britain, it would make war between these two countries even less of a possibility than it now is. Virtually all the difficulties we have ever had with the British government have been over this vexing question. It was the cause of the War of 1812; brought the two countries near to a third conflict during the Civil War; and was especially acute during the World War, in which, however, German trespass was so much more flagrant than British that the latter came to be overlooked and forgiven. In that struggle, with our entrance, practically the whole of the sea code we had been contending for for a century was scrapped.

That code was largely comprised in the words, "freedom of the seas" or "free ships make free goods," and under it we claimed the right to trade with belligerents as with neutrals, in the absence of an effective blockade, and subject to seizure of war materials destined to ports of belligerents. "Freedom of the seas" was one of the Wilsonian Fourteen Points, accepted "in principle" by the Allies at the time of the Armistice, but rejected in the Treaty of Versailles, which failed conspicuously to mention or provide for it. The treaty, in fact, provides for the opposite, since members of the League of Nations are obligated by the covenant to impose an economic boycott on aggressor nations.

Viewed dispassionately, the prospects that the American doctrine can be revived do not seem hopeful. It is even questionable if it ought to be revived. What is needed is a sea rule designed to keep neutrals out of any war that may be in progress, and the historic American contention, unless greatly changed in some of its implications, seems better calculated to draw them into it.

Since it is accepted even under the American doctrine that shipments of contraband destined to belligerent ports may be seized, and since virtually everything is now considered contraband, it follows that there can be no safe sea trading with belligerents, whether or not there is a blockade. There remains only the right of neutrals to trade with neutrals, and even this has been modified, in practice, to exclude goods which may reach a belligerent by land trading. Cargoes destined to Norway, to Sweden, to Holland and to Denmark were, it will be remembered, freely seized by the one side, freely sunk by the other during the World War, without even apology.

Thus possible salvage from the wrecked "freedom of the seas" doctrine seems likely to be scanty; but what remains could well be defined with clearness by an international conference. Such a conference, also, could well take up the question of moving the "three-mile limit" a reasonable distance out to sea; thirty miles or even fifty miles is not too far under modern conditions for a nation to have exclusive control of its adjacent waters. Then there is the question of what rights a nonmember nation might have of trading with a nation against which the League of Nations had declared an economic boycott—one of extreme delicacy in which the United States, as the principal nonmember nation, has a great interest.

As matters stand now, and as they stood in the last war, neutrals have only such rights at sea as they are willing to fight for and have power to enforce. Whether a code could be devised that can stand the test of war is doubtful; it never has been done; but it can do no harm to attempt it.

THE BLUE-SKY LAW

That the California Corporate Securities Act needs some changes and some strengthening rather than a general overhaul seems to be the consensus of committees of the State Bar and of the present Corporation Commissioner, in their testimony before a legislative committee which has before it a completely new measure modeled on the law of Illinois. Corporation Commissioner Friedlander wants, among other things, authority to prosecute asserted violations without the intervention of the District Attorney. The State Bar suggests amendments which would do away with overlapping jurisdiction of various State commissions, and sets forth clearly the field in which each is to operate. They join in denouncing the proposed substitution of the Illinois system.

It is frequently urged that the Corporate Securities Act failed to prevent the most colossal fraud in the history of the West in the Julian Petroleum matter. But the overissue of stock, which was the hub and center of the Julian fraud, was in violation of the law, and criticism is, therefore, rather to be directed to the failure of enforcement than to the law itself. And this failure is hardly to be laid at the door of the Corporation Commission.

What is most needed is also most difficult to obtain—understanding on the part of the investing public that the Corporation Commission, in the very nature of things, cannot give complete protection; it is at best an additional safeguard. It cannot guarantee honesty and good intention on the part of corporation promoters, nor can it guarantee that the managers of any corporation will be men of good business judgment. It cannot even guarantee that its orders will be obeyed. The commission, however, has been able to prevent and to obtain punishment of fraud to a certain extent, and to that extent its operations have been beneficial.

There is much to be said for and against the granting of prosecuting power to the Corporation Commission. It would result in more efficient prosecution on the one hand; on the other it might set up the Corporation Commissioner as a dictator of business in ways that would hardly be wise. It might be worth a trial, however, since efficient prosecution of corporate securities cases is not being had at present.

TONY AND JOE

More than 11,000 sports paid a total of $46,000 to see a flyweight battle in Chicago the other night. If they get the right card this indoor milling will fill the stable every time. This is not the only place where the game is going strong.

The
LEE SIDE O' L·A
BY Lee Shippey

DO YOU know that 6000 families within fifty miles of the Los Angeles City Hall raise 90 per cent of all the thoroughbred rabbits raised in America, giving occupation to 17,000 men, women and children in an industry which represents about $5,000,000—and that the only rabbit packing-house in the country is here?

Neither do we. But a man in the rabbit-raising business, who ought to know, gives us these figures, and cites an article from the Saturday Evening Post which refers to Southern California rabbit raising as "a $5,000,000 industry."

Ah, yes, there's money—for somebody—in rabbits, just as surely as two and two make twenty-two.

Alarm Over Birth Rate

Thirty thousand rabbits a week are born in Los Angeles territory, our informant avers, but that is not nearly enough. At that rate, one grieves, the average family in this area can eat only one rabbit every fifty-seven weeks, and the population of the whole United States may enjoy only one rabbit in twenty years. Besides that, he says, men's felt hats now are made of rabbit fur, while mother's coat takes the rabbit skin once used to wrap Baby Bunting in. Some of the skins go all the way to Europe, where they are made into coats which American tourists buy. Not long ago a Hollywood movie star returned from Paris and was photographed for the paper in her imported coat of lapin fur. "Lapin" is French for rabbit. But possibly she didn't know that. It certainly didn't look like rabbit.

At any of the larger rabbitries around Los Angeles one may see furs which look wealthy and imposing, all made from the hides of humble bunnies.

It's a Fur Cry

Yet somehow rabbit raising has not proved the gold mine it should, our rabbit-raising friend tells us. Up to date, he complains, New York and Paris furriers have made more profit from it than the local raisers. But where is the cattle range of yesteryear, he asks. He predicts that without rabbits America cannot long make both ends meat.

Rabbit raising is a comparatively new field of endeavor, he says, and is just getting around to sound business management. But already some of the rabbitries are flourishing, and before long they will be recognized as important sources of prosperity in Southern California.

They Keep Busy

Which recalls a typographical error which crept into our advertising columns not long ago. The want ad read:

"Helper wanted for busy rabbit. No experience required."

It rather startled us at first. But we found that it wasn't an advertisement for a mother's helper. It should have read "busy rabbitry."

Out of the Mouths of Modern Babes

A Glendale girl of 10 had never learned any prayers, her parents being busy saving their soles by using their car. When grandma came to visit them she was shocked and immediately set to work to teach Barbara a prayer. Barbara learned it readily—apparently—but the word "hallowed" was not in her vocabulary and she made a perfectly natural guess at it, as she knew a little boy whose name was Harold and who was called Hal. So the next evening her parents were a little startled to hear their hope and pride earnestly pray: "Harold Lloyd be thy name."

GO ON FRANCINA

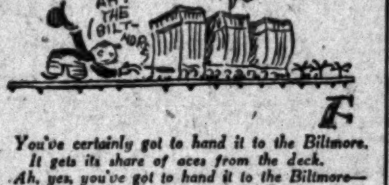
Ready With Suggestions

Will Herford, writer and motion-picture actor, dropped in while we were writing the above, and it recalled a story of his famous brother, Oliver Herford. Oliver had been so bad one day that he hurried off to bed without being asked, and pretended to be sound asleep when his mother got home. But mother was not so easily fooled. She shook the youngster awake and exclaimed:

"Oliver, I don't know what I'll do with you!"

Oliver was silent a moment. Then he offered a helpful suggestion. "Mother," he said, earnestly, "try prayer."

Just a Handout



You've certainly got to hand it to the Biltmore,
It gets its share of aces from the deck.
Ah, yes, you've got to hand it to the Biltmore—
Especially when the waiter brings the check.

CHINESE CHEAP LABOR

In pursuance of its program of economic and industrial reform the Nationalist government sent out from Nanking several months ago an official observer named Sun Fo to travel about America and Europe and study labor and wages. Mr. Sun recently made a report to the newly formed labor bureau at the Chinese capital, and his recommendations are receiving serious attention.

Realizing that there was something vitally wrong with industrial conditions in China, where many laborers, after toiling hard and long for 15 to 20 cents a day had found it more profitable, from their point of view, to join the numerous bandit gangs, the government was determined to correct the false economic basis upon which its people were working.

"We are ruined by Chinese cheap labor," said Nye in Bret Harte's "Heathen Chinee," and it seems that in China at the present time it is the same story. The flood of labor there is unlimited and there is little machine production. An American worker can produce a hundred articles of a certain kind while the Chinese workman is turning out one. This, Mr. Sun concludes, in the light of his foreign observations, does not in reality mean cheap, but costly labor, and he explains the paradox by saying that if production were more greatly aided by machinery the living standards of the Chinese would be higher, as China would have more products to sell to the world. He informs his government that only in economic reorganization lies the hope of the laboring classes and of the nation.

Communistic propaganda has penetrated and infected all the ranks of labor in China. "The Communists," Mr. Sun wisely remarked, "are always ready to talk about distribution, but will not talk about production." Since poverty is the chief product of the present Chinese system, he finds that the Communists' schemes promise nothing better than "the equal distribution of poverty."

Poverty never will be overcome in China until a means is found of increasing production and of permitting the whole people to share in the returns from it, as they do in America.

TOO SOFT-HEARTED

Listening to the specious arguments of the sob sisterhood for the abolition of capital punishment has made Austria a marked example of what not to do when petitioners for clemency for brutal murderers come around with their pleas to substitute imprisonment for hanging or electrocution.

In the last two years in Austria at least a dozen notorious murderers have been saved from the noose and several granted their freedom at the hands of tender-hearted juries. Resorts to lynch law have been threatened in Vienna and other Austrian cities of late because of this loose administration of justice. Not long ago a jury in Vienna acquitted a man who had shot and killed another who was about to enter the witness box in a courtroom. A court official thereupon issued a warning that "such verdicts are a sign of decadence, and if they continue may lead to the establishment of the Balkan custom of blood feuds." And the officer went on to say: "It is perfectly comprehensible that the children and wife of such a victim as Wolff, killed like a dog and flung aside unavenged, should take the law into their own hands."

According to the Vienna correspondent of the New York Times, since the abolition of capital punishment in Austria murders have increased fourfold. "Her spreading fame for the acquittal of slayers," says this writer, "is making Austria the goal of murderers from Germany."

In this country there are several States in which such fiends as Hickman and Northcott could not be made to suffer the proper penalty for their crimes. In Michigan there lately has been a saturnalia of bloody crime which can be punished only by life imprisonment. The Detroit Free Press is leading a campaign to correct this condition, and it is to be hoped that it will be successful.

THE FIRST SKYSCRAPER

There are skyscrapers here, there and everywhere over American soil and it may be said without jesting that the skyscraper is the nation's upstanding contribution to the architecture of the world. They have been tossing them up for a couple of generations, yet it was amusing to note the other day that a Minneapolis architect, Leroy S. Buffington, was paid the first royalty he had ever received by virtue of a patent on the skyscraper he obtained back in 1888. The term, of course, involves the skeleton of steel on which is later hung the draperies of brick, stone, or tile. A skyscraper is not merely a tall building, but one of metal framework, chained to bedrock.

The Buffington patent has never been seriously considered and the payment of a $2250 royalty at this time is merely a gesture of good will on the part of another Minneapolis man who rather seeks to establish his city as the home of this type. But there seems to be no question that Chicago was the original habitat of the skyscraper. It seems to be of record that the building of the Home Insurance Company, which still stands at the corner of LaSalle and Adams streets in that city, was the first edifice reared of this modern construction. The architect was the late W. L. B. Jenney and the structure was completed and occupied in 1885, three years before the Buffington patent was dated. Almost immediately the idea was taken up and expanded by other Chicago architects and the old town has been cluttered up with them ever since.

It is at least difficult to ring Minneapolis into the picture as the sire and site of the skyscraper family. It could hardly be said that the skyscraper was the work of one man. It was in process. It had been coming for years. It was a form of evolution. It was America seeking to express itself in steel and stone. There had always seemed to be a limit in construction. Now it was thrown away.

HIS OWN LAWYER

Northcott made a poor attorney, but look at the rotten client he had.

THE SPECTER AT THE TRIAL

BY BEN S. LEMMON

A shadow sat within the courtroom where Asa Keyes had been on trial the last few weeks.

A ghost which brooded over the proceedings—a ghost whose mournful, reproachful gaze was forever fixed upon Asa Keyes.

At intervals a tiny breath of icy sadness moved from the shadow toward the prisoner at the bar, over the crowded courtroom. It was the sigh of the ghost—the melancholy sigh of bitter disappointment, of grievous amaze, of measureless chagrin.

What was this shadow? This ghost? So vague, so intangible, yet so surely sensed?

What mighty impulse brought it hurrying from the abyss to sit unsummoned in this courtroom trial? To sit and brood with sick and sorrowful concern?

No appalling drama of love or hatred or jealousy, of unbridled passion, appalling perversion or degeneracy protruded to the startled ken.

No man's life was in jeopardy in this trial. The hangman's noose gaped for no man's neck. The menace of the gibbet, the knotted rope, the yawning grave—these familiar horrors of the usual courtroom drama were not here.

Here was no enthralling mystery. No love interest. No sex domination. No wild surging of the passions. Only the old, old, sordid, sorrowful story of gold—the greed of money, the need of money, the sad, perverted meed of money.

Only the recital of the penetration of those dark and dismal depths to which men have ever descended in quest of gold, at risk of limb, at risk of life, at risk of that far dearer and more precious thing sometimes called honor, sometimes named conscience, more properly known as man's soul.

Here was but the trial of a man—once the proud and trusted servant of the people—who sat charged by the people with the betrayal of that trust—for money. His liberty was at stake. Nothing more? Ah, is that true? Was all else worth while already lost?

Behind the frowning mask of the prisoner at the bar, moved ever the keen, analytical and logical brain of the man Asa Keyes—the man who for more than twenty years prosecuted with unvarying severity and pitiless impersonality the men and women charged with offenses against the people of California. Ensconsed in the very citadel of that brain, where memory and conscience sit enthroned, what endless progression of pictures passed, remorseless and unchallenged.

For him, the accused, what slight significance the trial itself must have attached. How remote and trivial the issues of law over which distinguished counsel clashed and cavilled. After all, what mattered to the innermost Asa Keyes what a certain witness might be saying or what subtle or intricate considerations might be motivating his testimony?

The busy, alert brains of the attorneys for and against could have no suspicion that the man most concerned in their conflicting plans of battle was giving little heed to strategy or tactics. The honorable court was preoccupied always in keeping the contest before him confined within the rules prescribed by law and precedent.

Only the ghost could know and understand. The pale, sad, solemn ghost who had come so far, unbidden and unsummoned, to this trial, to see and hear and learn first-hand if truth there were in those incredible reports brought by what winds of perversity or fate to break his peace on those far-flung shores beyond the River Styx.

None could perceive the wan, woeful, watching ghost! None? Ah, surely, the eye of the mind of that man who sat stern, stolid, inscrutable and silent at the bar of justice—that eye must plainly have perceived this specter at the trial.

Through the cloud of years that have been gathered into the unescapable past, a thousand, thousand scenes, incidents and settings passed before the captivated mental vision of the accused—the man Asa Keyes—the once proud servant of the people; a thousand, thousand emotions, fears, hopes, triumphs, failures, visions, realizations, aspirations, disappointments, abandonments; a vast conglomeration of sounds — words, phrases, counsellings, warnings, pleadings, prayers, pledges, promises, vows—alas! so many vows long since broken and forgotten.

In the vast chaos of the endless reels that only Asa Keyes and the ghost might see there was an order, a continuity, an inexorable pursuit of purpose, controlled by the superdirector, conscience. Through this stupendous phantasmagoria of sight and sound and formless, voiceless thought moved unimpeded and distinct a thread of luminosity. Or was it a stream? A current? A theme? An infallible, inexorable purpose? What?

All through this long, tedious, drama-fraught trial the unbidden ghost waited. Watched not the progress of the trial. Watched the man—Asa Keyes. Waited not for the words of testimony that might come from the witness on the stand. Waited for the denouement of the continuity that conscience had directed and from which there could be no escape—either for Asa Keyes or the poor, pitiful ghost!

At last it was finished—the trial. Remained but the verdict of his peers—of Asa Keyes's peers—the people of the State of California—whom so oft he had exhorted as public prosecutor, as District Attorney, in most forcible and aggressive fashion, to mete out justice without mercy that law and order might proceed tranquilly and undisturbed in this fair State of California.

The ghost waited. The attorneys, the impartial court, the spectators waited. But Asa Keyes's mind and spirit were far away. Let us observe:

He is sitting in the private office of a District Attorney of other days, listening, heeding, learning. The scene is of ten years ago. The lips that are speaking have long since been hushed in the uncompromising silence of the tomb. But how vivid that scene! How piercingly distinct those words of friendly counsel and of faith!

"Asa, I want to have a heart-to-heart talk with you. I have in mind a man whom they called the Incorruptible One. With his passion for phraseology, Thomas Carlyle added the words, 'Sea-Green.' I have never been able to satisfy myself why the coupling of these words makes them so mightily meanful. But to me, the 'Sea-Green Incorruptible One' stands for just about the last word and idea of what a public servant should be. Whatever the weaknesses, frailties, faults and vices of that man Robespierre may have been, the fact that he trod his incorruptible way in that horror-laden time of blood and crime and anarchy and corruption, known as the French Revolution, always the Incorruptible One—the Sea-Green Incorruptible—that fact makes him stand out one of the real men, the rare men, of all time.

"You know me, Asa, probably as well as one man can know another. I want you to know that my highest ambition is to be known as an honest man, an incorruptible man. I have many faults. I have many enemies, many critics. I hope that, when death calls me, not one of them can find one slightest fact upon which to base a charge that ever my official or private life was tainted by corruption.

"You know as well as I know that the need of our city and county, our State and nation, is for honest men in office—incorruptible men. I have always given you my full confidence and faith. The time is drawing near when I shall be leaving this office and it is my wish and purpose to pass it on to you. I have made many mistakes and many enemies, Asa. Doubtless you will do the same. But I charge you, by all the faith and friendship I have given you, by all your own best and finest visions and convictions, keep yourself and this office CLEAN. The District Attorney's office of this county must be like Caesar's wife—always above suspicion."

The scene and the words passed. Asa Keyes, the accused, sat stolid, inscrutable, jaws sternly clenched, eyes fixed on the table before him. And the sad, sorrowful, suspicious ghost waited.

There was a stir in the courtroom. The jury was ready to bring in the verdict. The accused sat motionless, imperturbable, stoic. Not so the ghost—the specter at this trial. His searching, questioning gaze seemed to burn into the very soul of the accused.

Caesar's wife? Incorruptible? Beyond suspicion!

The former District Attorney shook off his reverie, freed himself for a moment from the accusing, reproachful gaze of the terrible ghost while the foreman of the jury read the verdict. Then the head of Asa Keyes slowly bowed. The eyes that had struck terror to so many other accused men glazed dully as they sought once more inevitably the compelling gaze of the unbidden ghost.

For a long, long second the eyes of the ghost looked deep into the eyes of Asa Keyes, into the soul of Asa Keyes! A shudder!

The ghost of Thomas Lee Woolwine, the former District Attorney of Los Angeles county, who selected and insisted upon Asa Keyes as his successor, slowly turned and vanished.

Was it a sigh? A sob? What was that whispered mutterance from the heart of the stricken man? "The Sea-Green Incorruptible One! Oh, my God!"

NATURE'S HIEROGLYPH

Though I could paint the iridescent glow
Of dawn on yonder mountain, flinging high
Its beauty challenge, fearless, to the sky;
Could reproduce the ethers as they blow
The white celestial lilies of the snow
To orchid, rose and purple; or imply
By magic words the miracles that vie
When morning's jeweled fountains overflow;

I still should know it all inadequate.
With poignant insufficiency I yearn
Its esoteric meaning to unroll,
And break my heart in trying to translate
The hieroglyph which all mankind would learn—
That thing the mountain writes upon the soul.

EMANCIPATION OF SPIRIT ANALYZED FROM PULPIT

Pastor Says Freedom Christ Gave Fits for Kingdom of Heaven But Efforts Must be Made

"Lincoln not only set slaves free, he set them free for freedom," declared Rev. William C. Isett at Union Church yesterday in a sermon in which he brought out the transcendent virtues of the Christ and of all liberty-loving men who have followed in His footsteps.

"It is one thing to say to a man 'You are free' and another thing to fit him for citizenship," said Mr. Isett.

"It is the same with the freedom which Christ gives us. We are freed from the penalty and guilt of the law when we accept His sacrifice. He has made it all right with the heavenly government so far as we are concerned. The papers have all been signed. All we have to do is to walk out from the authority of sin. But to fit us for the citizenship of the kingdom of heaven, which He desires to exercise, it takes the Holy Spirit many years. If we look at the negro race today in the United States we congratulate ourselves upon the schools and social advantages which have been afforded them, but we have not yet solved the social status between whites and negroes, nor has the status between negroes and whites been solved in Africa, where the social relation is reversed. When we compare the average man with the social status of the angels we see how far below their perfect holiness he is and how little fitted he is for their companionship. Yet it was for freedom that Christ set us free, and it is this problem of social, intellectual and spiritual equality which He is solving in our complex civilization here and hereafter."

BOOKER WASHINGTON CALLED LIBERATOR

"The history of any people is the history of its greatest men," declared Dr. John Snape in his sermon yesterday at Temple Baptist Church. Voicing the opinion that Toussaint L'Ouverture, Frederick Douglass and Booker T. Washington represent the moral, political, professional, educational and industrial possibilities of the negro race, Dr. Snape spoke in part as follows:

"If success is to be measured by difficulties met and mastered, Booker T. Washington was one of the most successful men of his generation. L'Ouverture was a militarist, a liberator, a dictator; Douglass, an orator, a jurist, a statesman; Washington an organizer, an educator, a philanthropist. By sheer force of will he pushed his way through ignorance and poverty like a lily pushing its head above the ordure of a cesspool and, as he struggled upward, he brought his race up with him. His method insisted on a world of worth, based on industry."

"SPIRIT" DISCUSSED BY CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

"Spirit" was the subject of the lesson - sermon yesterday at all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. In the lesson-sermon, citations were read from the Bible, including an account of healing works of Christ Jesus in the land of Gennesaret, from Matthew xiv, "And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased; and besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and as many as touched were made perfectly whole." Correlative selections were also read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, including the passage, "Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ-healing. He taught his followers that his religion had a divine principle, which would cast out error and heal both the sick and the sinning."

DEEP TRUTHS FOUND IN BOOK OF JONAH

"The Central Teaching of the Book of Jonah" was Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper's theme yesterday at West Hollywood Baptist Church. Following is an abstract of the sermon: "The Book of Jonah with which so many unintelligent and irreverent people deal in a light, and even flippant way, has, as its glorious, primary purpose, the presentation of heaven's noblest revelation, namely, the universal and immeasurable love of God. Whether parable or historic fact, matters little compared with the transcendently profound truths here in projected. Rightly interpreted, this ancient writing is neither a stumbling block to the believer nor a triumph to the sceptic. The uppermost thought in the author's mind is the universality of the mission of God's chosen people to evangelize the world."

HUMANISM LAUDED BY REV. T. C. ABEL

Rev. Theodore C. Abel, pastor of the Hollywood Humanist Society, preached on "The Meaning of Life" yesterday at the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce. He spoke, in part, as follows: "Life is a geologic process and from the standpoint of the universe has meaning only in geological terms. Its manifestation in living organisms is dependent upon certain definite conditions of temperature, climate and environment and hence its meaning must vary with the standpoint of each organism. To man the meaning of life can be expressed only in terms of values. Humanism, in its emphasis upon the development and enrichment of human character and happiness, offers the best possible avenue to an understanding of life's values."

INVESTIGATING SPIRIT CALLED SPIRITUAL

Dr. Sheldon Shepard began a series of sermons on "Advancing Intelligence and Religion," at the Universalist Church yesterday. He said in part: "No religious person wishes really to retard the progress of advancing intelligence. Objection to new ideas is based on the assumption that the new is false. In industry, invention and science, it is usually true that the new is better than the old, safer, more reliable, nearer the ultimate truth. Why should this not be true in the field of ideas? One of the chief of spiritual gifts is the desire to know. The scientific spirit is in that sense spiritual. Any religious teachng which eliminates the desire to know, or handicaps it, is to that extent mistaken in its spirituality."

CREATOR MANIFESTS UNIVERSE BY WILL

"Imagination reveals, will pushes, love thrills and reason judges, balances and directs," said Swami Dhirananda in his lecture yesterday at Mt. Washington Center. "Will without imagination produces aimlessness, without reason recklessness and without love, destruction. Imagination without will makes an unpractical planner, without reason an unbalanced dreamer and without love a cold cynic. An ordinary man has these four in weak and great man in strong and right proportions. Man engages himself by will and frees himself by imagination. Just the same, by action we knock at one door of reality, as by dreaming beauty, another. God has manifested the universe by will. It is will in its preconscious form that develops a man from a cell. It is imagination in its preconscious form that gives the pattern for the preconscious will to work by to make a particular kind of man. Imagination gives the picture and the plan and will gives the motive power. These two are separated in man, but united in God. Aligned with their source and end, which are God, imagination and will give us happiness and liberation and, where not aligned, suffering and bondage."

"MOTHER EARTH" SEEN AS SENTIENT BEING

The world as a living, conscious being, mothering and guiding her children, the sentient beings that dwell upon her breast, was discussed yesterday by Dr. E. E. Thomas in his sermon to the Rosicrucian Brotherhood at Music Arts Hall. Dr. Thomas spoke in part as follows: "More and more mankind is coming into the realization that man is a microcosm of the macrocosm, a little universe within the universe. More and more is man seeking to ferret out the inner secrets of nature, and nearer and nearer is he to the solution of the mighty secrets that lie hidden within the bosom of Mother Earth. In referring to the earth as a living entity, we should not get the idea that it is a form shut up in this sphere of energy at the center of the earth, or that the varying forces of the planet are confined to particular zones, any more than it could be said that the Soul of man is shut up in his heart, muscles and nerves. Man must learn to draw upon the inexhaustible resources of Mother Earth and to remember that the creative forces poured out upon her in the beginning still vibrate through all the kingdoms of nature and will go on and on vibrating and creating and re-creating as long as the planet endures."

PASTOR SAYS NOTHING GAINED BY HURRY

"In order to realize the meaning of the Passion Season, we must take time for leisure and meditate upon the theme of Redemption," said Dr. J. George Dorn in his sermon yesterday at Hollywood Lutheran Church. Hurry and thoughts of our Savior's passion do not go hand in hand," said Dr. Dorn. "In order to realize the meaning of the passion season, we must take time for leisure. We must meditate upon the theme of redemption. Hurry and thoughts of our Savior's passion do not go hand in hand. There is an apparent slowness, an apparent leisure in all of God's procedure in blessing and guiding humanity. God never hurries. He moves with infinite ease. He takes an age to perfect a single truth. God believed in man and therefore refused to hurry his development. You never redeem anything by hurrying it up. May this Lenten season, which begins next Wednesday, be characterized by this Godly element of leisure and faith."

POOR AIM NO CRIME

Court Discharges Girl Who Threw at Disturber and Hit Officer

Hitting a police officer with a water bottle is not disturbance of the peace, Municipal Judge Ballard ruled in ordering charges dismissed against Edith Turner, waitress in a cafe at Twelfth street and Central avenue.

Witnesses introduced by Deputy City Prosecutor Margid testified that Edith had called in Officer Gentil to arrest Henry Dickman, who she said had cursed her without cause. Dickman was not there when Gentil arrived, but soon returned and started to curse the waitress as he entered, according to Gentil, who told the court that the girl then picked up a water bottle and threw it at Dickman. Her aim was poor and the bottle struck the officer instead.

Judge Ballard found Dickman guilty of disturbing the peace and sentenced him to serve sixty days in jail, but dismissed the same charge against Miss Turner, whom Gentil also accused.

BILL WOULD CURB FILMS IN SCHOOLS

State Teachers' Official Gives Data on Purpose of Heisinger Measure

Use of motion pictures in the public schools of California will be seriously curbed if a bill now before the Legislature becomes law, according to Roy W. Cloud, State executive secretary of the California Teachers' Association.

Financial support of visual education would be impaired under the terms of a measure introduced by Assemblyman Heisinger of Selma, Cloud says.

State funds allotted to schools and junior colleges for attendance of students at motion or still-picture exhibitions either within or outside the usual class periods would be cut off under the proposed plan. A further provision of the bill prohibits any public school or junior college district from paying anyone for work done in connection with such visual education.

"Mr. Heisinger's idea is that schools are charging too much average daily attendance for lectures and motion-picture entertainments," explains Mr. Cloud.

The Pacific Geographic Society is one of the bodies that is getting behind the opposition almost unanimously.

"Patient efforts of thousands of the more modern and progressive teachers, officials and civic workers are facing a dangerous setback as long as this bill is before the Legislature," declares Humphrey Read, managing director of the society.

Two Harbor Jobs Exempted From Civil Service Test

Application of the Board of Harbor Commissioners for exemption of the newly created position of assistant general manager of the Harbor Department from civil service regulations has been approved by the Civil Service Commission.

The position of film exhibitor for the Harbor Department, held by Lloyd Roberts, also has been exempted at request of the Harbor Board.

Both were exempted on the ground that the numerous and varied duties placed them outside the category of civil-service tests.

The assistant general manager requires the knowledge necessary for a dozen positions in one, while the film exhibitor handles advertising, delivers lectures, keeps the film of the harbor up to date and has varied other duties, it was argued.

No selection of an assistant general manager has yet been made.

Now, then, for the rest of the week you can fish for the radio stations and see if you can locate them in their new positions.—[Indianapolis News.

AERIAL LAW TWIST GIVEN ALIEN CASE

Accused Pair Have Been Held by Federal Agents in Chinese Smuggling Quiz

Failure of Federal immigration officials to find any alien Chinese who had been smuggled into the United States from a point south of Mexicali, and inability to prove that there was any violation of the Immigration Act, has forced them to bring an unusual charge against John Frank Smith, Jr., and oJhn Patrick Henry, said to be heads of a smuggling ring.

The two men are to appear today before United States District Judge Norcross, sitting for Judge Henning, for arraignment and plea on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government by transporting anplanes across the international border without permitting an inspection by government officials. It is considered an unusual procedure in the Federal courts.

The two men were suspected of having engineered the bringing of at least nine Chinese across the border, all of whom are said to have been seen when they alighted from airplanes, but none was captured. It is stated by immigration officials that the two men had leased six airplanes, capable of carrying four Chinese each, and were trying to arrange for a plane of twenty-five-passenger capacity for the border trip.

COUNCIL TO HEAR PROTESTS

The City Council is scheduled to hear protests today against the confirmation of assessments for the improvement of Park View street between Coronado street and Coronado Terrace and of the assessments for installation of sewers in Allesandro street between Riverside Drive and Oak Glen Place and other adjoining streets.

CHEF WYMAN'S Suggestions For TOMORROW'S MENU

Every Tuesday and Friday at 1:30 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

STUFFED ARTICHOKES

Select uniform sized artichokes, remove some of the outside leaves, cut off the stubs where the leaves have been broken and rub with lemon juice, cut off about an inch of the top, open by running cold water through them, and remove the fuzzy centers. Place in a saucepan, cover with water to which has been added the juice of half a lemon and allow to boil for fifteen minutes. Take out, drain well and fill with a dressing made with half a cup of dried mushrooms that have been soaked in hot water for half an hour. Chop, place in a saute pan one large tomato, one finely chopped onion, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, one cupful of chopped cooked ham, one-half a cupful of bread crumbs, one clove of garlic, one-fourth of a cupful of oil and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Allow to cook or simmer gently until the onion is tender. Add a little of the tomato liquor to keep from burning, remove from the fire, add one well-beaten egg, fill the artichokes with this mixture, place on top of them a strip of bacon, place in a baking pan, add a cupful of tomatoes to the pan, one carrot finely chopped, cover and bake for about twenty-five minutes.

POTATO PUFF

To two and one one-half cupfuls of hot mashed potato, add three-quarters of a cupful of milk, the yolks of two well-beaten eggs, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter and a seasoning of salt and paprika. Beat well, then fold in the beaten whites of two eggs. Pile lightly in a well-oiled baking dish and bake until puffed and brown.

LENTIL SOUP

One cupful of lentils, two cupfuls of milk, three tablespoonfuls of butter, six cupfuls of stock, one onion, one carrot, two stalks of celery, one tablespoonful of flour, one bay leaf, and seasonings. Wash the lentils, soak for twenty-four hours, drain well. Cut the onion, carrots and celery into small cubes, place in a saucepan with the butter and allow to simmer gently for fifteen minutes. Add the stock and lentils and simmer for two hours; then rub through a sieve. Return to the fire, add the milk, seasonings and bring to a boil. Moisten the flour with a little cold milk or cream and simmer for five minutes. Serve with croutons.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

The End of the Ball

When the ball of crochet cotton gets near the end, put it in your sewing basket for sewing on buttons and mending seams subject to strain. It is wonderfully strong for purposes of this sort.

Using Just a Part

When cutting a large onion with the intention of using just a part of it, cut it so the remaining piece contains the root. Then the onion will not dry out so soon and may be saved until used.

Ink Stains

If you are the sort of penman who usually finishes with inky fingers, you will be glad to know that the stains will come off immediately if rubbed with a cloth dampened with household ammonia. Rinse in clear water following the application.

Good Habits

Teach the youngster the importance of cleaning the unsightly basin after washing that pair of dirty hands. A cloth and cleanser is always at hand in our bathroom closet and young son is taught to clean up. It saves much work and embarrassment for mother.

Quick Work

When hubby comes home early and wants dinner in a hurry, cut the potatoes in small pieces, cover with hot water and boil. In about fifteen minutes they will be ready to mash and serve with the rest of the meal.

Odds and Ends

Yellowed lingerie may be tinted a delicate shade with ordinary soap dye.

If you rip out part of the hem of your skirt, sit down and mend it before you catch your heel in the loosened place and have a nasty fall.

If the sweet grass basket loses its fragrance and seems just like any ordinary basket, dip it in boiling water. It will bring back the delicate odor.

If you will heat the food chopper until very hot in boiling water before running raisins through it you will find they will not stick to the blades of the grinder.

Concerning Iodine

If too much iodine has been used and caused irritation, it can be relieved by applying thin, cooked starch paste. Iodine can be removed by washing with alcohol.

NEW TITLES GIVEN

Motor Vehicle Inspector and Aide Now Director and Supervisor

Titles of Chief Motor Vehicle Inspector Gunn and his assistant inspectors have been changed, pending approval of the Civil Service Commission, by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, on recommendation of General Manager Marsh of the utilities department.

The change adopted by the board gives Capt. Gunn the title of director of motor transportation and that of his assistants as "supervisors of motor transportation."

The action was taken because when attempts are made to increase the salaries of the officials in question, the department is met with opposition because the designation as inspectors places them in the same category with inspectors in other departments of the city.

According to Marsh, the duties of the chief and assistant inspectors of the motor vehicle department are not comparable with those of inspectors in other departments. The new titles, it is asserted, are more significant of the duties involved.

No request for increased salaries is being made at present, but it is understood there will be such a request when the budget is prepared for the next fiscal year.

King Aman Ullah of Afghanistan has presented valuable Persian illustrated paleographs and a collection of the epic works of Nisami to the Prussian State Library at Berlin.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb suckling, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

SOME IDEAS FOR MOTHERS' SCRAP BOOKS

Mrs. C. E. L. writes: "Some way it would make me ashamed to say, 'I can't do a thing with my baby,' for then we have failed as much in that respect as if we had failed to feed or bathe them. Don't you think there is a lot in making a child know you mean business? My plan is to see that she does what I ask her to do. I don't get angry, I say, 'Pick up that book you left on the floor,' and if she refuses playfully I still stay stern and repeat the request, explaining that I am not playing with her. If after several trials she still refuses, I go to her, place one of her hands on the book, bend her back and help her pick it up. Regardless of what it is I make her physically do the thing I have told her to do.

"I never issue such a request unless I am able to carry it through. Now when my mother is visiting me it seems that a dozen times a day she says, 'Alice, don't get up in the chair,' or 'My goodness, don't take the dolly's shoes off,' and I tell her she is wasting her breath and making trouble for me. For Alice goes right on doing the thing and has no notion of stopping.

"If I merely suggest an action and it isn't done, then I don't have to stop and see that it is, but if I command then I stay with it.

"Bood ends, ordinary books, flowers in bowls, ash trays are left in regular places. Fragile things are put out of reach. I think it foolish to leave priceless china in her way and I would not leave a knife or sharp article around any more than rat poison, as her judgment is too undeveloped to trust her."

There was more to this interesting letter, but too much to squeeze into our short column.

Troublesome Sleeves

Mrs. A. Z. writes: "With five children one has a lot of learning to do. I try to have something interesting for my children to look forward to at the end of any journey. Here is a way to help children put their hands in a sleeve. Let them look through it and try to catch the 'bear' at the other end. I wriggle my fingers and they have no trouble catching them."

Mrs. O. R. Thanks for the interesting suggestion about making the washing process less of a struggle.

CIVIC PLANS ADOPTED BY ART BOARD

Municipal Commission in January Passes Projects Valued at $1,104,372

Plans considered by the Municipal Art Commission reached a total of $1,104,372 during January, which was an increase of 15.6 per cent in valuation over January of the preceding year, according to a report to be submitted today by Elizabeth Black, general manager of the commission.

The most expensive project for which plans were approved by the commission during January is the design during Sepulveda Boulevard tunnel under Mulholland High Way. The estimated cost of the tunnel is $390,000. The design of the Greek amphitheater to be built in Vermont Canyon in Griffith Park at an estimated cost of $200,000 also was approved by the commission.

In connection with airport-building designs for Mines Field the commission requested that the director of airports submit a comprehensive architectural layout of the proposed structures.

During January the commission had occasion to disapprove an application to enlarge the border of a marquee in order to add another row of electric sign letters. The commission took the view that such an alteration would establish a precedent for the enlargement of marquee borders for advertising purposes and that this would not only be detrimental to the appearance of the city's streets, but would lead to complaints that such structures obscured adjoining business entrances.

WIFE AWARDED AUTO AND DIVORCE DECREE

After Mrs. Lillie Wood Baglin had testified at the hearing on her petition for a divorce filed against Arthur W. Baglin, held before Superior Judge Bartlett, she left the witness stand and fainted in the corridor just outside the door of the courtroom. In her testimony before the court Mrs. Baglin said she was married to Baglin in 1927 and separated from him in 1928. She accused her husband of taking her automobile and using it to entertain other women. Judge Bartlett ordered the automobile be returned to the wife and at the same time gave her a decree of divorce.

LARGE STILL SEIZED AND PAIR ARRESTED

Two men were arrested and a 150-gallon still and fifty-seven gallons of mash were seized in a week-end raid conducted by dry agents operating under the direction of Maj. McReynolds, Federal dry administrator. The two men, Harry Phillips and Vincent Dailise, were arrested at Ocean Park, where the still was found.

DRINK WATER IN FEVERS

There is much misunderstanding about fevers. Most people are alarmed at a fever, but I am usually pleased, because I realize that a fever is an indication that the body is putting up a fight against disease toxins, and that the body has considerable vitality. You have probably noticed that fevers are more frequently found in children than in old people. The reason for this is that children react more quickly to toxins than do adults or those who have become run down in health.

Fevers burn up the waste and poisonous material in the system and clean out the toxins of physical corruption. If these toxins could be taken out of the body and burned up it would be easier on the patient, but nature finds it necessary to burn the poisons where they are, within the tissues of the body, and the temperature rises, breathing becomes faster and copious perspiration may break out. These are only indications that the body is taking steps toward a cure. Never attempt to break a fever. Rather, encourage it, for as soon as the poisons are burned up, the fever will disappear.

It is advisable to drink large quantities of water, as this assists the body in washing out and eliminating toxins. Orange and lemon juice may be added, but it is advisable not to use sugar. Do not take any remedy to cure your headaches as this will interfere with the natural eliminative processes going on.

Perspiration should be induced, even if it is necessary to supply artificial warmth by placing hot water bottles around the body. In every fever it is advisable to use enemas, sometimes several each day at the beginning of the fever. The temperature should not be allowed to remain long above 102.5 deg., and if it rises beyond this height cool sponge baths along the spine and abdomen may be used at intervals of about an hour apart. But if the fever is below this temperature tepid or warm sponge baths should be substituted.

There is very little danger of a fatal termination to a fever if these simple methods are used. Beware of any method or drug which will interfere with, throwing out of the toxins which were responsible in the first place for the development of the fever, and be sure not to use any rich food until the fever is over, as it cannot be properly digested during a fever and might cause serious trouble.

The following extract, which is from a lecture by Robert Ingersoll, may be interesting in showing the value of water drinking for fevers:

"All the advance that has been made in the science of medicine has been made by the recklessness of patients. I can recall when they wouldn't give a man water in a fever—not a drop. Now and then some fellow would get so thirsty he would say: 'Well, I'll die anyway, so I'll drink it'—and thereupon he would drink a gallon of water, and thereupon he would burst into a generous perspiration and get well, and the next morning when the doctor would come to see him they would tell him about the man drinking the water and he would say: 'How much?' 'Well, he swallowed two pitchers' full.' 'Is he still alive?' 'Yes.' So they would go into the room and the doctor would feel his pulse and say: 'And you drank two pitchers of water! What a constitution you have got.'"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

SLEEPLESSNESS

Question: Mrs. M. E. writes: "I have suffered for a long time from sleeplessness. Can you tell me a remedy for same?"

Answer: The principal cause of insomnia is digestive trouble, such as excess fermentation of food, which produces gas pressure against the heart or diaphragm. Even if you are not conscious of such pressure it is sufficient to unconsciously irritate you and keep you from getting a deep slumber.

BLOOD TESTS

Q.: Subscriber writes: "Will you kindly advise us if a test of blood taken from the ear could locate a disease, such as tumor or cancer, and what organs are affected? Is such a test possible or plausible?"

A.: Such tests are not accurate as far as being able to discover from these tests whether you have a tumor or cancer. I know the tests you refer to and exaggerated claims are made for them which cannot be substantiated.

SEASICKNESS

Q.: Mal-de-Mer writes: "I am think of taking a trip to Europe next May or June. (I am a bad sailor, always seasick on sea or lake.) Would you advise a fruit fast just before sailing? I am middle aged, in excellent health.

A.: If your seasickness is caused from biliousness, the fruit fast will be helpful, if taken just before starting on your voyage. If you become seasick because of defective vision, you must secure proper glasses. If you always get sick and remain so all during your trips, it is doubtless because of the lack of balancing fluid in your ears. In that case the only thing you can do is to lie on your back and keep in a horizontal position until you reach land.

TWO HOURS' SUIT TAKES TWO DAYS

So Judge Halts Case and Now Evidence Must All be Gone Over Again

When attorneys told Superior Judge Burnell but two hours would be required to try a lawsuit and it required more than a day and a half, the judge declared a mistrial and the action will have to be tried all over again.

The suit in question was brought by Eric Johnson against Mrs. Emma L. Rhinock for $3802. Johnson, represented by Attorney Joseph Lewinson, asserted that Mrs. Rhinock refused to pay him for legal services. Mrs. Rhinock, represented by Attorneys McAdoo, Niblett, O'Connor & Claggett, contended the fee was excrbitant for the amount of work done.

When the case came up for trial and attorneys told the court it would require two hours to try it, the two hours passed and the trial kept under way. A day passed, then a day and a half.

"I will give you until 5 o'clock to finish," the judge said. "This was a two-hour case. It has been going a day and a half. Both sides have used too much time. If you don't finish by 5 o'clock I'll declare a mistrial."

Five o'clock came and the lawyers were still going; in fact, it would have taken several hours more to finish. The judge declared a mistrial, so the case must be retried.

Wife Reconciled to Millionaire

Instead of dividing a $3,000,000 estate in the divorce courts Charles L. and Elizabeth Selbrook have kissed, made up, and started on their second honeymoon.

The couple were married a few months ago and separated a few weeks later. Mrs. Selbrook complained that her husband would not live according to his means, as he promised her before marriage, but insisted on occupying a small furnished apartment. It was testified at an alimony hearing before Superior Judge Rosenkranz that during the past two years, Selbrook has made more than $2,000,000 in the stock market.

TAP-DANCER SCORES ON NEW BILL

Buck and Bubbles, Frances White Lift Orpheum Acts Above Fair Level

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Buck and Bubbles, mind you, are no sensations. It was just this: an audience which sincerely wanted to find somebody worth getting excited about, and wasn't making out any too well, reached a point of spontaneous combustion just about the time Buck and Bubbles came o to play the piano and to dance. Buck and Bubbles came on near the close of the new bill at the Orpheum yesterday afternoon.

Frances White, the dependable singing star, had, to be sure, shaken the audience's equanimity to an extent before Buck and Bubbles, "clever colored comedians," made their appearance; but only to an extent. Miss White's name, and the large photograph of her in rompers and an enormous hair-ribbon, have more or less adorned the foyers of the vaudeville houses scattered across our fair land these many years. From the photograph one may glean a pretty fair idea of just what it is Miss White does; and yet the idea, I must stress, is only pretty fair. What she does is sing that she'd like to be a monkey in a zoo.

But this is only one of many songs; and eventually the ompers, too, go the way of all things. Miss White, sleekly gowned and coiffed, is something else again. "Guess who's in town!" she invites melodically; and continues (even while one is wracking one's brain.) "Nobody but that man of mine!" On the same subject she has this to sing: "There'll never be a sweeter story told than 'I love you.'" Similar sentiments pervade her other tunes; but they are delivered in a most unsentimental manner and there is never any danger of one's breaking down under them.

Either Buck or Bubbles is a rather remarkable tap-dancer. One senses this almost immediately, even though one's perceptive powers in that respect should be practically blunted by the time Buck (or Bubbles) starts in; for if ever a program ran riot with tap-dancers, this is it. All unbeknown to you and me, the Orpheum management quite palpably has issued an order to its artists to "go into your tapdance when in doubt." I don't recall ever having seen so many doubters on one bill.

Born and Lawrence, moving downtown from Hollywood, offer an act that is very amusing the first time you run across it, pretty good the second time, fair the third time and correspondingly less than fair from then on. These two act out the words of their songs; and the songs are still "I Wonder What's Become of Sally?" and "By the Old Mill Stream." The act will delight those who don't get around much.

Long Tack Sam is the Chinese wonder-worker who turns up periodically with his talented company; but on the present occasion the wonder-working is all cluttered up with adagio dances, violin solos and tap-dancing—evils which are better left to occidentals. Then, too, there is that same irritating falsetto speech in affected English which Long Tack delivers in the face of the same thunderous silence which always greets it. Why he does it only Long Tack himself can tell; but when he tells, I hope it will be in writing.

Others billed are Tinova and Balkoff & Co., dancers; Hooper and Gatchett in "The Rookie;" Paul and Nino Ghezzi, "Equilibrists—Strong, Forceful and Courageous," and Beeman and Grace in "You'll Be Surprised." (I could get very nasty about that last.)

Loew Bookings Led by Fox's "Ghost Talks"

The William Fox comedy, "The Ghost Talks," heads a list of new bookings for Loew's State Theater for the next five weeks. The ghost picture, which features Helen Twelvetrees, Charles Eaton and Earle Foxe, has proved a hit in two eastern cities where it has been pre-released.

"The Ghost Talks" will have its Coast premiere Thursday.

Greta Garbo in "Wild Orchids" will follow, the week of the 21st inst, with Nils Asther cast for the first time as lover to the alluring Garbo. Lewis Stone plays the husband whose affections prove altogether too scanty for the love-starved wife.

This picture is synchronized with music and sound effects.

"The Bellamy Trial" will be next, the 28th inst. This is a talking screen version of the novel by Frances Noyes Hart and features Leatrice Joy, Betty Bronson, Edward Nugent, George Barraud and Margaret Livingston. The complications of the murder mystery are unfolded in courtroom testimony.

The first talking version of "The Godless Girl" will be shown the week of March 7. The dialogue has been added to the original version, increasing its dramatic strength, it is declared.

Warner Brothers' "Fancy Baggage," with dialogue, and Richard Barthelmess in First National's "Scarlet Seas," also a talking film, complete the list. These are booked for March 14 and 21, respectively.

McLaglen Will Step to Stage

Victor McLaglen will make a personal appearance tonight at the Boulevard Theater, where his new picture, "Capt. Lash," is playing.

"Capt. Lash" gives McLaglen a role that is said to be as good as any he has taken since he won fame as the Capt. Flagg of "What Price Glory." The actor has the role of the hard-driving boss stoker of a vessel, and the characterization gives a blending of his ruthless attitude toward his stokers and his humble adoration of the woman he loves.

VOTES CAST FOR M'WILLIAMS

After all, if there's one really good hit act on a vaudeville bill, the ticket-buyer should be satisfied.

Working on this assumption, patrons of the Hillstreet this week more than get their money's worth. The hit act is that of the long, rangy, philosophic Jim McWilliams, whose seeming nonsense is flavored with pungent wit and dry common sense.

Perhaps it is merely a desire to excuse a liking for tom-foolishness that leads one to dignify a McWilliams offering by highbrow adjectives and to read into it philosophy and rare wit. Mebbe so. Again, there seemed volumes of far-reaching satire behind that "McWilliams, Candidate for Coroner" speech, as well as plenty of out-and-out comic humor. Anyway, Mr. McWilliams is clever, and, more important, he's funny. The audience showed good taste, it would seem, by giving him a tremendous hand.

They were noticeably silent over the offering of Ella Shields despite the trumpeting and fanfare which accompanied her impersonation of an English "Burlington Bertie." Miss Shields lived up to the popular American conception of the English by taking seeming hours for her entrances and exits, and then singing songs which probably would be considered riotously funny in England, but which hardly stirred a smile here.

Clever, smart and appealing was Miss Marie Valente, who vivaciously strummed various weird musical instruments and was able to draw a most harmonious potpourri of music from one and all. Her virtuosity in extracting a jingling tune by jingling plates up and down on a table was heartily applauded.

The Happiness Girls make up another one of these girls' bands. They have a good deal of pep, personality as well as originality in their bag of tricks, all of which help out their musical offerings considerably.

Miacahua, who hails from Brazil, is the only living woman, so the billing goes, to walk a tightrope without the aid of an umbrella, a cane or some balancing stick. Frank Conville is a singing and dancing comic.

From Max Brand's novel, "The Night Rider," is the Tiffany-Stahl feature picture, "The Cavalier." It is a melodrama laid against an early Spanish background with a noble young knight errant rescuing a beautiful damsel from the horrors of a cruel marriage agreement. Richard Talmadge and Barbara Bedford head the cast while Irvin Willat directed.

"RED HOT SPEED" LIVES UP TO NAME

Pantages Offers Reginald Denny in First Talking Film; New Acts Please

"Red Hot Speed!"

No more fitting title than this could possibly be applied to the new Reginald Denny vehicle now showing as the feature attraction at Pantages Theater.

It's a typical Denny production, this comedy romance of a young district attorney who goes about slowing down an entire city in general, and one young lady in particular . . . . and the comedian's many fans have the opportunity of laughing with as well as at him. "Red Hot Speed" marks his first venture in the talkie field.

Denny's voice registers well. It has a pleasingly deep and resonant ring. He scores particularly with a laugh, the equal of which has not yet been heard in a talkie. It is, more or less, a self-conscious chuckle.

Alice Day makes her debut in the new medium as Denny's leading lady. Her performance and voice are excellent and place her in rank for decided talkie prominence.

Thomas Ricketts impresses in his characterization as the girl's father and the principal advocate of safe and sane driving. The role of the Swedish maid, as portrayed by Fritzi Ridgeway, is responsible for no small portion of the production's mirth-provoking qualities.

If you like Denny don't miss "Red Hot Speed." His antics are good for sixty minutes of chuckles.

Charles Byers and De Witt Jennings score in minor roles. Joseph Henabery directed.

Keeping pace with the speed set by the picture is this week's vaudeville, which occupies the latter half of the program.

First of all there is the Jimmy Rooney Trio—three young persons who are up on all the latest tricks of tap dancing, and who demonstrate the fact to a pleased audience.

And then there is Bert Lyton, who talks for a solid twenty minutes about almost anything that happens to occur to him. Lyton is a decided favorite. His wisecracks are new, and he has a pleasing way of presenting them. He is one of the few vaudeville entertainers who can offer a solo act and hold the interest of an audience to the end.

For those who are partial to dance acts, Gleason and Browning have a colorful and fast-stepping revue. Comedy skits and musical numbers are added for the sake of variety.

A Pathe Sound News completes the new program at the variety house.

"Escape" Will Have Premiere at Playhouse

Leaders of the city's professional, literary, social and civic groups, making up the largest advance list of reservations since the organization of the Los Angeles Repertory Theater and including stage and screen players of international reputation, will greet the opening performance this evening of John Galsworthy's latest drama, "Escape."

This play, third production of the Repertory Theater, is in a prologue and nine scenes, and, because of its technical and atmospheric requirements, will be interpreted by an all-English cast headed by Vernon Steele, Norman Cannon, Ilka Chase, Nora Cecil, Eric Snowdown and Kathryn Givney. Many of these were brought here from the East for this production.

'Lightnin'' Now in Second Week

"Lightnin'," Frank Bacon's comedy, starts the second week of its engagement at El Capitan where the Henry Duffy Players are presenting it with a cast headed by Percy Pollock in the title role; Mrs. Frank Bacon, who returns to the stage to play the part of Ma Jones; Robert Keith, Bessie Bacon and Charles E. Evans.

"Lightnin'" ran 1291 times in New York, its story of the genial old toper, who maintains a hotel on the dividing line between California and Nevada, winning tremendous popularity. The divorce court scene in the second act is said to be one of the funniest incidents ever placed on the stage.

BLOCH EPIC "AMERICA" PERFORMED

Baritone Scores With Aria; Large Audience Gathers to Hear "Pop" Concert

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Ernest Bloch's tribute to the land of his adoption, the epic rhapsody, "America," was played again by the Philharmonic Orchestra as the finale to yesterday's "pop" program. Conductor Schneevoigt also directed amusing ballet music by Glazounow, the overture to Nicolai's "Merry Wives of Windsor" and the sympathetic accompaniment to baritone solos by Parish Williams, which were especially well received.

Mr. Williams was heard to advantage in the "Dio Possente" from Gounod's "Faust," and his dramatization of the ancient Hebrew song of mourning for the dead was impressive. The baritone aria from "Faust" was the most finished and altogether enjoyable public singing done by this young man in Los Angeles. His voice developed attractive resonance as the aria progressed and the orchestra failed to disturb his intonation. Mr. William's poise, stage presence, sense of rhythm and commendable assurance in the face of difficulties can always be counted upon.

Bloch's "America," upon second hearing, has the effect of becoming shorter. The vein of the anthem melody is clearer and the whole work becomes closely knit. To my mind, the first and last movements remain the most interesting. Either Prof. Schneevoigt or Mr. Bloch does not realize fully the dramatic interest of the mid-Victorian age in the United States, which is pictured in the second movement, but the far-away romance of the beginning of America, with its ominous beat of the tom-tom and its "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," is the very heart of our foundation.

One would like more of Bloch's jazz as suggested in the last movement. It is alluring even if it does lead to chaos and great tribulation. An interesting addition was made to the performance, at the suggestion of Mr. George Leslie Smith, by throwing the words of the concluding hymn on a screen from which the audience sang. The song is too high for most but it is an inspiration to join the orchestra in that thrilling finale.

Lincoln Troupe Essays Classic of Oscar Wilde

Tonight marks the opening of Oscar Wilde's "Salome" at the Lincoln Theater, where the colored Lafayette Players are staging a new production of the drama. As presented at the Lincoln, "Salome" will vary somewhat from its usual length, having been elaborated upon by Edgar Forrest.

Evelyn Preer will occupy the much-discussed title role. This marks Miss Preer's second interpretation of "Salome," for she already has appeared in the Oscar Wilde drama with the Lafayette troupe in New York.

Grauman Stars to Visit Hotel

Arrangements are being made for stars of "The Broadway Melody" as well as the New York and European actors appearing in the prologue at Grauman's Chinese Theater, to attend the midwinter opening of the Roosevelt Hotel on St. Valentine's night as a compliment to Sid Grauman, who, as vice-president of the hotel corporation, is to act as director of festivities.

Acting as mistress of ceremonies will be Sophie Tucker, comedienne, who will do the honors in welcoming stars who will foregather for the affair, which is the first big event to be staged since Eugene Stark, formerly with the Hillcrest Country Club, assumed the role of managing director of the film capital hostelry.

A novel program dedicated to the stars of "The Broadway Melody" will be rendered by Henry Halstead's orchestra, which will make its premiere appearance at the midwinter opening as the Roosevelt's new aggregation of musicians.

Variety Keynote of Star's Dress

Corinne Griffith has broken a long-standing record for the number of costume changes in a film production. As Lady Hamilton in "The Divine Lady," now having its world premiere at the Carthay Circle Theater, she appears in twenty-eight different period costumes and every one of them is described conclusively as a true work of art created by Max Ree.

"The Divine Lady" is Frank Lloyd's Vitaphone production of E. Barrington's romance of Lady Hamilton and Lord Nelson.

TRIAL OPENS AT FIGUEROA

"On Trial," Warner all-talking picture, opens at the Figueroa Theater today as the screen attraction for the final four days of anniversary week. This drama of love and the court-room follows closely the original stage play from which it was adapted. Pauline Frederick has her first speaking screen role in the film, and Bert Lytell and Lois Wilson are featured.

JOLSON WARBLES AT RITZ

"The Singing Fool," Al Jolson's singing and talking hit, opens at the Ritz Theater tomorrow for a three-day engagement. "Romance of the Underworld" has final showings today. "The Singing Fool" combines Jolson's inimitable song numbers with dramatic talking sequences to form a picture that is appealing. Featured with Jolson and little David Lee as the "Sonny Boy" of the picture are Josephine Dunn and Betty Bronson.

EXCHANGE CLUB AIDS AVIATION

Body Bringing Authorities to Pasadena Meet

Conference Planned to Help Aerial Development

Problems of Private Owner to Demand Attention

PASADENA, Feb. 10.—What this city can do to further development of air transportation will be discussed by aeronautical authorities and city officials at the meeting of the Pasadena Exchange Club Thursday noon in the Hotel Maryland, it was announced today by Dr. Walter C. Stephens, program chairman.

The Exchange Club is waging a campaign to install a giant airplane marker on the top of the Villa-street reservoir. The committee in charge believes that a distinctive marker would place Pasadena on the air maps and serve to direct aviators to the landing field which the Western Air Express proposes to establish south of Valley Boulevard.

Ten-minute talks will be given by City Manager R. V. Orbison, N. W. Hacker, attorney for the Commercial Aircraft Corporation; N. Vance Phillips, president of the Pasadena Aircraft Corporation, and L. B. Larson, manager of the Aircraft Corporation.

D. E. McDaneld, governor of the California Aeronautical Association, and Fred Kelly, Western Air Express pilot who holds the world's record through flying 115,000 miles without a mishap, will be among the honor guests.

There are said to be more than forty owners of airplanes in Pasadena who have been hampered in the past by lack of near-by landing facilities. An arrangement under which these pilots would be permitted to use the landing field the Western Air Express plans to establish on the Valley Boulevard site is expected to be considered by speakers at the meeting.

In former years a few private plane owners were permitted to land on occasion at the government's Arcadia landing field, but this field is said to have been recently reserved exclusively for army flyers.

REDLANDS, Feb. 10.—Property "in excess of $10,000" is bequeathed in the will of Gordon Edgar Sucher of this city, principally to the widow, Mrs. Lavinia Hall Sucher. Mr. Sucher died here on January 26, last, according to the petition for probate of the will filed with the Superior Court this week.

The will was written in Mr. Sucher's own hand and dated September 28, 1928. According to its terms, "all my real and personal property whatsoever I leave to my good and faithful wife, Lavinia Hall Sucher with the exception of $5000, which is to go to my daughter, Virginia, for her education and music." Mrs. Sucher is named as executrix.

Mr. Sucher for twenty-five years was an active banker in this city.

SPEEDER PROVOKES INJURIES

Motorcycle Officer Hurt Dangerously in Collision During Wild Chase

HUNTINGTON PARK, Feb. 10. As a result of his motorcycle crashing into an automobile driven by C. N. Moore of 2520 East Fifty-eighth street, last night, Motorcycle Officer Norman MacRae of this city is at the Huntington Park Hospital in a serious condition, suffering from injuries to the left side of his head.

With Motorcycle Officer King Niskern he was going along Slauson avenue, after a speeding automobilist, when Moore's car came out of Malabar street, onto Slauson. MacRae's machine smashed into the side of the front of the automobile, the officer being thrown into the windshield, and then back onto his motorcycle. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from a deep gash in the head.

The officer was still unconscious this afternoon.

CITRUS MEN PLAN MEET ON QUALITY

Convention Announced in Santa Paula to Discuss Improvement of Fruit

VENTURA, Feb. 10.—A citrus quality conference is to be held next Saturday at the Santa Paula Citrus Growers' Association Building in Santa Paula. The conference is being called by the citrus department of the Farm Bureau and by the agricultural extension service of the University of California.

The purpose of the conference is to define the factors responsible for poor quality or high quality in citrus fruits and to establish a standard or definite program for improvement.

It is recognized by the packing-house managers of Ventura county that future success of the citrus business depends largely upon production of high-quality fruit, and that growers must do everything possible to improve quality.

The conference will be limited to a committee of three from each packing-house association, managers of associations or packing-houses for single ranch properties, extension service members and to members of the executive committee of the citrus department of the Farm Bureau.

CHILD EATS NUMBER OF PILLS AND DIES

OWENSMOUTH, Feb. 10.—A post-mortem examination was held on the body of Evelyn Villegas, 2 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Villegas of Vanowen street and Topanga avenue, following the child's death caused by eating a number of laxative pills which, it is said, she found while playing in the family automobile. When the serious condition of the little girl was discovered, Dr. J. M. Holt was called, but he was unable to save her life.

FIREMEN'S INHALATOR SAVES INFANT'S LIFE

HUNTINGTON PARK, Feb. 10.—An inhalator belonging to the city fire department, undoubtedly saved the life of the newly born daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Pateracki, of Albany street, at the Huntington Park Maternity Cottage. When the babe was born, the attending physician at once decided that an inhalator was necessary if the child was to be spared. One was secured at the fire station and after thirty minutes' work, the baby was in good health, according to a report from the cottage.

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY AIRPORT MAKES DEBUT

COVINA, Feb. 10.—The San Gabriel Valley airport, located on Covina Boulevard, west of Baldwin Park, was opened today by G. A. Merritt and Robert M. ENORMOUS RANCH PLANNED

Approximately 35,000 Grapefruit Trees to be Set Out in New Coachella Valley Development

INDIO, Feb. 10.—One of the most important developments to take place in the Coachella Valley for many years is announced here by King C. Gillette through T. H. Rosenberger with whom he is interested in the valley. Gillette is head of the razor company which bears his name and Rosenberger is one of the best-known mining engineers in the West and Mexico. Both are already heavily interested in the dates and grapefruit in valley.

They plan now to develop and plant 480 acres to grapefruit. The land to be developed lies northwest of Indio along the Palm Springs highway, adjoining the Cook ranch and will have a mile and a half frontage along the highway.

The new ranch will require 34,600 trees which already have been contracted for in the Imperial Valley for delivery in March, 1930, but the work of preparing the ground and drilling wells will begin at once. The plans call for seven and one-half miles of pipe line to be fed by a series of five wells. There will be six houses for living quarters on the place, all equipped with every modern convenience.

King G. Gillette, Jr., a son, will be in actual charge of the ranch with Rosenberger acting in an advisory capacity. The budget for the improvements and trees calls for approximately $500,000.

In addition to this Rosenberger has announced that he and Gillette have ordered 4500 grapefruit trees to be interplanted with dates on their property adjoining Indio.

As Coachella Valley grapefruit become better known the demand is outstripping the supply by a greater margin every year.

BIG PINES, Feb. 10.—Final plans for the third annual winter sports carnival, to be presented at the Los Angeles county Recreation Park here, the 22nd, 23rd and 24th inst., were settled today by Dr. Alex J. Link and his committee, representing the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The group, who are spending the week-end here, expressed themselves as delighted with the progress made by Earl A. Mitchell of the Denver Ski Association, who has been on the ground for the last three weeks preparing the ski jump, and supervising all details attendant to the staging of the carnival.

Record reservations received here by F. E. Wadsworth, superintendent of the County Park, indicate the largest crowds over the Washington's Birthday week-end in the history of the winter playground. Wadsworth is making preparations to handle as many as he can here, and is negotiating arrangements with near-by resorts to handle his overflow reservations.

Those in charge of the preparations here have extended every effort to present an ideal winter sports layout, since Big Pines hopes to be awarded the winter games of the tenth Olympiad in 1932. The committee in charge of selection of a site for these games will be on hand to consider this location.

Hundreds of visitors are here today, intent upon enjoying the invigorating atmosphere and deep snow. Among those present are two young and beautiful motion-picture actresses who emphatically stated they had come up to the park to have a good time and not be bothered in making a lot of publicity pictures, yet they did pose for two snapshots, after which they hurried away without even suggesting their names.

ANNEXATION PROPOSALS AUTHORIZED

Alhambra Acts Favorably Toward Plans of Wilmar and Monterey Park

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 10.—Residents of the Wilmar district, southeast of Alhambra, and the city of Monterey Park, adjoining this city on the south, have been authorized by Alhambra to circulate petitions for annexation to this city. The requests for petitions were filed last week with the City Commission. City Attorney Emmett A. Tompkins will draw up the papers and they will be presented to the petitioners in each district.

Taxpayers of both districts must assume certain bonded indebtedness, if annexation is voted, according to the recommendations of a special committee composed of City Manager A. E. Stockburger, Commissioners Burlingame and Nuzum, and City Engineer Otto Rugen. The bonds to be assumed will be included as part of the ballot if the propositions are voted upon.

Since Monterey Park has an established water system the residents of that city will be asked to assume only a portion of the bonded indebtedness of Alhambra. With this exception the obligations that would be assumed in each community would be the same.

The annexation movements in Monterey Park and Wilmar have met with much oposition, particularly in the former city. The opponents of annexation in Wilmar are working for the incorporation of the district which is now county territory. A mass meeting of Wilmar citizens to discuss the question has been called for tomorrow night.

Faces Life for Forgery

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10.—George Snyder, 62 years of age, faces the possibility of spending the rest of his life in a State penitentiary because of his arrest here on a charge of forging an $82 check, police say. When questioned today, Snyder told police he had never been arrested before. When his fingerprints were taken, however, he admitted the record which police found was credited against him, officers said.

The record showed that Snyder had been committed to State penal institutions on three previous occasions, police said, and if he is convicted on the present charge, he will automatically go to prison for life, under the provision of the California criminal laws.

POLICE COURT RECORD DETAILED IN BRAWLEY

BRAWLEY, Feb. 10.—Police Court fines here during the month of January amounted to $3205, according to the report made public by Chief of Police Lon Cromer. The report shows that there were 340 arrests during the month, 112 of which were for drunkenness, fifty-six for vagrancy, thirty-seven for traffic violations and sixty-seven for investigation. In addition to the fines paid violators served a total of 2930 days in jail during the month.

MEMBER DRIVE CLOSES

MAYWOOD, Feb. 10.—The membership drive of the Maywood American Legion post has come to a close with the addition of seventy new members, while 143 have renewed their membership.

SAN DIEGANS GO SNOW MAD

Thousands of Residents of Southland Find Sleds and Make Trip to Wintry Areas in Mountains

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10.—All kinds of sleds, some capable of carrying the whole family, were carried by autoists to the mountains today with eager boys and girls, and just as eager parents, ready to ride the snow skimmers as soon as the snowy areas were reached.

On the Julian road the snow was encountered just beyond Santa Ysabel where on the Descanso road parties were to be seen a short distance beyond The Willows, less than forty miles from San Diego.

The cold weather in the hills has kept the snow from melting and the roads are covered with snow.

A scout car sent out by the Auto Club along the State highway reported seeing snow parties along the Viejas grade. The grade is dry for the most part. Some wet spots were encountered near Descanso. In the Pine Valley region the road was reported good with plenty of snow in the neighborhood.

The road beyond Laguna Junction into the Laguna area is not deemed passable. J. B. Current, manager of the Melba mine in the Lagunas, reports that snow shoes have to be used down to within a few miles of Pine Valley. The snow in the Lagunas to date has totaled forty-four inches, he reports.

The road to Julian is all paved but snow up to five and six inches in depth was found on the pavements yesterday, beginning a few miles this side of Julian.

The outpouring of sleds today proved a surprise to many who had not figured there were so many snow vehicles in San Diego. The sleds went to the mountains strapped to the sides of machines and tied on the rear, while the bobsleds rode on the tops of cars. Some optimistic ones even took along skates, but the possibilities for skating were considered very slight.

Ontario Facing New Bond Issue

ONTARIO, Feb. 10.—Anticipating a continued rapid growth for this city, officials today are preparing to acquaint the public with plans for a $130,000 bond issue to be brought up for early election. The issue would provide another fire station and equipment, adequate airport, municipal plunge, park improvements and additional water mains. All organizations of the community are to be asked to aid in the program of presenting the needs to the voting public.

According to plans of the propose dissue, it will be so arranged that the public will vote on them separately, thus allowing for passage of certain measures if others are not favored. This plan will not jeopardize the entire program. STATE

Pasadena Junior Story-Writing Class Doubled

PASADENA, Feb. 10.—Two classes of short-story writing, instead of one, will go into effect at Pasadena Junior College commencing next Tuesday. Classes will be held from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The course is under direction of the University of California extension division. David Malcomson, Santa Monica writer, is instructor of the classes. An unusually large attendance was given as the reason for double classes by school authorities.

TELEPHONE MANAGER PINNED UNDER CAR

VAN NUYS, Feb. 10.—No serious results are expected, physicians here say, of the injuries received by C. C. Campbell, San Fernando Valley manager of the Pacific Telephone Company, when his automobile struck an obstruction on Ventura Boulevard at Lankershim Boulevard yesterday. When the accident accurred Campbell's car went over a small embankment and overturned, pinning him underneath. The injured man was picked up and conveyed in a truck to the office of Dr. R. W. Cooke and then later removed to his home on Victory Boulevard. He is suffering contusions, bruises, slight internal injuries and several torn ligaments.

SOUTH GATE TEACHERS IN GENERAL SWITCH

SOUTH GATE, Feb. 10.—Several changes in the teaching staff of the State-street school will be noticed tomorrow when the second semester opens. Mrs. Turpin will be transferred from the San Gabriel school to the State-street school to teach the 6-A grade; Miss Sackett takes the place of Miss Edith Cheadle, while Miss Alice Fessler takes the place of Miss Helene Rogers. Mrs. Ruth Wormhoudt, who has been an instructor at the State-street school, goes to the San Gabriel for the semester.

ASSESSMENT STILL RANKLES

Monterey Park Citizen Who Placed Stone Marker in Wall Only to Have It Removed by Unknown Forces, Erects Large Sign Carrying Sarcastic Message

MONTEREY PARK, Feb. 10.—The injustice, as it appeared to him, of a street assessment passed more than two years ago, still rankles in the soul of A. J. Dixon of 418 South Orange avenue.

Last year he erected in a portion of his stone wall torn down in the streek work a marker with a sarcastic inscription "To the Memory" of the councilmen who had voted for the improvement and who later were recalled. He planned to hold annual "memorial" services to commemorate his vote in favor of the recall and to keep the matter before the public.

Recently the marker was destroyed "by persons unknown." Dixon was mad, but he would not let anyone change the subject. He has now made a large wooden sign which he has securely moored further back on his property. The sign bears the notation of the dates of the original Council ordinance and of the recall election and ends with these lines:

"For every tree, plant, shrub removed,

"And every drop of sweat I've sweated;

"For every grain of dirt I've moved,

"And every cent of cash expended;

"To each and every one to blame,

"Ten thousand years bad luck and shame.

"$846-73."

The last numbers indicate the amount of Dixon's assessment.

GREEN VALLEY LAKE AFFORDING WINTER SPORTS

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 10.—Plans for midwinter enjoyment on the shores of Green Valley Lake, 7200 feet high in the mountains north of here, were announced today by directors of the Top o' the World Club.

Green Valley Lake is frozen over to a depth of more than twenty inches and a large portion of it has been cleared for ice skating, it is reported. Crews of the State Highway Department have cleared the Green Valley Lake road, and heavy travel into this section is anticipated during the next month, while ice skating lasts at the lake.

A toboggan slide has been finished and a runway for ski jumpers will be ready in time for the winter carnival.

SAYS ALL MUST LEARN TO LIKE PLANE RIDES

RESEDA, Feb. 10.—The Metropolitan Airport, northeast of here, is now California headquarters for the Rankin system of flying instruction, it is announced today, by Paul L. Burkhard, manager of the Associated Aircraft, Inc., licensee of the Rankin system and distributors of Eagle airplanes. Several engineers, technical men and pilots will be in charge of operations of the flying school at the airport, to teach a course available to civilians. "Until more civilians learn to fly, and the people in general become more air-minded," Burkhard said today, "airplane transportation will progress only gradually. Just as soon as the people as a whole can be taught to take to the air, planes in the sky will be almost as numerous as the autos now on the pavements."

LEGION BEHIND "MOANS"

SOUTH GATE, Feb. 10.—"Moans from the Dugout" is a new publication that is being issued by Mizpah Post, 335, American Legion, which has recently been formed in this city. The bulletin is edited by C. A. Lehr, and E. F. Benson is the advertising manager.

SAN GABRIEL, ALHAMBRA ROW ENDED

Permission Granted for Laying of Pipe Line Which Has Caused Lengthy Battle

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 10.—Ending a controversy between the two cities which has existed for the past two years, an agreement has been reached by which San Gabriel will grant Alhambra permission to lay a pipe line from the Longden-avenue well in San Gabriel to the Alhambra water mains. San Gabriel, through its City Attorney, H. S. Farrell, will withdraw the application for appeal from the recent decision of Superior Court Judge Yankwich in which Alhambra won the fight to secure possession of the water.

This city has filed a $1500 bond to guarantee San Gabriel against damage to streets in the construction of the pipe line from the Longden well, which is on property owned by Alhambra.

After the well was drilled San Gabriel officials opposed the laying of the pipe line to connect with Alhambra mains, thus rendering the water supply useless. Alhambra filed suit to compel permission and won.

HISTORICAL MONEY BOX OWNED HERE

Chest Said to Have Been Used by Washington Now Cherished in La Canada

LA CANADA, Feb. 10.—A relic of Washington's days, in the shape of a money chest that is said to have belonged to the first President, is in the possession of Nahum Andrews Maynard, 4747 Alta Canada, who claims that the record of the box proves beyond question that it accompanied Washington through the campaign against the British and that it was with him when he crossed the Delaware.

The chest is of heavy wood, covered with black leather and heavily studded with brass nails. On top is a heavy brass ornament with a ring through which a stick was thrust to allow its owner to carry it over his shoulder. The box is opened by a small key, the keyhole having a spring inside it that operates in a secret manner, while the keyhole is covered with a brass plate on which the American eagle, with three arrows in his talons, is embossed.

Maynard received the box several years ago when property belonging to his parents was divided. He claims that it was used by Thomas Maynard, private secretary to Washington, and one of his ancestors.

Hiking Quintet Straggles Home as Hunt Starts

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 10.—Four youngsters and a high-school teacher, tired, worn, hungry and ragged, tramped into Santa Ynez, fifty miles north of here, after midnight this morning to restore peace and quiet to the village and give assurance to three anxious mothers and a wife that they were not lost.

The quintet, made up of Ernest Vaniman, high-school teacher; his two sons, Carroll and Delbert; David Westcott and William Kelly, ranging from 10 to 15 years of age, started out early Saturday morning to climb the San Rafael Mountains.

When they failed to return in the evening, searching parties were organized to go into the mountains. Signal fires were lit in the valley to guide the boys home, and mounted horsemen rode into the foothills to watch for a camp fire.

The boys and the high-school teacher did not start back from the top of the range until nearly nightfall, it was revealed. They lost their way several times because of the thick undergrowth. After nightfall they kept together by holding on to each other's belts or hands and kept their sense of direction by always traveling down the mountain, often sliding ten and fifteen feet because of the steepness.

SCHOOL DIRECTOR NAMED

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 10.—Amos D. Stetler, former director of part-time and attendance at the Huntington Park schools, has been appointed in a similar capacity with the Alhambra city schools. He succeeds the late James L. Almack. Stetler has been part-time director in Huntington Park for the past seven years. He is a graduate of Stout Institute.

Many Songsters on Various Studio Hours

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Radio programs tonight will be liberally sprinkled with vocal solos, in between musical selections, plays and other offerings of the broadcast fraternity.

These will include some Irish songs over KFI at the conclusion of the Philharmonic concert, at 10:30 o'clock, by Myrtle McLaughlin, soprano, as guest artist.

Miss McLaughlin's voice already is well and favorably known in Southern California through her work on previous KPO-KFI hookups. She has studied with Frank LaForge in New York, at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, with Mme. Sembrich and with Malatesta at Milan.

KHJ FEATURES OMERON

One of the featured singers on the staff of KHJ, the Don Lee station, will act as soloist for the 7 to 7:30 p.m. period. At this time Dr. Carl Omeron, tenor, will entertain with the always-popular "Oh, Paradise," from "L'Africaine," by Meyerbeer.

The Prussian composer worked on this number for many years, although it did not come before the public until several years after his death.

Among the KNX contributions to the broadcast songfest there will be, between 9 and 9:30 o'clock, a program of early California interest. George Gramlich, lyric tenor, is to be soloist.

TINKLING TUNES OF SPAIN

His repertoire will include several groups of Spanish numbers with the characteristic themes which permeate the folk music of sunny climes.

EMIC, Inglewood, has billed Lee Kessel, soprano, who is rather well known in vaudeville circles but somewhat new to radio.

She will have a splendid opportunity to demonstrate her artistry tonight some time between 7:30 and 8 o'clock by singing, in French, Fritz Kreisler's "Frasquita Serenade."

KFWB, during the 8 to 9 o'clock time, is scheduling its studio orchestra in semiclassics and light-opera selections, together with a few of the popular type.

KTM's trump card tonight in the vocal line will be Lou Gordon and, although it will mark his initial Los Angeles broadcast, he already is well known in radio through his work in the north for both the N.B.C. and the A.B.C. networks.

As tenor soloist his repertoire includes favorites in light opera and arias from grand opera. With the concert trio, his solos tonight between 9:30 and 10 o'clock will be looked forward to with a good deal of anticipation.

BOARD LIFTS PERMITS OF TAXI MEN

Prohibition Complaints Basis for Revocation by Transportation Body

Permits of four more drivers to operate taxicabs in Los Angeles have been revoked by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation in its drive to "clean up55 the taxicab situation in Los Angeles. The ampaign thus far has resulted in permits of more than twenty drivers being revoked, principally for violation of the prohibition law.

The permits revoked were those of John P. McHenry, Ignatius Nerski, Jason Gordon and Svend Petersen.

According to the complaint against Nerski, he was found intoxicated in his automobile in company with another man and later found guilty and sentenced to five days by the Municipal Court. He also failed, according to the complaint, to take out his final citizenship papers, although thirty-five years in the United States, after the permit had been granted with the understanding that he would.

McHenry's permit was revoked because he had been convicted of violating the Wright Act. Gordon's permit was revoked for a similar reason. Peterson, according to the charge, was arrested under the Wright Act and comes up for trial on the 18th inst. His permit was revoked on receipt of information from the arresting officer.

KNIVES AND GUNS FLASH AT WEDDING

Four Men Guests Stabbed; Stray Bullet Hits Child; Mammy Song Blamed

A 4-year-old girl was shot and four men were stabbed in a fight during a wedding celebration at 916 Palm avenue, Sherman, last night. The fight started, deputy sheriffs assert, when a number of guests drank too much and wanted to sing a "mammy song."

Louis Avilla, leader of the quartet, composed also of Ray Luzan, Robert Ray and Ysido Ray, pulled a pistol and waved it at the menacing guests until someone threw a bottle. He told the sheriffs he intended firing the pistol in the air, but the bullet shattered the leg of little Maria Chavez, who was in another room.

When the pistol was fired most of the members of the wedding party pulled knives and waved the blades indiscriminately among the would-be singers. All four were stabbed before they could get out of range.

Deputy Sheriffs Wood, Johnson and Bogardus, who had been summoned by neighbors, took the man with the pistol to jail and the others to the Dickey & Cass Hospital.

Duarte Burial Set Tomorrow

Funeral services for Jerry Duarte, 25 years of age, former football and baseball player at the Monrovia High School and member of an old California family, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m., at the San Gabriel Mission.

Young Duarte died in the General Hospital Friday from injuries suffered in an automobile accident on the Alhambra road near Ascot Park on the 2nd inst.

He was a son of Joseph Andrew Duarte of Lompoc and a grandson of Jose Duarte of Duarte, Cal. His grandfather held land under old Spanish grants extending from Arcadia to Azusa. The young man was a nephew of Deputy United States Marshal Manuel A. Duarte. Members of the family will attend a coroner's inquest to be held at 10 o'clock this morning. Interment will be in San Gabriel Cemetery.

Ex-Banker Due for Sentencing

John E. Murphy, former manager of the Second-and-Fremont-streets branch of the Los Angeles-First National Trust & Savings Bank, is to appear today before United States District Judge James for sentence on twelve counts of misapplication of bank funds. It was stated that the operations of the defendant amounted to about $30,000.

Murphy's case has been continued twice so far as the passing of the sentence is concerned. It was stated by Murphy that his first attorney was ill and the same excuse was given for a second continuance of the case last week.

Note Recalls Days of '49

J. E. Magee of 9222 Holmes avenue believes in saving things. He still has a letter written by his grandfather, Henry Akard, from Big Plat, Cal., May 29, 1849.

Akard, then a comparatively young man, had just completed a cross-country trip from his home in Bolivar, Polk county, Missouri, leaving his wife, Livina, to whom the letter is addressed, and a daughter in the Eastern State. He was one of five brothers who joined a wagon train bound for California in search of gold. Shortly after writing the letter, Akard died and was buried in the old burial ground in Yuba City.

While the letter, written on a single sheet of white paper and folded in a square resembling an envelope, was written on May 29 in California it was not until June 16 that it was posted at a government postoffice. It bears the postmark of Fort Leavenworth, Mo., and, according to the Magees, must have been carried overland by a returning wagon train.

According to the Magee family history, none of the brothers was destined to find gold in California, the four remaining brothers return-

GREATER PORT PROJECT GAINS

Public Sentiment Revived by Nullification Prospect

Move Under Way to Block Federal Board Report

Committee Named by Harbor Commission at Work

BY CHARLES C. COHAN

That the recent Army Board of Review recommendation for the nullification of the greater harbor plan here, because of inactivity in meeting governmental requirements, has had the effect of reviving interest in the project is manifested in several ways.

There is a well-defined movement for the presentation of organized representations to the Federal Board of Engineers of Rivers and Harbors to withhold further transmission of the nullifying recommendation.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners here on January 4, last, appointed a committee comprising Commissioner Andreani of the harbor board, General Manager Edwards of the harbor, and Burt Heinly, secretary of the Greater Harbor Committee, to represent the harbor board in examining the documents of the review board and report back to the commissioners. This committee is swinging into its work.

Along with these activties there is the unmistakable and deeply interested public sentiment of Los Angeles and Long Beach in favor of the establishment of a port unity that will make of the harbors of Los Angeles and Long Beach a mighty national port.

SENTIMENT EMPHASIZED

How substantially based such sentiment is was plainly indicated by a statement in the representations made in behalf of the Greater Harbor Committee to the board of review at the latter's hearing here some weeks ago.

In recounting what already had been done toward meeting the governmental conditions for a national port, the statement mentioned the fact of development of the southern area of the Long Beach Harbor and proposed plan of pier development by that city, all of which is believed by the committee to conform to governmental requirements. And there was this remark:

"We believe it doubtful if Long Beach citizens would have voted the amounts now approved excepting for the fact that in 1924-25 they were imbued with the thought of one great harbor made possible by the breakwater extension."

The way in which the creation of an extensive national port such as proposed ties in with the aviation development hopes of the wide-reaching region back of the two harbors concerned, is readily suggested by the importance which the government places on a national harbor and the plans being made for aviation progress here.

Recently The Times called attention to such latter prospects in which the Chamber of Commerce proposes to take a responsible part.

This locality is visualized as the nation's great air capital, and that necessarily includes all the area in Los Angeles, Long Beach and every other place immediately connected with proposed greater harbor development. It is pointed out that there is governmental intention of carrying on aviation activities somewhere on the Pacific Coast calling for the expenditure of from $7,000,000 to $15,000,000 over a period of from ten to fifteen years. It also is understood that an army aviation base is to be established somewhere on the West Coast requiring the expenditure of some $7,000,000 and requiring a personnel of at least 1000 men. Further it is said that a navy group is scheduled to make a survey of Pacific Coast conditions in connection with the establishing of a base for navy Zeppelins, which project would call for the expending of several millions of dollars.

Coincidentally, attention is called to the statement that a Congressional measure is pending for a $3,000,000 air base near Tacoma, the significance of which, as regards the stimulating of opportune activity down this way, quickly suggests itself.

UNITY FAIRNESS

Inquiry into the port unity project promptly discloses the fact that there is an unqualified desire for and determination to have a thoroughly equitable representation of Los Angeles and Long Beach on the unified board of control. The details of selecting representation along thoroughly fair and requisite lines are declared so readily solvable as not to offer any bar whatever to the furtherance of the project.

Incidentally, it is opportune to note the avowed disposition on part of governmental authorities not to countenance any other sort of unified harbor supervision than an actually unified board of control.

There was a plan suggested that, briefly, went about like this:

The maintenance of separate harbor boards in the two cities with jurisdictional powers over their local harbor affairs and also a sort of superboard representing both communities and with jurisdictional powers over only such affairs as jointly concerned both harbors. This, according to governmental authority, is regarded as merely a confederation plan not in accord with governmental stipulations.

Another misapprehension that has received more or less circulation pertains to the extension of the breakwater. A question emanating from the board of review at the time of its hearing here, it is understood, has been seized on in certain quarters as an alternative proposition for the greater harbor project. This question pertained to the extending of the breakwater at Federal expense as a project per se and, it is stated, entirely devoid of the unification stipulations connected with the greater harbor project.

Inquiry regarding this question brought the emphatic response from governmental spokesmen and admission from other interested sources that it never was presented as an alternative offer to supplant the greater harbor plan, but merely to sound out opinion. Incidentally, the statement also came from governmental source that the unification of the harbors and unity of port control are regarded as exceeding breakwater extension in importance in connection with the creation of a national port.

MUCH ACHIEVED

In informing the board of review of what already has been done toward compliance with governmental requirements in the greater harbor project, the representation of the Greater Harbor Committee also gave the information that requisite State legislation has been prepared.

Unquestionably, that legislative step was more than a permission to go ahead with the project so far as the State is concerned. It was a tacit recognition of the State-wide interest in, recognition and approval of the magnitude and importance of such a national port as it is proposed to create, and the enormous benefit it will be for all of California.

Proponents of the greater harbor take the position that to agree to any breakwater building plan in lieu of the original national port set-up would mean throwing aside the large amount of good work already done for the larger harbor plan, agreeing to the nullification of the important national legislation passed regarding it, refutation of the State legislation anent it, and beginning all over again for something not comparable to the original plan.

The national port project has been sixteen years in the making and only action on part of Los Angeles and Long Beach in carrying it through to completion can prevent it from going by the board.

NO SOVIETISM IN HIS COURT

Judge Rosenkranz Holds Care of Mother for Child Beats Reds' Idea

Placing children of divorced parents in "neutral homes" is a symptom of that state of mind which might lead to communization of the family and other dangerous social experiments, Superior Judge Rosenkranz warned in deciding the divorce action of Ollie and Oscar M. Haley.

"The growing practice of placing children in custody of a third party is leading to sovietism of the rankest sort," said Judge Rosenkranz. "We must preserve the ancient tradition of the family and its ties as a bulwark against ultramodern ideas that threaten the entire fabric of society.

"The proper place for a child of tender years, when it cannot enjoy the benefits of a home, is with its mother. Mothers cared for children before families were invented and will care for them after family life is destroyed, if that unfortunate situation comes to pass. Mrs. Haley will continue to keep her child with her."

Restrictions on Marriage Forum Topic Tonight

Proposed legislation to put restrictions on marriage in California forms the topic for discussion tonight at a forum of the eugenics group, to be held in the Anita Baldwin Children's Clinic assembly room, 1401 South Grand avenue. Dr. Olga McNeile and Dr. Elmer Belt will lead the discussion.

Assemblyman Jerome C. Scofield of Huntington Park, author of one Assembly bill to amplify the marriage restrictions, has been invited to speak. Dr. Bennett M. Allen, professor of zoology, University of California at Los Angeles, will preside.

All interested in the subject are invited to attend.

PLAGIARISM SUIT RETRIAL DENIED

Universal Wins Ruling in Jazz Picture

Court Holds Plaintiffs' Scenes Not Used

Says Whole Case Depends on Treatment

After hearing arguments Superior Judge Yankwich refused to grant a motion of William F. James and Dorothea K. Martin, scenario writers, for a new trial of their plagiarism suit brought against the Universal Pictures Corporation wherein they asserted the company unlawfully produced the picture "The Symphony or Jazz Mad" from their story "Echo of the Hills," which had been submitted to the company for a reading.

At the trial of the action, held several months ago, Judge Yankwich decided in favor of the defendants, ruling that while there was a similarity between the two stories from which the picture was made the company was not guilty of pirating any of the material prepared by the plaintiffs.

ORIGIN GIVEN

In their suit the scenario writers sought to enjoin the defendants from exhibiting the picture which, they asserted, contained motifs, incidents and scenes stolen from their story.

The company in their defense of the suit asserted that the picture they made was an adaptation from an original story entitled "Cabaret, written by Svend Gade.

The plaintiffs asked for a new trial of the case on the grounds the evidence adduced showed the company had access to their manuscript and that there is a similarity between their story and the one produced in the picture.

COURT'S OPINION

In making his ruling Judge Yankwich held that there can be no plagiarism in the matter of a theme as there are only a few themes and they are universal. There could be plagiarism, however, in the treatment of the theme, he said. In one portion of his decision Judge Yankwich declared:

"The dramatic situations which form the stuff of the drama are few, and the entire dramatic literature of the world can be reduced to them. A rule which would place originality not in the manner of treatment of a theme but in the theme, would place the hack writer on the same footing with the genius. And so the law, realistic in this respect, places originality where it belongs."

EARLY DAYS OF CITY TOLD IN BOOKLET

Security Bank's History of Los Angeles Depicts Striking Progress

Los Angeles is described as a city of antiquity as well as one of youth and achievement, in a history compiled and published by the Security Trust and Savings Bank and issued to the public today. The volume consists of 208 pages of text and illustrations, and was written by Laurence L. Hill, publicity manager, in commemoration of the fortieth anniversary of the establishment of the bank.

The volume is the result of years of research and presents a glimpse of the early city with authoritative data and contemporary photographs.

AMAZING ADVANCE TOLD

The second portion of the book tells of the amazing strides made by the city in the last forty years. The later annals of Los Angeles constitute the most remarkable chapter of civic growth in the history of world civilization.

The book opens with the statement that Los Angeles is nearing its 150th birthday and that its sesquicentennial year will be ushered in on September 4, 1931. Thus the city's antiquity is established and the narrative records the interesting periods and events of a century in which much happened but little material progress was made.

EARLY DAYS DEPICTED

The history begins with the arrival of the first Caucasians and follows with a wealth of convincing detail gleaned from private records, old documents, histories, newspaper files and other sources of information. It tells of the early adventurers from New England and their relationship with the Spanish authorities, of changing administrations, of conflicts and lawlessness until the coming of the first railroad, the Southern Pacific, and then of the increase in the number of sturdy American pioneers and of the ambitious plans which gradually bore fruit and formed the foundation of the more recent era of success on a gigantic scale.

THE TIMES QUOTED

The Los Angeles Times is frequently quoted, one of the earliest of these quotations being the prediction almost half a century ago that Fort street (now Broadway,) was bound to develop into a business street of importance. The book tells of the fight for a harbor and of the memorial presented to The Times by the citizens in recognition of the long and effective campaign made by this journal to obtain a harbor.

The recital of eventful mileposts in the city's history is enhanced by hundreds of photographs of men who played prominent parts in the city's progress

A New Job For The Time-Keeper!

If—as most business men assert—an advertisement is nothing more or less than a PRINTED SALESMAN, why shouldn't a record be kept of that salesman's working hours, just as with living salesmen?

For instance, see what happens when one advertisement is put to work in the Sunday Times while another is assigned to a street newspaper.

The Sunday Times has a reading life in the average home of 14 hours—from 8 a.m. till 10 p.m. It goes into more than 260,000 homes. An advertisement in the Sunday Times puts in 3,600,000 hours of selling service.

The average street paper has a life ranging from the few moments it takes to scan the headlines, up to 10 or 15 minutes. An advertisement in 260,000 such copies would put in 65,000 hours.

Sunday Times	3,600,000 hours
Street Paper	65,000 hours

Granting that such a comparison may not be exact, yet even a layman sees that the difference in value is enormous. One is a 14-hour selling service in the home; the other a sidewalk solicitation which in many cases is neither seen nor heard.

Yet these two services do not sell on the ratio of 3,600,000 to 65,000. Quite the contrary, a business man pays approximately the same rate per thousand circulation, which means that both services cost about the same.

This being so, it is interesting to note how merchants and other business concerns apportion their advertising.

The great majority go after the bargain!

During 1928, the Sunday Times averaged 160,000 lines of advertising per issue, whereas the largest street selling paper averaged 50,000 lines.

3,600,000 hours of service in the homes of Southern California has made the Sunday Times one of the World's Greatest Sales Mediums.

SUBSTANTIAL SALESMEN
TRY THIS ONE
We have opening today for 2 men who can and will learn our methods of selling. NO HIGH PRESSURE and only men who will stick to the truth considered. We have sold $2,000,000 worth of homes in recent months and are now starting a new home-building program in well selected community. WE HAVE ABUNDANT CAPITAL AND A DEFINITE PROGRAM, so there is plenty of opportunity. OUR LOTS AND HOMES ARE PRICED FAR BELOW ANYTHING ELSE IN THE ENTIRE DISTRICT, therefore, when our program becomes known, high grade, conscientious salesmen will seek us and it will not be easy to get on. Be sure you can measure up before you waste our time. Experience in real estate not essential, but will help. We are using ordinary merchandising policies learned in other lines of business and now applying them to the building of homes and sale of lots, and thereby completing a community. WE HAVE THE CASH TO DO IT WITH. That's why we can operate and sell cheaper. See me personally between 4:30 and 9 a.m. only, at 6560 HOLLYWOOD BLVD., ground floor. ROGER C. DAHLHJELM HOMEHOLDERS CO.

EDUCATION AIM COMES TO FORE

Constitution Contest Seeks to Benefit Many

Actual Oratory Mere Part of Its Full Scope

General Interest Sought to Aid Young America

The educational value of the Sixth National Oratorical Contest dealing with the Constitution is being developed this year as never before, according to reports coming into The Times oratorical contest headquarters from principals and teachers of the secondary schools. The school directors are stressing in their talks before the schools and civic organizations the educational value, rather than the competitive element.

This is for the reason that in most of the schools student leaders are called on for so many different activities such as student body offices, dramatics and class plays, debating clubs which often hold intracounty as well as intercounty contests, athletics and other active phases of school life.

SMALL SCHOOLS

This is particularly true in the smaller schools which do not have many leaders to draw from. The result is that while there may not be any more actual orations delivered in the individual school eliminations this year, indications are that there will be many more essays written.

"That is exactly what is desired to obtain a far-reaching effect in the contest," said Prof. Alan Nichols, director of the contest for the Pacific-Southwest yesterday, as he left for Phoenix, where a final conference will be held for Arizona. We also are urging this year that students outside of the history, English, civic and public speaking classes participate in the contest to a larger degree than in the past. We are quite certain that in many of the schools, especially in the large high schools of Los Angeles and other Southern California cities, real orators are to be found in the mechanical and scientific courses.

"Furthermore, it is fully as important that students in these courses should manifest an interest in the Constitution to attain the objective of the contest. To find these hidden orators is largely the task of the teachers of individual courses as the teachers in charge of the school contest almost invariably are heavily burdened with attention to coaching the students who already have entered.

FINE ENTHUSIASM

"A splendid enthusiasm is being shown in a high percentage of the schools, but as two months still intervene before the district finals, we are urging a thorough canvass of all branches of high school curricula. Parents are requested to ask themselves this question, 'No matter what courses of study my son or my daughter is taking is it not advantageous to have him or her study the Constitution, enter this contest and attempt an oratorical presentation of an essay?' School enthusiasm alone is not sought for home enthusiasm is fully as important."

La Jolla High School filed its list of contestants yesterday, including Lloyd Austin, president of the student body; Bob Brown, captain of the varsity basketball team; Nell Buerher, Wallace Carr, member of the California Scholarship Federation; Bert Fairbrother, Maxine Gottlieb, Eleanor Hurley, also a member of C.S.F.; Imogene McAllister, Wendell Ma[illegible]suen and Charles Tetley, who are prominent in athletics and dramatics; Airdrie Robinson, Bill Weir and Eleanor Henderson.

RESTAURANT MEN TO HOLD CONVENTION

Cafe Owners of Coast to Meet Here 25th Inst.; "Corn-Beef" King Arrives

Many restaurateurs and culinary experts of the country will attend the Pacific Coast regional convention of the National Restaurant Association to be held at the Alexandria the 25th to the 27th inst., it was announced yesterday.

The principal subject to be discussed, it was announced, will be the association's fight against "greasy spoon" restaurants.

John P. Harding of Chicago, who won the soubriquet of "corn beef king" through the operation of a chain of restaurants, has arrived in Los Angeles for the convention. He is at the Ambassador. He will be joined by Tim Kanelly, general manager of the Harding shops and grills and the Harding Hotel Company.

HOWARD RITES TOMORROW

Last rites will be conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers at 11 a.m. tomorrow for Homer G. Howard. Mr. Howard came here five years ago from Chicago. He was 56 years of age and resided at 2056 North Catalina street. He leaves his widow. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

ANGELENO ENDS LIFE IN ROW

Shoots at Wife and Daughter, Then Kills Self Following Quarrel Over Lunch

As the climax to an asserted after-luncheon argument yesterday Franc Domers, 26 years of age, an accountant, fired three shots at his wife and 12-year-old stepdaughter Pauline, and, with a fourth, ended his own life.

The tragedy occurred in the rear yard of the four-family flat residence at 816 Fedora street. The Domers, married less than a month, according to Detective Lieutenant Massey of the Wilshire police division, occupied one of the flats.

Burned beans, part of the luncheon menu, began the argument which resulted in Domer's death, Massey stated. Unable to reach an agreement with his wife and stepdaughter, Domers, it was reported, jumped up from the luncheon table, announced a threat "to finish everything," and rushed out of the dining-room. Mrs. Domers said she and her daughter followed him out into the rear yard.

There the husband whirled suddenl, leveled a revolver and fired three times. All three bullets went wild, imbedding themselves in a house next door. Domers then pressed the weapon against his head and pulled the trigger. The body was sent to the county morgue.

DOZENS OF SNAKES STOW AWAY

Boa Constrictor Smuggles Babies

Forty-Eight Little Constrictors and Mama

When Capt. B. Griel brought in the McCormick steamer West Notus from South America, this week-end, the manifest attested cargo to include one snake, whereas there were forty-nine aboard.

It looked like a case for the customs officials to go into, and they did, only to back down immediately. The case held forty-eight baby snakes, all bor five days before the ship reached San Pedro.

To moke it worse, they are boa constrictors. The eight-foot mother snake was bought in Bahia, Brazil, by D. B. Bull, an ornithologist, and was to be turned over to the California Academy of Science at Golden Gate Park, or a museum at Seattle. Now with forty-nine of the strangler reptiles, he doesn't know what to do with them.

The baby snakes, although only five days old, raced about with agility, and one bit a seaman a day after birth, but they are not poisonous.

Bull also brought back dead specimens of a rare bird, trudeau tern, and a series of eggs. He said no such collection exists in the Northern Hemisphere.

MARSHAL NEILAN OVERCOME

Film Director Felled by Car Fumes in Home Garage; Revived by Fire Department Squad

Marshal Neilan, moving-picture director and husband of Blanche Sweet, actress, was overcome with monoxide gas fumes early yesterday morning while parking his automobile in the garage at his home at 601 North Camden Drive, Beverly Hills, and after being discovered in the dangerous situation by his wife was resuscitated by an inhalator, according to police and fire department reports.

Neilan and his wife returned home after a night of dancing and visiting with friends. He went to place the car in the garage, locking one door and apparently intended to use another connecting door to reach the residence. After some time Miss Sweet began searching for Neilan and found him overcome by the gas.

With the assistance of servants she removed him from the garage into the house. The fire department inhalator squad was called. After he was restored to consciousness Neilan was removed to the California Lutheran Hospital, where he was reported resting easily last night.

CARBON-MONOXIDE FUMES OVERCOME SIX OTHERS

Six persons were overcome by carbon monoxide fumes caused by gas heaters yesterday. At the home of Mrs. Mary Wiley, 66 years of age, 368 West Thirty-fifth street, Mrs. Wiley, her daughter, Mrs. Irene Gordon, 37, of 5965 Lexington street, the latter's husband, R. W. Gordon, and their son, R. W. Gordon, Jr., became ill from fumes and were taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where they were treated and sent home.

Morris Conn, 42, of 2424 Longwood avenue, was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital in an ambulance. He told physicians he remembered nothing after lighting a water heater in his bathroom.

William A. Fowler, 63, of 157 Avenue 19, a watchman for the Merchants' Fire Dispatch at the plant of the Bush Pipe and Suppy, 1005 Mateo street, was found overcome in the watchman's office. He was revived at the Receiving Hospital.

AUTO SALON SHOWS STYLE

Trend of Motor-Car Modes of Year Set Forth; Coach Work Salient Feature of Cars

Coach work is the salient feature of the cars exhibited in the automobile salon at the Biltmore. Engrafted upon mechanical perfection in foreign and American chassis, the coach work is comparable to the luxury of the modern home when that home is one of unlimited wealth and sumptuous detail. To quote from an authority, John R. Eustis:

"Interest in the salon centers largely in the strictly custom coach work mounted on the world's leading chassis. In this respect it is a fashion show, a style salon comparable to the openings of the great Paris costumers. Here parade mannequins with robes of lacquer and metal, of crystalline glass, velvet leather and marquetry. Svelte, burnished, elegant creatures, looking with lordly indifference at curious humans, are these magnificently beautiful motor cars. Weavers, tanners, woodworkers, artisans in metals, atebers, silversmiths and experts with pigmented lacquers are among those combining to produce these superb creations of the carrossier's art.

CHANGES NOTED

"There are two pronounced changes found in the new coachwork styles. One is a general trend toward the convertible type of body, the other a successful effort toward securing greater passenger comfort.

"It once was the practice to design a beautiful body and then arrange the seating within it. Now this idea has been reversed and the seating is first considered and the body designed around the seats. The result is a much higher degree of riding comfort.

"When low bodies were first desired the head room was sacrificed. Now the chassis are built to provide this feature with ample headroom. Thus chassis design and wheel base lengths, as well as wheels, fenders, running boards, radiators, hoods, cowls, bumpers and lamps, all come within the province of the carrossier in his work of combining beauty and comfort, style and convenience.

SPORT MODELS

"Spirited speed and commanding power are personified by the lithe sport phaetons and torpedoes and dashing roadsters exhibited. The latest developments in stream-line design produce a veritable symphony of symmetry.

"A new factor in this year's salon is the adoption of modernistic art and this is most noticeable in the interiors of closed cars. Mohair, broadcloth, doeskin and leather predominate in the upholstering, broad lace and inlaid woodwork for paneling. Seat plaits are wide and buttoned, pockets are often in the arm rests instead of in the doors, and door panels and seat cushions are piped or edged with leather to match the cloth."

The salon will continue throughout the week, being open from noon to 11 p.m. daily.

DUPONT CARS BEING SOLD IN SOUTHLAND

Announcement was made yesterday that Dupont automobiles now are being sold and distributed in Los Angeles by E. A. Van Trump, Jr., Inc., with display rooms at 3733 Wilshire Boulevard at Oxford street. Mr. Van Trump, president of the concern bearing his name, has just returned from an extended visit to the Dupont factories at Wilmington, Del., where he made a survey of the sales possibilities of the Dupont car. The first showing of a Dupont car is at the Automobile Salon. Dupont cars have been manufactured since 1919.

HOME PROVES FICTIONARY

Before Jose Diaz and Maria Martinez Diaz were married on June 16, 1927, he told her he had a good position and a home which he would give her after the ceremony was performed, Mrs. Diaz told Superior Judge Baird when asking for a divorce. After the marriage, Mrs. Diaz testified, Diaz told her he had no home and wanted her to live with his parents. She refused. They only lived together one day, she said. A decree was granted.

Edison Forecasts Man's Progress

Domestic Rubber Achieved, Science on Threshold Only, He Says

Mechanical Age, Radio and Other Subjects Touched; "Happiness" Unknown

FORT MYERS (Fla.) Feb. 11. (Exclusive)—Henry Ford is going to grow Thomas A. Edison's rubber-yielding weeds on a 22,000-acre plantation near Savannah, Edison told Herbert Hoover today.

The wizard of Menlo Park assured the President-elect that he has solved the problem which so worried Mr. Hoover as Secretary of Commerce when the British rubber monopoly was boosting the price of automobile tires and other rubber products a few years ago. Mr. Hoover solved it temporarily by working out a buying system which broke the valorization plan. Mr. Edison has solved it by developing weeds which can be grown in seven months, especially in the Gulf States, instead of the seven years it takes for a rubber tree to begin yielding, and can be mowed like wheat. He now is working on chemical processes for the most efficient method of extracting the rubber from the weed latex.

HOOVERS START HOME

The Hoover party, including Mrs. Hoover, Herbert, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ricard of New York and Jeremiah Millbank (Mrs. Millbank was called back to New York by illness in her family,) arrived by launch at the Edison place in Fort Myers at 11 o'clock and promptly congratulated the inventor on his eighty-second birthday. After posing for the cameramen the Hoovers went back to the Saunterer and went fishing this afternoon as the first lap on their journey back to Belle Isle, near Miami Beach.

Great prosperity during the Hoover administration was predicted by the aged inventor in answering written questions submitted just before Mr. Hoover's arrival. He deplored, however, the increasing stock speculation, saying it may lead to ultimate panic and loss of confidence.

FOR WAR USE ONLY

Synthetic rubber, he said, has no future when rubber is quoted at 23 cents a pound. Road paving from cheap rubber may yet come, he pointed out, experiments along this line in Scotland having been under way successfully for five years.
